SCHOOL NOTES.

We welcome on the Staff this term Mr. L. C. Furnell, B.A. (Syd.), Mr. P. J. Barwick, B.A. (Syd.), Mr. D. L. G. Agg-Large, and Mr. N. G. Hills, B.Sc. (Syd.).

J. M. Vernon has been appointed Senior Prefect.

On February 18 Hammond was made a prefect, and on February 22 S. C. Begbie, T. J. Dunbabin, K. J. Gibb, R. Swift, and C. C. Swire were made sub-prefects.

The Old Boys' Union Scholarships were awarded this year to J. M. Vernon and F. N. Bell.

In the Leaving Certificate examination of last year the School gained a gratifying number of passes, the best achievement being that of L. F. Fitzhardinge, who won the General Proficiency Prize.

In deference to the expressed wish of the Duke and Duchess of York, we shall bring this term to an end.
on Friday, May 6, a week earlier than usual.

In the G.P.S. Rifle Matches held at the beginning of last term the First Rifle Team, by winning the Bawson Cup and the Buchanan Shield, and obtaining third place in the N.R.A. Shield, won the Premiership Shield. The team is to be congratulated upon winning the shooting premiership the second time in succession.

The problem of transport to Gladesville has been solved this year by the purchase of a 'bus. With Mr. Freeth or Mr. Tiley at the wheel, its daily journeys have become a matter of course.

We regret to announce that Mr. Baker has decided to retire, and extend on behalf of the School our good wishes for the enjoyment of his leisure.

We shall sneek more fully of his services in the next issue of "The Torch-Bearer."

SPEECH DAY, 1926.

The ceremonies of Speech Day, 1926, took place on the afternoon of December 16. The usual short service in the Chapel preceded the rest of the day’s business, which took place as usual in the marquee on the ground. The guests of honour were the Archbishop and Sir Mungo MacCallum.

The Archbishop, in opening the proceedings, welcomed Sir Mungo. He referred briefly to the good work that the School had done throughout the year, and invited the attention of the guests of the day to the Headmaster’s report.

The Headmaster then read his report, as follows:

My Lord Archbishop, Sir Mungo MacCallum, Ladies and Gentlemen,—

We are delighted to have Your Grace with us again on Speech Day, and to know that your normal health has been almost restored. Your interest and inspiration have meant much to the School, and we look forward to seeing you in the chair on these occasions for many years to come.

I should like to tell Sir Mungo and Lady MacCallum how glad we are to have them as our guests. There is little need for any recital of the services which they have rendered. Sir Mungo was a member of the first School Council. During a long association with our own University as Professor of Modern Literature, he has established a world-wide academic reputation. The University owes much to his influence in its Councils. Conspicuous scholarship and administrative ability are seldom combined in the one individual. It gave great pleasure throughout educational circles that His Majesty recently thought fit to confer high honour upon Sir Mungo. We offer to him and Lady MacCallum our cordial congratulations.

At the beginning of the year Mr. Randal Carey decided that the many claims upon his time prevented him from holding any longer the office of Honorary Treasurer. As he is still a member of the Council, it is gratifying that his services are not being entirely lost. He is one of our most loyal Old Boys, and has been a worker of incredible energy in the interests of the School. The parts which he played in obtaining for us the Playing Fields at Northbridge, and in securing the establishment of the Junior House and Preparatory School, will not be forgotten. We acknowledge with gratitude his many services, and offer him our best wishes.

I now submit my report for the past twelve months. We are, I think, entitled to look back upon the year with some satisfaction. Sound work has been done, our results in work and in games have been very good, and several very notable advances have been made in the general development of the School. We can scarcely be said to have been standing still when we can claim within the one year to have acquired "Pinwherry" as the new Robson House, to have established the Preparatory School and Junior House, and to have inaugurated the Masters' Superannuation Fund.

The numbers in the School have been greater than ever. In First Term there were 610 boys in attendance; during the year there have been 649 names on the roll. The increase is, of course, due to the establishment of the Preparatory School. The number of boarders has also been much greater than before, and the accommodation materially improved. We continue to receive applications far greater in number than the available vacancies.

It is always difficult to convey any definite idea of the work which is being done in the class rooms. One can quote examination results, but as these concern only a small proportion of the School, and as they are valuable only in relation to the calibre of the candidates present, they can give only a meagre notion of the work of the School as a whole. In the last Intermediate Certificate Examination, 65 boys passed. This number was smaller than in the previous year, but I think that the standard of work was very little, if at all, inferior. Twenty-two boys gained the Leaving Certificate out of the unusually small number of 28 candidates. The best passes were obtained by R. O. Phillips, who gained three first class honours, in Mathematics and Chemistry; and L. F. Fitzhardinge, who gained first class honours in French and seconds in Latin and Greek. You will note from this year's prize list that three boys—Bellmaine, Dunbabin and Fitzhardinge—were bracketed equal for the prizes for highest general proficiency in the School. After most careful compilation of the marks secured in School examinations throughout the year, it was found that one of them had secured 997, and the other two 996. As they are of unusually high standard, this result is remarkable. Needless to say, we do not propose to disclose which one had the insignificant lead of one mark.

During the past year the general standard has undoubtedly been raised. The Lower Fourths have attained a sounder standard of work, and are much more level than is usually the case. The Third Forms also have done well. The standard of at least the A Form in this grade is higher than for some years past, and there is every reason to hope that the improvement will be maintained as these boys ascend in the School. The spirit of the School has been very happy during the year, and there has been an atmosphere of willingness which has left very pleasant memories. It is the dream of every schoolmaster that he may one day have a form to which he may expound this subject clearly, confident that his boys will absorb and put into practice all that he teaches. In our present state of imperfection, we confess that we expect to spend one-third of our time in this agreeable task and two-thirds in seeing that our shafts of wisdom do not fall wide of the mark. This year the task of seeing that things have been done has been considerably lighter than usual. Of course, improvement in this respect is by no means fortuitous. Willing pupils are a sure sign of keen masters, and I am sure that few schools have been so well served within the classroom as we have been lately.

Last year I referred to the great difficulty which we have at the beginning of each year in assimilating new boys. At the beginning of 1926 there were 180 new boys, an excessive number, due to the opening of the Preparatory School. However, our normal number in future is likely to be in the vicinity of 150. We have simplified the task to some extent by obtaining in advance information of their previous work. I hoped that it might be possible to hold a preliminary examination of new boys early in December. However, such a course does not seem to promise sufficiently complete results to warrant the expenditure of a vast amount of energy at a time when we are already greatly taxed. Some difficulties would not be touched by such an examination, as it could scarcely be arranged in such a way as to include country boys. Our trouble is not that boys come to us with insufficient previous training, but that they so often have been unevenly prepared, and must accordingly be brought to a common level in order to fit our curriculum. To quote one example only, it is common to find that boys have reached quite a high standard in arithmetic, but have scarcely heard of algebra or geometry. It would be out of place to describe now the standards in the various subjects which would make assimilation most easy, but I may say that we shall always be only too glad to give suitable advice to parents who are unable to send their boys at a sufficiently early age to enable them to do their primary work in our own or a similar preparatory school.

