FREDERICK LYLE GRUTZ MACHER.

On June 29, 1930, occurred the death of Mr. Frederick Lyle Grutzmacher, after a short illness, the seriousness of which few of us had suspected.

Mr. Grutzmacher was born at Adelaide on March 31, 1882. Already at school he showed that interest in science and natural history was to distinguish his life. At the University of Adelaide and the Adelaide Technical College he pursued his scientific studies, and was trained as a practical chemist and metallurgist.

For several years he was senior science master at Rockhampton Grammar School, and then head of the Rockhampton Technical College. From 1913 to 1916 he was senior science master at Armidale, and in 1916, on the death of Mr. R. W.

Morgan, he accepted the position on our staff which he held until his death.

It is difficult to estimate the loss to the School that has been caused by the sudden and untimely death of one who filled so useful and important a position among us. One does not always reckon from day to day, and in health, the weight of responsibility that is carried by those who control the routine that makes the work and life of a school. Looking back at the impressions that one formed of the work and character of Frederick Lyle Grutzmacher, the first point that seems to stand out is his wonderful and all-round efficiency. In every one of the activities which he shared in the School life he was not only up to, but always ahead of, his work. In School work he had a wide knowledge of his subjects, which he never allowed to grow out of date; and he had a clarity of exposition which made the most difficult of problems as clear as such things may be. Science was not to him a collection of dry facts and theories, but a revelation of the laws of God in nature. His gift for teaching the subject which he loved made it unnecessary for him to invoke the aid which is often associated with the name of schoolmaster. The discipline which he used was that of interest. And out of school his wonderful gift for organisation was used unsparingly in the promotion of the Athletic Sports. Who has not in his memory a recollection of a smoothly running Sports Day, with every arrangement made, every event run off to time; judges and timekeepers and all aware of their duties, and in their places; not a hint of a hitch nor of last-minute bustle; and a smiling, good-humoured man in charge, doing nothing, for all had been done beforehand?

The second point that comes to remembrance is his unflinching good temper. The world is full of fools, and few of us are wise all the time; but in the rush and bustle of school life, in classroom, in the common room, and on the sports ground, one rarely heard him out of temper, and never heard him make an ill-natured remark. He was always ready to help, and his help was cheerfully given.

Away from the activities of the School, he was in touch with life at many points. For some years he was a member of the Committee of Taronga Park. He was known as an authority on Australian flora, pond life, and insect life, and for some years contributed regular articles to the Press on scientific subjects. The authorities of the Australian Museum thought highly of his services as lecturer. As President of the Assistant Masters' Association he guided its affairs with tact and wisdom. Just before his death he had completed for a London publisher a text-book of chemistry, upon which he had been engaged for many months. And there are many of us who remember the little musical plays which he used to write for the Christmas Number of the "Sydney Mail." Owing to the persistence and regularity with which requests for copies of the music to these plays used to come in from all parts of the world, he had not long prepared for the leading music publishers in London an edition of several of these plays. Music he loved, and a good book. But perhaps the most lasting of recollections is that of his quiet good-humour, of an outlook on life that saw its fun and its sweetness, of a man who lived with boys and masters but who never became a pedant or a pedagogue, and who smiled more often than he laughed, and who never said unkind things.

"Requiem aeternam dona ei, Domine; et lux perpetua luceat ei."

SCHOOL NOTES.

On May 1st G. C. Cullis-Hill, R. E. Makinson, H. W. Robinson, P. W. Swift, E. A. Utz, J. St. V. Welch, and E. S. White were appointed Prefects. On August 11th H. G. Brown, H. L. Higgs, L. B. Holmes, and C. R. Sinclair were appointed Sub-Prefects.

The General School Committee was called together once during the term, on July 29th. C. R. Sinclair was appointed Captain of Boats; G. C. Cullis-Hill and R. G. Row were appointed to the Sports Executive.