In passing, it is worth while also to remark that one encounters frequently cases in which parents have been insufficiently aware of the requirements for certain professions. This year I seem to have had to deal with a large number of cases of new boys who have made up their minds to be doctors, lawyers, engineers, and so on, but who have not thought sufficiently early of modelling their work in accordance with the matriculation requirements. It is scarcely necessary to point out that in such cases loss of time is unavoidable. It is usually very difficult to determine the shape of a boy's future career before he reaches the Leaving Certificate Forms. However, I strongly advise parents to make sure in good time that a haphazard choice of subjects may not close certain avenues to them.

The Preparatory School commenced its career at the beginning of the year, and has been most successful since its first day. We have felt for many years that a sound primary department would increase the general efficiency of the School, and the results so far obtained have more than justified our hope. Throughout the forms there is an atmosphere of keenness which makes it a pleasure to visit them. The standard reached in their work is distinctly good, and should enable continued improvement to be made in the middle school. The organisation has been almost entirely in the hands of Mr. Freeth, and the entire credit is due to him and to the very keen masters who have been associated with him. We look for great things in the future from the boys who have started in our own Preparatory School, and we shall not be disappointed if they maintain the spirit which they are now learning there.

The Debating Team this year was composed of boys of considerable ability and keenness, and completed a very successful year last Friday by winning the final of the G.P.S. Series of Debates. The team, and the master in charge, Mr. Sams, deserve every credit for their high standard.

The results obtained in games have been very satisfactory. We have not had very gifted teams, but with sound practice and coaching they have performed extremely well. The most pleasing feature is that one can point to a number of quite remarkable performances, which would not have been possible had the spirit of the boys been in any way deficient. I feel that we are justified in looking back with special pride upon the final of the Boat Race, the Athletic Sports, the Rifle Matches, and the second Cricket Match against St. Joseph's College.

The Regatta took place on May 1. Our three crews secured places in the finals. The Saturday was unusually blowy. Our two fours would not have troubled the ultimate winners of either race, but it is a deplorable fact that both fours were prevented from finishing by the melee of craft near Gladesville. I hesitate to comment upon this circumstance, the more since I am well aware of the tremendous efforts which all officials make to secure good conditions for the races. I cannot refrain from remarking, however, that it seems to me a dreadful thing that thoughtlessness should mar the pleasure for the regatta day for the boys who have been so keenly and unselfishly training for it. The atmosphere of the rowing camp of each of the Schools is an extremely fine one, and very cordial relations exist between the crews. A similar spirit should pervade the regatta day, and I consider that we should go to any reasonable length rather than risk unpleasant incidents. The officials of the Association are taking great pains to better the conditions, and they will certainly succeed. We should all be grateful to them, and should heartily support any steps upon which they may decide. The eights started in a heavy westerly. Owing to unfortunate circumstances, our crew was two lengths behind one-third of a mile from the start. They rowed very gallantly, and finished in third place only five feet behind the winners. Their performance was a remarkable one, and I doubt whether any Shore crew has ever done better.

The Football Team had a very poor season. It seems to be our fate each year to be faced with the task of building up a team without experienced material. Great efforts were put forth by everyone concerned, but we had very little success.

The Rifle Team was responsible for a very fine performance. They won comfortably two of the matches, and were beaten by only three points in the third; thus they won the Championship for the year. Their aggregate score has never before been approached.

The prospects in Athletics were not considered to be very good. However, the team displayed great keenness, and the competition for places was greater than ever. The Junior Team won by one point. The Senior Team filled second place, scoring at least 10 points more than we anticipated. Each member performed well above his practice standard.

The Cricket Team has maintained a sound level throughout the year. They have been beaten only twice, and have finished in third place very close to the winners. Only 2 points in 37 covered the three leading teams. Their performance against St. Joseph's in November was one which ranks with the School's best efforts in the past. St. Joseph's closed with 8 wickets down for 363—apparently a very safe score. With 4 hours and 50 minutes to bat, our XI played for the runs rather than for a safe draw. They secured them with 7 wickets in hand and half an hour to spare. The team's complete record for the year is:
13 matches played, 9 won, 2 lost, 2 drawn.
The Swimming Carnival was held in March under conditions which suited competitors better than spectators.
A great deal of tennis has been played. We won the Fairwater Cup for the second year from Grammar.
It is quite impossible to give any idea of the vast number of junior and house games which have been arranged. Fifteen years ago we used to be very happy if we could play an occasional form game on any ground which might be available at the time. Nowadays a vast amount of energy is spent in seeing that the smallest boys may have their regular games under conditions which should satisfy the most exacting. Many masters give their time most unselfishly to the organisation and coaching of these junior teams. This work is regarded by masters as part of the day's work, although, of course, it is entirely voluntary, and a matter of mutual arrangement. I am sure that most parents appreciate its value to their boys, and that the boys themselves are duly appreciative, when they stop to think. The masters concerned do not need my assurance of the worth of their work; they have had ample experience of its good results. They are, however, frequently subjected to considerable inconvenience and annoyance because boys bring quite trivial excuses for absence from games and practices. I most strongly appeal to all parents to realise that, by continued absence from games, their boys are losing a most valuable part of their school life, and to cooperate in every possible way with the School Staff.

In recent years there has been a great increase in the number of requests for exemption from football. In many cases the boys who seek exemption are the very ones who would benefit most by participating in a manly game of this nature. We propose to ask parents before next season to request exemption for their boys only when an urgent reason exists.

The arrangements for games in the Preparatory School have worked out very satisfactorily. The boys go to Northbridge on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and have the use of the ground for the greater portion of the afternoon. They have also taken part in a great number of outside matches, mostly on Saturdays. They have been tremendously keen, and have met with considerable success, even when opposed to teams of greater average age.

As usual, Open Services have been held in Chapel once in each term, and there has been a large attendance on each occasion. Confirmation was given by His Grace the Archbishop on October 6 to 59 candidates. The Chapel will shortly be further beautified by the completion of the plan for the East Window, which I outlined last year. Mr. Davies organised an appeal during the year, and has £1115 in hand. The sub-committee to whom the arrangements have been entrusted proposes to hasten slowly, and I think that we shall secure a work of devotional art worthy of the tradition of the Chapel. The illuminated book containing the Roll of Honour is now being prepared, and will be completed early in the new year. Many things remain to be done in the Chapel before we can feel satisfied. The carving of the corbels on the northern side was commenced a few months ago, and one was completed from the offerings of the Confirmation Candidates. It is quite plain from this small improvement that the lines of the interior will be greatly beautified and softened when the ten are completed. We propose to carry on the work as money becomes available; each one costs approximately £12. A small section of the panelling on the north wall is incomplete, and the panelling of the west wall must not be postponed indefinitely. Furthermore, I hope that when the East Window is in position, we may be so impressed by its beauty that we may feel even more impatient to complete the western windows. I have no hesitation in inviting help towards such worthy objects.
2nd XI, 1926.

It is not generally known that for some time past some of our boys have been regularly assisting to run the Boys' Club in the Parish of Erskineville. Under the guidance of Mr. Freeth, they have done very useful work, and the results have, I think, rewarded them considerably. It is a sign of their enthusiasm that there has been not the least difficulty in carrying the club through the vacations.

It is a very real satisfaction to be able to report that the Masters' Superannuation Scheme is now definitely in existence. For some time the lack of a sufficient initial endowment was considered to be an insuperable difficulty. However, a method has been devised which not only provides good benefits for the existing staff, but also promises to enable a fund to accumulate in the future. The scheme is based upon Endowment Assurance, and is certainly the best solution of a very difficult problem. To enable the premiums to be paid, a small additional fee is to be imposed from next year, and advice has already been given of this. We felt quite confident that the purpose of this fee would be most cordially approved. It was nevertheless most heartening to receive a very great number of letters expressing the keenest pleasure at the inauguration of the scheme. Some years ago certain of our keenest Old Boys started a fund for the benefit of masters upon superannuation, and called it "The Torch-Bearer" Fund. This fund has now been taken over by the Council, and vested by them in trustees. The extra fees above mentioned will be paid into the fund, and the Superannuation Scheme will be administered from it by the Trustees. The fund is, as before, open to subscriptions, and Old Boys and friends of the School cannot show their interest in the School's welfare in a more practical manner than by contributing to it. We have advanced in many respects in recent years, but I feel that there is no stop which should afford us as much satisfaction as the provision of this measure of assurance for masters of devoted service.

Steady rather than spectacular work has been done at the Northbridge Playing Fields during the year. The area in constant use is so large that the majority of the time of the regular groundsmen is needed in order to maintain it in good condition. We hope to be able to follow a policy of steady improvement by top-dressing the various grounds in succession. The main oval was top-dressed more than a year ago, and since then the weather conditions have been by no means favourable. Nevertheless, the improvement is very great indeed, and the oval is now as fine a cricket ground as almost any in Sydney. When the difficulties are realised, it seems unreasonable to expect rapid improvement of the lower flat. However, when we look back and realise how great has been the development in the last three years, we are encouraged to hope for similar success. Less than ten years ago, the whole area was a barren wilderness; and even three years ago I, for one, did not expect that we would now have such a splendid ground. A great deal of work has been done in improving the vicinity of the pavilions and in fostering the growth of the young trees. This work also brings slow reward, but the results will shortly be apparent. The Honour Roll is being carved on trachyte tablets, and will shortly be in position on the front of the new pavilion. Thus at last the association of the playing fields with the War Service of our Old Boys will be worthily marked. I am sure that the completion of the memorial tablets will give great satisfaction to those who have helped so nobly in the improvement of the ground, and am confident that the character of the work will please them.

The task of maintaining satisfactorily the many activities of the School is no light one from the financial point of view. The funds available are very small in relation to the many demands which must be met. Many persons with whom I have spoken have expressed surprise when told that we are not in an unassailable financial position. Our position, though sound at the moment, is by no means such as to enable us to use our opportunities to the full. The margin of annual receipts from fees over expenses is practically the only source of income which we have. Simple mental arithmetic will show that this is not sufficient to enable us to take liberties. As a matter of fact, it is just enough to enable us to carry on, and to put aside a very modest penny against a rainy day. No one who has watched the progress of the School during the past twenty years could regard the future with any other feeling than optimism. It is no idle boast, but simple truth, that the School is doing such useful work that it must and shall continue to flourish. However, the future is beset by awkward problems. Our accommodation is good, but it must soon be improved and enlarged, not necessarily to provide for a greater number of boys, but in order to house more adequately the classes which we now have. I sincerely hope that it will not be long before we have at least further laboratories for science work, improved accommodation for masters, and a hall big enough for assemblies and school functions. These are only three of the purposes for which we urgently need funds. I could name half a dozen others. It is a provoking pastime for one's occasional idle hours to imagine what we could do, not only if our wider dreams were realised, but even if we were able to finance the developments to which we may reasonably aspire. Our only immediate prospect of progress on any large scale lies in the hope that the needs of such schools as this may be realised in this State as they have been realised elsewhere. It is really distressing to be compelled to witness the airy gestures with which some headmasters from other parts of the world greet any mention of financial problems. One cannot but be convinced that there are in this State those who have the means to help us and the will, as soon as they realise our needs, and it is certain that they would be able to take as much pride in the effect of their generosity as those who have given so generously elsewhere.

These remarks will not, I am sure, be interpreted as indicating any lack of appreciation of the goodness of those who have contributed during the year in response to our various requests. I place on record our deep indebtedness to those who have given to the East Window Fund, "The Torch-Bearer" Fund, and the various prize funds, and to all those who have helped directly and indirectly to make the wheels run more smoothly.

You will notice that the Prize List this year includes for the first time the "Percival John Sharp Memorial Prize," awarded to the first boy in the VI. Form in form subjects. Percival Sharp is remembered with deep affection by Old Boys and masters, who have never ceased to regret that his teaching career was so sadly shortened. It will be a source of gratification to them that the memory of his kindly personality will be preserved in perpetuity. We assure his parents that we value highly for its associations the foundation of this prize fund, and that we accept it with sympathetic appreciation.

I have already made grateful reference to the enthusiastic work of the Staff. This is no mere matter of form. It would be quite impossible to refer to the many spheres in which their service is given. I need scarcely remind you that in this School masters do not serve for so many hours a day, but devote all their time and energy to the single purpose of maintaining and increasing the usefulness of the School. Throughout the year they have exhibited a staunch loyalty and devotion which has made it a great pleasure to be associated with them.

I am sorry to say that Mr. Baker is at present in hospital recovering from an operation, which happily proved not to be very serious. He has hosts of School friends, and they will, no doubt, join me in wishing him a speedy recovery. We hope soon to see him restored to his usual vigour.
I have also to thank the School Bursar, to whom is due a great portion of the credit for such improvement as there has been in the financial position of the School; and whose supervision has contributed so largely to the improvement in the condition of the Playing Fields.