Mr. G. H. Clarke has been filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Grutzmacher. In the absence of Mr. Furnell, Dr. I. A. Henning and Mr. Buttlin have been taking his subjects.

On three Friday afternoons in the term Mr. Hill, of Kodaks, gave lectures on photography in the School Hall. Interestingly delivered, and accompanied by illuminating demonstrations, they were well received, and have aroused a much more intelligent interest in the subject.

On Saturday, July 5th, Mr. Upton Brown, of Broadcasters Ltd., gave an entertainment of singing and elocution in the School Hall. It was well attended.

During the Boarders' Week-end of July 11th-13th, the Canberra Grammar School team were quartered in the School House. They were entertained by members of the School on Saturday night, and on Sunday a picnic was arranged in the 'bus.

As Saturday night is rather a blank night for the boarders, singing has been started in the School Hall. There was a large attendance the first time, but since then the numbers have been rather small.

Mr. Tiley has taken charge of Athletics.

On May 5th last, an enjoyable dance was held in the School Dining Hall under the auspices of the Boat Club. It is understood that the 'bus has benefited. The Football Club dance was held on August 28th, too late to receive anything more than a mention here.

The iron fence in Edward Street is being continued as far as the gate. It will secure the sacrosanctity of the ground in practically direct ratio to its unaesthetic qualities.

CHAPEL NOTES.

Addresses have been given this term by the Rev. N. A. B. Backhouse, the Rev. C. T. Debenham, and the Rev. G. Wilder Clarke, Rector of Holy Trinity, Miller's Point.

Sunday, August 17th, was Open Sunday. The preacher was the Rev. Canon Cakebread, of St. Jude's, Randwick.

The funeral service of Mr. Grutzmacher took place in the Chapel on June 30th. The address was given by Mr. Pulling.

A donation has been received with many thanks from Richard Clement Fitzhardinge Tiley toward the Chapel Memorial Fund.

BAPTISMS.

December 31, 1929—Edith Blanche Vallack, by the Rev. N. A. B. T. Backhouse.

August 3, 1930—Richard Clement Fitzhardinge Tiley, by the Rev. D. Davies.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The Committee has spent nearly half a term's solid work in re-cataloguing all books in the Library. The work is now finished except for the card-index, and the thanks of the School reading public are due to those members who gave up their time to this rather monotonous job. With the exception of the Biography section, from which one book has been used since last cataloguing, we found that most sections are well read, even apart from the modern fiction.

A number of the older periodicals and magazines have been sent to Miller's Point, where we hope they will be appreciated.

It is hoped in the near future to improve the range and selection of magazines available for reading, though "Graphics" and "Illustrateds" will, of course, always remain the most popular.

Among new arrangements is a means of detecting overdue books every day, so that the snappers-up of unconsidered trifles will have to seek out new means of stocking their libraries.

As many of the present Committee will be resigning as the exam. approaches, intending members from the Fifth Forms are asked to see Mr. Jones.

The Committee as a whole has done the term's work very efficiently, particularly in connection with the re-indexing, which involved a number of afternoons after School for all of them.

MILLER'S POINT BOYS' CLUB.

On Trinity Sunday thirty boys from Shore, including the Senior Prefect, T. M. Halstead, attended Evensong at Holy Trinity, Miller's Point. A number of the Club boys was also present. The lessons were read by the Prefects, McDermott and Litchfield, who are members of the Club Committee. The Rev. N. A. B. Backhouse sang the service. The special preacher for the occasion was the Rev. Clive Yarrington, of St. Clement's, Mosman. The Rector, Rev. C. Wilder Clarke, was in charge of the service. Mr. Clarke has shown unfailing courtesy, and given splendid support to our Club Committee and the Shore boys who take part in the Club activities.

At the end of the first term the members of the senior clubs of the parish entertained about twenty boys from the School. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

The slippery dip, which was placed in the hall recently, has been constantly in use, and keeps many boys happily occupied.

The magazines and books which were provided by the School, in response to an appeal, are always in great demand.

One Friday evening Colonel J.

Maughan, who is a member of the Boy Scouts' Association, visited the Club and explained to the boys the objects of the Scouts' organisation. The boys listened attentively, and over thirty gave in their names as prospective Scouts.

The average attendance at the Club has steadily increased, being now approximately 55. The average attendance of Shore boys is 12.

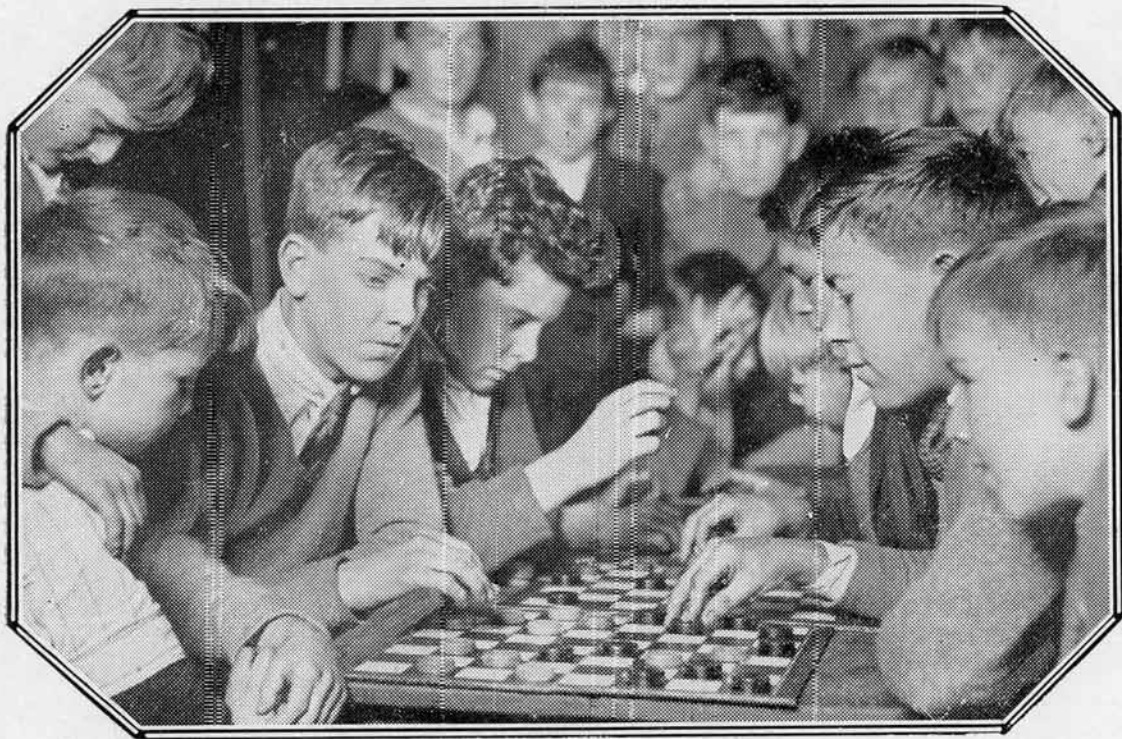

In order that there might always be a committeeman in charge on Friday evenings, the Executive Committee of the Club co-opted the following boys:—J. D. Flashman, R. T. Suttor, A. C. Roberts, W. J. Cox, P. C. Taylor, and A. F. Roberts.

The Committee wishes to make the following acknowledgments:—To Miss Walpole Moore, for her interest in the Club and her kindness in providing an early tea for boarders who attend the Club; to Miss Mackey, for the gift of cakes; to Mr. Robinson, for personal attendance at the Club; to Mr. Davey, for arranging for the allocation of £10 from Tuck Shop funds for the benefit of the Club; to all masters and boys who gave books and magazines; and to the Acting Headmaster, Mr. Dixon, for his interest and support.

DEBATING.