Finally, I place on record the deep gratitude of the School to the Council for unfailing help and unvarying consideration under all circumstances.

The Archbishop then introduced Sir Mungo MacCallum.

Sir Mungo said he would not keep his audience long, as no doubt they were all waiting to see the prize-winners 'get away with the goods.' Nevertheless, he knew that a speech was expected of him, and he must fulfil that expectation. He would draw his hearers' attention to a phrase which was much in men's mouths, 'the struggle for existence.' This phrase expressed a fact of nature, but he would prefer to substitute for it another phrase, 'the battle of life.' His speech developed the implications of this phrase, and stressed the importance of strengthening the powers of the mind and those different qualities which are summed up in the word 'character.' Sir Mungo then distributed the prizes.

At the close of the day the guests were entertained at afternoon tea.

During last year a debating team was sent by the University of Sydney to the United States. As originally selected, the team contained two Old Boys, Mr. N. D. McIntosh and Mr. F. Louat. Mr. Louat was unfortunately unable to go.

On the way over, the team debated at Honolulu, where they were the guests of the Pan-American Union.

In America they remained three months, and met teams from about thirty of the leading Universities and Colleges.

The management of the Sydney team was in the hands of Mr. Noel McIntosh, and the arrangement of their debates in America was in the hands of Professor Thompson, of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. Professor Thompson was delighted with the skill of the Australians, and was not alone in his admiration. Professor McGinnis, of Boston College, wrote to him in a letter, which Professor Thompson remitted to Mr. McIntosh, and which deserves quotation here:

The Australians easily outclassed the Cambridge team which we had defeated earlier in the season. The Boston College Faculty attended, and I am but repeating their united impressions when I say that they were the best debaters I have heard in Boston. Poise, sauntery, and joviality gave their addresses a colouring that was truly charming. They gave evidence of a marked keenness of perception, quick analysis of arguments, and a power of refutation that swept everything before it. What I liked most of all was the versatility they displayed. They broached their subject very pleasantly, won the hearers by their witticisms, and then eased into the serious strain, with the whole audience hanging on their words. All who listened to the debate were delighted, and I am sure will be glad to hear another Sydney team next year.

The Club was opened again on the first Friday of the term. The new Committee—Dunbabin, Cooper, Hudson, Hammond and Reid—has done excellent service and ably filled the places of those who left at the end of last year. It would be gratifying to these latter if they could hear how often they are enquired after by the small boys. We have had visits from several Old Boys—Ainsworth, Neil, Roy, Richardson, and L. Hammond. Hammond has very kindly brought out his cinematograph and some exciting films. The Library has been supplemented by books brought in by the boys of the Preparatory School, and several games have been added. We are hoping to be able to keep the Club open during the holidays, as we did last year. It means some self-sacrifice on the part of our boys, but they are amply repaid by the certainty that their efforts are greatly appreciated.
THE DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.

On the night of December 15 the Dramatic Society gave an entertainment in the School Hall. Owing to the shortage of time for rehearsal, it was considered advisable not to take the performance to a public place. Judging by the standard of the actual performance, this action seems to have been excessively cautious. The performance was not widely advertised for fear of overcrowding the hall; this policy was only too successful—we had an audience of less than two hundred. The programme was made up of the two-act play "Vice Versa," by F. Anstey, and the one-act play "A Night at an Inn," by Lord Dunsany, together with three short sketches entitled "Perverted History."

The entertainment opened with the sketch "Alfred and the Cakes," in which H. A. Leonard was "Mrs. Gurn," and R. O. Breden "Gurn." J. F. Cocks was "Alfred," whose negligence meant the ruin of the cakes, for refusing to pay for which he was arrested by a policeman, L. S. North. N. W. Carey was the loafer, who took away a burnt cake as a souvenir.

This was followed by "Vice Versa." Here the parts of Mr. Bulkitude's body and Dick Bulkitude's body were played by H. J. Hulton and T. J. Dunbabin. R. Swift was "Clegg, the cabman," and J. F. Cocks "Abraham Shellack, the Canton correspondent." These all performed their parts adequately. The honours of the first act, however, went to C. R. Croft, as "Eliza, the maid." In the second act, the parts of the schoolboys were taken by N. W. Carey, G. J. Finlay, F. A. Pockey, J. H. Broinowski, and R. J. Tilbrook. W. B. Molloy was the traditional Headmaster as "Dr. Grimstone," and D. M. Myers was "Dulcie Grimstone"—a little too masculine in voice.

After the interval we had first the sketch "Drake on Plymouth Hoe," with Leonard looking the part of Drake to the life, R. J. Morgan in the part of his opponent, S. H. Hammond a naval officer, and C. W. Davis the referee. A noisy crowd—off—provided the necessary barracking.

This was followed by "A Night at an Inn," with Fitzhardinge, Swift, Davis, and Hammond as the four seamen. It is somewhat invidious to distinguish degrees of merit among these. Fitzhardinge was the perfect broken-down gentlemanly person—the little moustache was an inspiration in make-up. Swift's hang-dog sullenness, Davis's stupid cunning, and Hammond's shrieking cowardice were excellent realizations of the characters of the three other sailors. The murders were carried through in a workmanlike way, which reflects considerable discredit on a respectable institution like ours. The three priests were Maybury, Morgan, and Breden, who were well made up and appropriately furtive and sinister—and they-lay very still in death, which was a relief to the producer, who had found them restless corpses at rehearsals. N. R. Carey inhabited the anterior of the idol Klesh—a hideous structure of green cloth and cardboard. His entry and departure had a horrible effectiveness.

The show finished with the sketch “Washington and the Cherry Tree,” with Cocks as Washington, Leonard as an auctioneer, and Croft and North in horn-rimmed glasses as an American lady and gentleman. This trifle soothed the minds of the audience, and sent them home happy.

The plays were produced by Mr. Pulling, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Burgess. The making-up was done by Mr. Burgess and Mr. Hewins, who had to work without respite nearly the whole evening. The stage was the work of Mr. H. W. Hall. Incidental music was provided by L. S. North and H. J. Litchfield. In spite of the small audience, there was a profit of £4/15/6, which has gone to help pay for the motor bus.

PLAY-READING SOCIETY.

This term the Play-Reading Society has carried on quietly and evenly, without anything much to record. We were fortunate in having most of last year’s members still available, and have had no trouble from lack of readers. Indeed, it has been the other way about, and good plays have had to be held over because they had too few characters to provide for all our members. The standard of reading generally has been very fair, with few bad displays and few outstandingly good.

At the date of writing these notes the Society has read “The Shadowy Waters” and two shorter plays by J. B. Yeats; Shaw’s “You Never Can Tell”; Barrie’s “Dear Brutus”; and Galsworthy’s “The Foundations.” In addition to these, it is intended to read “Abraham Lincoln,” by John Drinkwater, and Shaw’s “Arms and the Man.”

On our first night an experiment was tried, and for the first time we read a poetic drama. It succeeded very well, and our readers proved able not only to read the beautiful poetry with feeling, but also to appreciate the beauty of the play through its mysticism.

“The Shadowy Waters” is one of the most highly poetical of modern plays, and the fact that it was so well read and appreciated speaks highly for the intelligence of the Play-Reading Society as a whole. That old favourite, “You Never Can Tell,” followed, and was well read on the whole, though somewhat rushed for time. The next play, “Dear Brutus,” was a rather strange one, with much of Barrie’s charm and quaintness, but the point of the play was well brought home. This was followed by "The Foundations," which also went off quite successfully.

The Society has added one volume to its library this term, "Dear Brutus." We have as yet had little trouble in obtaining sufficient copies of the plays we intend to read, thanks largely to the Repertory Theatre Society. As a result, we still have a considerable balance, which may at any time be useful.

On the whole, the affairs of the Society have passed off very easily and successfully this term, which is due in great part to the number of last year's members still present. Though the membership is comparatively high, however, there must still be many in the Upper School who would be interested in our work, and we extend a hearty invitation to any in this position.

THE LIBRARY.

The chief work of the Committee this term has been the complete re-cataloguing of the whole Library. That is to say, all the books of each section have been rearranged in alphabetical order and re-numbered. This has been a great undertaking, and has been made possible only by the co-operation of all the Committee, who have given up many of their spare afternoons for this work. Unfortunately, sport and other activities have prevented us from giving it all the time needed, and after the first week the work proceeded slowly.

This re-cataloguing has been made necessary for several reasons. First, many books had been withdrawn and others lost, leaving gaps in the old catalogue, and several years' accumulation of new books on the end of the sections had destroyed the order. Secondly, during last year much was done by the Committee in altering the boundaries of the sections, doing away with some and creating others. As a result of these changes, the old catalogue had fallen into disorder, and a new one was needed.

The re-cataloguing has shown how many books the Library has lost through carelessness on the part of boys who use it. For instance, only half a dozen of the works of such popular authors as Sabatini and Wodehouse were found in the place of about twenty. Here, while some books may have been worn out, one cannot but suppose that the majority are still in the possession of boys who have forgotten to return them. This is grossly unfair to others, and boys should be more thoughtful in this respect.

At the end of last term much work was done by members of the Sixth Form who had completed the Leaving Certificate examinations. As foretold in last term's notes, the old S and D sections were re-cast into three new sections—S (Literary, Criticism), P (Poetry and Drama), and D (Belles Lettres and Miscellaneous Literature). In addition, W section (the Great War) was abolished, and the works in it added to the History section; and the Reference Section was reorganised.

This term routine work has been proceeding smoothly and satisfactorily, the vigilance of the Committee in collecting fines being noteworthy. The following new books have been bought:—"Scotland Yard," by J. Gollomb; "An Escaper's Log," by D. Grinnell-Milne; "Banking Through the Ages," by N. F. Hoggson, for H section; (History); "The Revolt in the Desert," by T. E. Lawrence, for L section (Travel); "The Wild Animals of Australasia," by A. S. Le Soeuff and H. Burrell, for C section (Science); and a number of French books for M section, for the benefit of French Honours students and others interested in the subject. We have also to thank Hulton F. for the gifts of several boys' books for A section.

In conclusion, we desire to place on record our appreciation of the services of the late Sub-Librarian, J. C. Neild, whose keenness and industry were a shining example to his assistants.

BOXING.

The School Boxing Tournament was held in the School Hall on December 14, 15 and 18, 1926. Mr. Taylor, the School Boxing Instructor, refereed the bouts. The tournament went off very well, and the number of entries exceeded previous years. The boxing on the whole was of a very high standard, and some good fights were witnessed.

Mr. Taylor and Mr. Dupain, both of the Dupain Institute, kindly presented a prize to the best boxer in the School, and also two prizes to the two boys who put up the best fights, although beaten. Of these prizes, Bell was awarded the prize for the best boxer, and Sheaffe i. (Prep.) and Davis (B) for the two best losers. The prizes were presented to the winner of each weight by the Headmaster on the last day of term.

In the under 4.7 (Prep.), Sheaffe (P.) beat Cooper (P.) on points. In the under 5.0 (Prep.), Buchanan (P.) beat Jones (P.) on points. In the 6.0, Kimpton (P.) beat Blanche (R.) on points. In the under 6.7, Freeth (S.) beat Thompson (S.) on points, after an extra round. In the under 7.0, Esplin (H.) beat Shorter (S.), also after an extra round. In the under 7.7, Newton ii. (S.) beat Goldfinch (R.) on points. In the under 8.0, Lanceley (R.) beats Gorton (R.), after an extra round. In the under 8.7, Swift (S.) beat Mackey (R.), after an extra round (this fight showed exceptionally good boxing). In the under 9.0, Penfold (R.) beat Davis (B.) on points, after a very hard fight. In the under 9.7, Miller (R.) beat Ward (R.) on points (Miller, in the semi-final, proved himself to be a very good fighter). In the under 10.0, Orr (B.) beat Hutchinson (R.) on points, after a good fight, Orr having too much experience for Hutchinson, who put up a good fight. In the under 10.7, Vernon (S.) beat Lyne (H.) by a knock-out in the third round (Lyne did not impress as much as last year, although he boxed well). In the under 11.0, Innes (B.) beat Wallis (R.) on points (this was a very crude fight, both men not knowing much about boxing). In the School Championship, Bell (R.) beat Litchfield (S.) by a knock-out in the second round.

Robson thus won the tournament with 30 points, School being second with 19 points. Barry obtained 15 points, and Hodges 4.

TENNIS.

Tennis this term has been very successful, both with regard to interest and to form displayed. Players were keen, the courts being fully occupied on the days set down for practice. Two outside matches took place, the weather interfering with all other arrangements. The matches played were against North Sydney High School. CRICKET.

1st XI.