The debating results of the season just concluded must be regarded as the most satisfactory obtained for several years. The team has to its credit an unbroken record of successes, as a result of which the

At the Miller's Point Club.

School holds the G.P.S. Debating Premiership for 1930, which entitles us to hold the Louat Shield.

This satisfactory result is due to the consistent effort and enthusiasm displayed by the members of the School team. Although at the opening of the season they revealed little more than ordinary ability, their progress has been so sustained that their successes have been no greater than their merits. As speakers, they were never spectacular and seldom brilliant, but they were always sound, and were thus able at times to merit the adjudicator's award in spite of the forensic superiority of their opponents. Another important factor was the ability of the leader (Makinson) to deliver a telling reply, which is in many respects the most important speech in a debate.

The School has been represented, in the recent series, by Makinson (four debates), Alexander (four debates), Spiers (three debates), and D. P. Jones (one debate).

We opened the season against T.K.S. by affirming "That the invasion by sound-films of the spheres of the actor and musician is a national calamity." A good reply gave us the verdict by a very few points.

Against S.H.S. we denied "That the prominence given to inter-school competitive sport is defeating the interests of true education." Our margin on this occasion was twelve points.

We had to affirm against S.J.C. the somewhat unusual proposition: "That the study of Shakespeare is given undue prominence in the schools and public examinations of New South Wales." We succeeded in a difficult task by a margin of six points.

The final debate was held at Sydney Grammar School, and against that team. Sir Henry Braddon presided, and the donor of the G.P.S. Shield, Mr. Louat, senr., was present. S.G.S. affirmed "That patriotism should be subordinated to internationalism." A good debate, in which our opponents showed superiority in form, and our team an equal superiority in matter, ended in our favour by a very few points.

THE SCHOOL BADGE.

King's College Hospital,
London,

June 26, 1930.

(The Editor, "Torch-Bearer.")

Dear Sir,

In your issue of May, 1930, under the title of "Some Changes," the following appears:—

"It is a curious fact that no one seems to be quite certain of some of the details of the badge. The mitre is shown white in older badges, gold in more recent ones. The scroll for the motto is sometimes white, sometimes gold," etc.

I cannot allow these remarks to pass unchallenged in the School's official magazine without a protest. There are a few of us who have many times drawn the attention of the School authorities to facts relative to the School badge, but nothing has been done. I would be obliged if you would allow me space in your next issue to throw some light on this matter.

Just after the War, my brother (Edgar) and I were at Cambridge, and we were struck with the custom of having the College Arms painted on oak shields and hung in one's rooms. We found that it was also customary to have one's school badge painted also; so we went to the shop where these things were sold and asked if it was possible for the "Shore" badge to be painted in like manner. Naturally we did not have a coloured representation of the badge, and were unable to remember details. However, the artist, who, by the way, is one of the finest heraldic artists in England, told us that if we had a piece of School notepaper with the badge printed on the top it would be quite sufficient, as all heraldic arms are printed in such a manner that directions of lines, etc., represent certain colours; and so he could paint the badge in its proper colours by following the printed representation. When he had completed the painting we found that he had painted the "bordure" (surrounding) red and white, instead of blue and white. The direction of the lines in the printing of official School notepaper shows this error to the present time. On returning to Sydney a year later, my brother and I went and saw Mr. W. A. Purves, the late Headmaster, and told him of our experience, and he told us that a similar thing had happened some years before, when a set of cigarette cards of the Arms of Australian Great Public Schools had shown ours with a red and white border. We pointed out that such a gross mistake should not be allowed to continue on official paper, and was easily rectified by having a new "die" cut correctly at a very small cost. However, nothing was done, or has been done, even to the present time: a thing that I personally consider a scandal in a great School like ours.

The question then arose—Why is the border (and, incidentally, the School colours) blue and white? No one in Australia was able to answer this question, and nothing was found concerning it on looking up the early records. Finally one of the Old Boys was asked to consult Mr. Robson, our first Headmaster, when they met at an Old Boys' Dinner in London. Mr. Robson then explained that this blue and white border was taken from his own old College Arms—Christ College, Cambridge.