The team has not had a successful term, due chiefly to the heavy losses at the end of last year. There are only three boys who were in the Eleven at this time last year. Lack of experience has been largely due to the failure, and this has been accentuated by the frequency of wet wickets. B. S. Goddard has played wonderfully well, making more runs during the term than any other boy in the Great Public Schools. In Competition matches, he played 8 innings for 538 runs, at an average of 76.8. Unfortunately, his has been a lone hand; and he has also had to bear a good deal of the attack, taking 12 wickets for 196 runs. S. C. Begbie, with 16 wickets at an average of 13.9, has been the most successful bowler. The fielding has been very sound, but the bowling generally weak. Nevill has batted well at times, but has been too anxious to score; his fielding at cover point has been magnificent. The younger members of the team have been very disappointing, showing no consistency, and invariably failing when runs were wanted.

v. Sydney High School.—Played at Northbridge on Saturday, February 19, and won by 302 runs on the first innings. High School won the toss, and sent the School in to bat on a good wicket. The chief feature of the day was Goddard’s innings of 182. He played shots all round the wicket, and hit hard, giving a very fine display of batting. Newton (49) also batted well, but there was little support, and with 3 wickets for 249 at lunch time, the side could only compile 361. High School replied with 59, of which Morgan made 21. Scores:—

v. St. Joseph's College.—Played at Hunter's Hill on Saturday, February 25, and won by 29 runs on the first innings. The School won the toss, and batted on a very fair wicket. Wickets fell quickly, and with the exception of Nevill and Vernon, both 36, nobody made many runs. Nevill hit two sixes, but was over-anxious and was stumped. The innings closed for 112. St. Joseph's innings was also short, the side being dismissed for 83. The School did better, in the second innings, making 203. Of these Goddard made a very fine 63, and played by far the best innings of the day. Scores:—

v. The King's School.—Commenced at Northbridge on Saturday, March 5, and concluded on Wednesday, the 9th, and lost by 6 wickets and 8 runs on the first innings. The School won the toss, and batted on an excellent wicket. Goddard again was the only one to bat really well; his 164 not out was a magnificent effort. The failure of the early batsmen made him quiet for a time, but later he batted with great dash. The last wicket put on 111, McKay holding the wicket up while Goddard made the runs. Heavy rain fell before The King's School could bat, and the match was continued on the following Wednesday. Allowing only three hours' play, Terry and Rowe batted steadily for the visitors, and wore the bowling down. G. Hogg and Dangar became associated in a fine partnership, and both went at the bowling. T.K.S. obtained the runs with about ten minutes to spare. The fielding on both sides was excellent. Scores:—

v. Sydney Grammar School.—Commenced at Rushcutters Bay on Saturday, March 12, and concluded on Wednesday, the 11th, and lost by 5 wickets and 7 runs on the first innings. Drizzling rain delayed the start of the game for half an hour. The School batted first, making in all 166, of which Boazman made 54 and Goddard 42. This was Boazman's best innings of the term, and he showed plenty of vigour, and went for the bowling when runs were badly needed. The game was continued on the Wednesday, when Sydney Grammar School passed our score with the loss of five wickets. The batting was extremely slow, but was effective in wearing down the bowling. The fielding on both sides was good, but keener anticipation might have altered the whole aspect of the game.

v. The Scots’ College.—Played at Belvue Hill on Saturday, March 19, and lost by 17 runs on the first innings. Heavy rain fell early in the morning, and there was no play before lunch. Scots' College won the toss, and batted first; the wicket after the rain was very slippery. Of their total of 126, Kennedy made 45 by vigorous hitting, and won the game for his side. For the School, Begbie (7 wickets for 43) bowled very well indeed. The School's innings was a failure, total-ling only 109, after scoring 45 in the first fifteen minutes. Kennedy (7 wickets for 39) made the best use of a bowler's wicket, and was always dangerous. Scores:

v. Newington College.—Played at Northbridge on Saturday, March 25, and Wednesday, the 29th, and lost by 185 runs on the first innings. Newington won the toss, and batted on an excellent wicket. Before lunch the batting was slow, but livened up later in the day. Windon batted soundly, and Helps and Parton made the best use of their time. After 8 wickets had fallen for 187, the innings produced 307. Begbie (4 wickets for 58) was the most successful bowler. The School lost 1 wicket on the Saturday, and the game was continued on Wednesday after heavy rain had ruined the wicket, which was now all in the bowlers' favour. The innings closed for 112, of which Goddard made 51. Webster (5 wickets for 36) bowled excellently, and on the sticky wicket was very dangerous. Scores:

2nd XI.

During the term rain has interfered with practice considerably, and with most matches. We were unfortunate in losing three good batsmen owing to accidents, but this loss gave others a chance, and showed there is plenty of good material upon which to fall back. Indeed, it rather leads one to think that competition for places in the team later on this year will be very keen, and that there may be some shuffling of places.

The batting of everyone was showing progress, and the bowling had more variety than last term, but the main trouble still is lack of consistent length. Hobson's length was the most reliable, and his bowling met with the best results, giving him the highly creditable total of 27 wickets at an average of 6.4. The fielding was patchy, both on the ground and in the taking of catches; at times it was very good. The greatest keenness was always shown, and there should be a very good team before the end of the year. Coffin proved a very fair skipper, and latterly showed signs of better bowling form.

The results of Competition matches and the leading averages so far this year are as follows:

v. S.J.C.—Won by 185. School 309
(Halstead 141, Thomas 50), S.J.C. 124.
v. T.K.S.—Lost by 139. School 139,

v. S.I.C.—Drew (rain stopped play).

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The Preparatory School entered on the second year of its existence with a full roll. With a nucleus of 43 left over from last year, it did not take us long to get into our stride. The average age of the School is lower than last year; so that our teams are likely to fare badly at the hands of other schools. However, by making up in keenness what they lack in years, they should give a good account of themselves, except that their lack of weight must tell against them in football.

Great keenness has been shown in the physical drill, and this part of our work has been brought under the Quarter Competition. Mr. Robinson has kindly awarded points on different occasions, with the result that at the time of writing Davies are leading, with Baker second.

Seeing that in cricket we had but three players left from last year's 1st and 2nd XI.'s, not much was expected in the way of results during the first term. However, the boys are keen, and by the end of the year we hope to be able to turn the tables on most of the teams which have beaten us. Both net practice and matches had to be frequently postponed or abandoned on account of wet weather, and this had a detrimental effect on teams just beginning their cricket. Tuesday afternoons were given over to net practice, Thursday afternoons to Quarter Competition matches, while outside matches were played on Saturday mornings. The Quarter Competitions were fought out keenly, Davies winning both the A and B Grades.

Following is a list of the points gained by the different quarters in these matches:

The outside matches were, without exception, keen tussles. Fielding, however, was our weak point, and this department will require most attention during the latter part of the year. The list of matches, with results, is:

The concrete pitch at the back of the Preparatory School proved a great help. As it is only possible under present conditions to give each boy a few minutes' net practice per week, the 1st and 2nd XI.'s were taken and coached on the concrete wicket on the "off" afternoons. The knowledge gained in the manner of executing strokes is reflected in their general play.

The Annual Dance will be held at the Ambassadors on Friday, July 29, during Polo Week. Tickets will be limited to 450, and as none will be on sale at the doors, country members should notify the Dance Secretary if they intend to be present as soon as possible, and in any event not later than July 22. When writing for tickets, which are 12/6 each, a cheque to cover the cost should be forwarded, so that the tickets can be posted back immediately. The Hon. Secretary is G. F. O. Throsby, c/o Williamson and Osborne, 11c Castlereagh Street, Sydney.

W. A. Pepperday and Son have the publication of the Register in hand, and state that it should be completed in four or five months' time. There is a vast amount of work to be done, including the proofs, and this may cause some additional delay, but it is practically certain that the copies will be in members' hands before the end of the year.

An effort is to be made to improve the Old Boys' Union notes in "The Torch-Bearer," and a sub-committee consisting of W. C. Moodie, L. F. Fitzhardinge, G. C. Turnbull, and A. K. Curlewis has been appointed to collect information. There has been no time to do much work for this issue, but in future it is hoped that members will make a point of sending in items of interest in respect of either themselves or other Old Boys. These may be posted to the Hon. Secre-
Front Row: F. R. Cooper, R. J. O. Harris, Esq., B. V. Saddington (capt), J. B. Burrel, Esq., D. M. Caldwell.
Norman Heron, who was married in March, is living at Mona Road, Darling Point. He is a solicitor in partnership with D. R. Hall and Co.

G. B. Hetherington has just been given twelve months' leave of absence from the Public Works Department, and has gone to England again for more experience in engineering.

A. H. Curlewis has resigned his position as Associate to the Chief Justice of New South Wales, and has started practice at the Bar.

Archie Ralston, who left School in '15, was down from Queensland at Easter. He and three brothers have a very large station at Goondiwindi.

Waldo Miller and George Scales have completed their course at the Wagga Experimental Farm, and now have a station in the Mudgee district.

The Rev. G. F. Cranswick, of the Church Missionary Society's staff in India, has been given short leave to visit his parents, and is expected in Sydney about the middle of April. He has been Vice-Principal of the Missionary School at Chapra, North India, for the last three years.

The Rev. I. D. Armitage, Rector of Campbelltown, has been appointed Rector of St. John's, Woolwich.
The Rev. O. G. Dent, of St. Mary's Church, St. Marys, was entertained at a large gathering at St. Mary's prior to leaving for Lidcombe, to which parish he had recently been appointed. He was handed an illuminated address and several gifts.

Old Boys will be very grieved to hear of the death of A. S. Coates. He died at the Walter Hall Sanatorium, Hazelbrook, after a long illness. For a time he was an inmate of the Q.V. Homes, King's Tableland. He was buried at Wentworth Falls. His father writes that Selwyn was bright and cheerful to the last. Was glad to see an article of his in the "S.M. Herald" on Christmas Day.

T. Iredale, after an absence of seven years, has returned to Sydney, and has taken up the post of Lecturer in Chemistry at the Sydney University. For four years he did research work at London University, where big grants from private firms interested in the progress of chemistry helped the work along.

The Rev. L. S. Dudley has arrived in Sydney after an absence of seven years on the staff of St. George's College, Hyderabad, India. Latterly he was acting headmaster.

A very successful smoke concert was held by the Old Boys of the Newcastle district at the Soldiers' Memorial Hall on March 14. Owing to illness and absence from home of several, the attendance was not as large as was expected. The guests were the Headmaster and the Rev. D. Davies. The toast of "The School" was proposed by H. Ireland, and responded to by the Headmaster. "The Old Boys' Union" was proposed by K. Brooks, and responded to by Mr. Davies. The guests were met at the station by K. Brooks and B. G. Littler, who drove them to see the various interesting parts of the city and neighbourhood, and also to the Hospital to visit Oscar Gillam, who had been operated on for appendicitis, etc., but who was making a good recovery.

D. S. Goddard left for Vancouver on March 10. He intends to settle there and practise engineering. His address will be the Y.M.C.A., Vancouver, B.C.

Hearty congratulations to J. C. Jagger on winning the Norbert Quirk Prize for Mathematics (III. and IV.) with high distinction, and first-class honours at graduation, and also the Deas Thomson Scholarship for Physics III.

It is with great regret that we heard of the death of C. M. Barker on March 24, at Neutral Bay. He was a director of Ford Sherrington Ltd., and for some time a member of that firm, and later one of the valuers of Raine and Horne for about eight years. For thirty years he held a commission in the R.A. Naval Reserve. He served in Egypt with the R.A. Naval Bridging Train in 1916 and 1917, and afterwards in Australia for the duration of the War. He was a prominent Church worker, and one of the moving spirits in the rebuilding of the Church of St. Augustine, Neutral Bay, of which parish he held the office of churchwarden for two years, and was also its Synod representative. He was well known in yachting circles, and was one of the oldest members of the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron. He was also a member of the Pioneer Club.

Congratulations to Gordon Childe on being appointed Professor of Archaeology at Edinburgh University. He graduated at Sydney and Oxford with highest honours in connection with his B.A. degree. At Oxford he won the Craven Scholarship. He was senior tutor at St. Andrew’s College, Sydney, for some time, and more recently was Secretary and Librarian of the London Anthropological Society and acting lecturer in archaeological subjects at the London University.

The following are the Old Boys at present in University crews:—

The annual Old Boys’ Dinner will take place at Adams’ Restaurant on Friday, May 6, at 7 p.m. This will be on the eve of the G.P.S. Regatta Finals. The combined Old Boys’ Club will hold their dance on the same night at 8 p.m.

H. Selwyn Jackson writes from 165 New Park Road, London, S.W. 2:

Mr. Robson has just sent me a copy of “The Torch-Bearer” containing the notice regarding the death of my father, H. L. Jackson, once Bursar of the School and Incumbent of St. John’s. My brother died in Canada in 1925. He, as well as I, always looked back on the time we spent at the C.E.G.S. as the best of our school years.

I travelled the Continent for some time before the War, settling finally in Paris as a tutor. During the War I became head of a big W.O. Department. It was there I was surprised one day by a smart young captain walking up to my desk, and hailing me as ‘Selwyn.’ It was E. I. Robson, junr. [He is referring to Mr. Edgar Robson, now a master at Eton—Ed.], whom we knew of course in Sydney days. I have not met him since then, but recognised him almost at once, in spite of his uniform. You have probably heard of his War work. His former chief chief is now my chief’s adjutant.

My children are nearly all grown up. I have a son in the Civil Service, two more and a daughter at London University, and another daughter working at home after matriculating. I am glad to say that I have a few photographs of ourselves when children at the Blue Mountains, etc., so that my children have a very good idea of the kind of life we led there.
I note in "The Torch-Bearer" the names of Mr. Baker, my form master, and Mr. Linton, whom I also remember very well. In fact, I can visualise all those of you perfectly well. Then Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hall. Mr. Holme was, I think, a new master just before I left, and Wilfrid was in his class. Piero Piaschi's younger sister accompanied my step-mother to my father's funeral. I had seen her once before, but had no opportunity of telling her that Piero, Carlo and I used to cross the Harbour twice a day together to and from the School. I see Wilson's still on the list. How many were in my days?—Stumpy, Maddie, Bill, Jim, etc., etc.

But my pleasure is a bore to you. I have often wished to write. May I hope you have not minded reading?

DEATHS.

The third Annual General Meeting of the Club was held on Thursday, March 3.

The following annual report was adopted:

Your Committee begs to present its Third Annual Report.

During the year the most important event has been the removal of the Club from its old premises at Cromer to Warwick Building, Hamilton Street, Sydney.

In the first circulars that were sent out to members of the Old Boys' Union in 1923 inviting them to join the Club which was then about to be formed, one of the aims of the Club, it was stated, was to embark at a later date on a scheme similar to the present one.

In 1925 steps were taken to convene meetings of representatives of the S.C.E.G.S. Club, the Newington O.B.U., and the T.K.S. Old Boys Union, which was considering the question of forming a club, and our own Club. The delegates held several meetings, and decided upon the principles of the scheme. On August 11, 1925, a special general meeting of our own Club was called, when resolutions were passed approving of these principles, and leaving it in the hands of the Committee to carry the scheme into effect.

At the last annual general meeting of the Club progress was reported, and during last year the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company now incorporated as Schools Clubs Limited were prepared. Their contents were agreed to by the four schools, and preparations made to incorporate the Company as soon as the necessary premises could be found. Towards the end of the year the Proprietors of the "Sydney Morning Herald" were approached, and through their generosity the present premises were secured.

The Company was then incorporated, and a lease of five years of the present premises entered into between the Company and the Proprietors of the "Herald."

The Proprietors of the "Herald" have leased the present premises to the Company at a generous rent, and have provided the whole of the capital required to remodel the floor into Club premises, and although over 50 per cent. of this outlay will be repaid by the Company over the period of the lease, there can be no doubt that the Proprietors of the "Herald" treated the Company particularly well, and in a way they would not have been prepared to do if they had not been genuinely interested in the scheme on other than business grounds.

The Company showed its appreciation of their action by inviting Sir James Fairfax to declare the new premises open on Thursday last. Mr. Geoffrey Fairfax was away, otherwise he would also have been present.

The premises were opened to members in the first week in January, and the thanks of the Club are due to Mr. Kelvynack, of the Newington Club, and to Messrs. Mullens and Gibson, of the Grammar School Club, for the assistance they gave the Club in moving its furniture from its old to its new home.

The new scheme provides for certain rooms common to all the Clubs admitted to enjoy the benefit of the scheme, and also for separate accommodation for each individual Club. The common rooms, in addition to the bath and dressing rooms, are the dining room, the lounge with two billiard tables and room for a third, and the card room. The result of the scheme is that the members of the individual Clubs can obtain very much greater facilities than those available to them in the old Club premises without any increase in the subscriptions.
The affairs of the Company, which controls the common rooms and sublets to the individual Clubs the separate accommodation they require are in the hands of a board of eight directors, two of whom are elected by each of the four original Clubs which are known as the foundation Clubs. Your representatives are Mr. Dudley Williams and Dr. F. G. A. Pockley. Since the Company was formed the Scots' College has also been admitted into the scheme, but the Scots' College Club is not a foundation Club. The constitution of the Company provides that new clubs can only be admitted with the unanimous consent of all the Clubs already in the scheme. The scheme aims at achieving co-operation between the constituent Clubs, while at the same time maintaining the separate identity of each individual Club.

The result of the scheme has been to greatly increase the membership of our own Club, and your Committee feels confident that the other Clubs will benefit in a similar manner, and that it will not be long before the Company will be compelled to approach the Proprietors of the "Herald" for increased accommodation. The dining room is found to be overcrowded already, and steps are being taken by the directors for extra accommodation at lunch time.

Membership.—The membership of the Club on January 20 last, the close of the financial year, was 494, without counting the Masters of the School; all of whom are honorary members. Of the above number, 400 were ordinary members and four associate members. Since that date over 100 members have joined the Club, and there are now 596 members, ordinary and associate members, without counting the honorary members.

Annual Dance.—The third annual dance was held on October 15 at the Wentworth, and proved to be the most successful dance the Club has so far held. Two hundred and seventy members and guests were present.

Hon. Treasurer.—During the year Mr. N. D. McIntosh, who has been the Honorary Treasurer of the Club since its commencement, resigned owing to his departure for America as a member of the University Debating Team, and his resignation was accepted with regret. Mr. C. N. Walker was elected to fill the vacancy.

The Committee wishes to thank the Headmaster for again acting as President and Secretary of the Club to attend the tea given to the boys leaving School at the end of the year. In this way it is possible chiefly to explain the position of the Club as a School institution to the boys leaving School.

The Committee wish again to record the good work that Mr. Bagot has done in explaining the objects of the Club to boys who are about to leave School.

The Committee also wishes to thank Mr. N. E. Brooks for again acting as Honorary Auditor to the Club.

During the year close co-operation has been maintained between the Club and the Old Boys' Union.

During the year eleven Committee meetings were held, and the attendance has been as follows:—G. C. Turnbull, 11; D. Williams, 10; J. G. Hill, 10; D'Arcy Roberts, 9; A. N. Harding, 9; B. Byrne, 9; Dr. G. A. Pockley, 8; C. N. Walker, 8; G. E. Browne, 8; J. Lyne, 6; W. J. S. Harding, 5; N. D. McIntosh, 3 (leave of absence granted).

The following were elected office-bearers:—President, Mr. Dudley Williams; Vice-President, Dr. F. G. A. Pockley; Hon. Secretary, Mr. G. C. Turnbull; Assistant Hon. Secretary, Mr. A. W. Harding; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. C. S. Walker; Hon. Auditor, Mr. N. E. Brooks; Committee, Messrs. D'Arcy Roberts, G. E. Browne, J. K. Shirley, J. Knight Barnett, C. Stuart, J. G. Hill, and B. B. Byrne.

Before the meeting terminated, Dr. F. G. A. Pockley, on behalf of the members, presented the President (Mr. Dudley Williams) and the Hon. Secretary (Mr. G. C. Turnbull) with ink stands, suitably inscribed, in token of their untiring services rendered to the Club.

The following Old Boys have joined the Club since the beginning of the year:—

The Club has now settled down in its new premises, and the new scheme has been a success in every way.

The first Annual Dance of Schools Clubs Ltd. will be held at the Wentworth on May 4.

Any communications should be addressed to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. G. C. Turnbull, Box 1334J., G.P.O., Sydney.