Some years later, when the Old

Boys' Club was in course of formation, and the School blazer had recently been altered, it was found that different firms were selling blazers with pockets on which the badge varied in details as to colouring, notably in the colour of the mitre. S. Crane, Esq., the Secretary of the O.B.U., consulted me on this matter and asked my opinion, as he had heard that I was interested and had made a study of the subject. I pointed out to him that only two or three of the most ancient schools in England had the right to a white mitre, and gave it as my opinion that, in view of the age of "Shore" and the fact that it shows our connection with the Diocese of Sydney, it should be gold. At my request he produced the original "blocks" of the School badge, and these clearly showed that the mitre is gold.

The open book represents the Bible, on which the teaching of the School is founded. The four stars, which have eight points each, are silver, and represent the Southern Cross, taken from the Arms of the Diocese of Sydney, New South Wales, in which the School exists. The Torch of Life refers to the motto.

The colour of the scroll, on which the motto is printed, is heraldically immaterial, and can be shown in any colour which exists in the badge. The U in "tradunt" is printed in the old form of V.

I hope I have shown in the above the "why and wherefore" of the School Arms, and would like to conclude with a few suggestions :

1. The School Arms (badge) are heraldically correct, in contradistinction to many Australian schools, and worthy of a great School. We should be proud of them because of their age, tradition and significance. Therefore, to avoid future confusion and possible copying, I would most strongly suggest that they should be registered with the College of Heralds, and/or a copyright obtained.

2. The "die" for official paper should be re-cut, so as to show the true colours when printed heraldically.

3. The cover of the "Torch-Bearer" should be of heavy, glazed white paper, with the Arms printed in colour, but more artistically than appears at present.

I hope you will print this letter in the "Torch-Bearer," as it has taken me many years to obtain the above facts, which are, to the best of my knowledge, absolutely correct.

With all good wishes to the School,
Your sincerely,

RUPERT PALMER.

P.S.—A. W. Crisp & Co., 16 King's Parade, Cambridge, England, has a copy of the School Arms, and paints them on oak for about 10/- to 15/-. I give this address for the convenience of any Old Boys in England, or those who would like to write for them. Naturally, I have no interest in this firm.—R. P.

The Council are already interesting themselves in the matter. We believe Mr. Palmer is erring when he says the badge is heraldically correct. When Mr. Dixon was in London on one occasion he submitted the badge to the Heralds' College, and was informed that it could not be registered in its present form: though he was shown a modification of it that could.

JERVIS BAY.

On Friday, June 20, in the early hours of the morning, the members of the 3rd XV., with Mr. Mander Jones, assembled at Central Railway Station en route for the Naval College, Jervis Bay. We arrived in Nowra for lunch after a pleasant train journey, some playing bridge (?) and other card games.

Lunch over, we left in the College bus, several chaps finding the road decidedly rough. Everybody was struck by the wonderful view of the College and Bay when nearing our destination. We were also very much impressed by the "best planned town of the Southern Hemisphere," Pacific City. [Editor's Note.—For the benefit of the uninitiated, we would remark that Pacific City consists of several fine parks, numerous well-made roads with sign-posts attached, somewhat lost in luxuriant pasture, and—one house!]

On arrival, we were shown the dormitory which we were to occupy during our stay; and it was decided to have a short practice for about half an hour before tea. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a general inspection of everything in sight, and not a few things which were not in sight! After practice, we assembled for the evening in the Cadets' Mess, where we gained our first glimpse of the Royal Australian Navy in the making. Having messed, we whiled away the time until "Lights out!" by participating in more explorations, reading, and playing billiards on a table of vest pocket dimensions.

Next morning we turned out in time to witness the hoisting of colours, being impressed by the ceremony. After breakfast the team split up into groups, some walking round the shore towards the Heads with Mr. Mander Jones, others preferring to try and drown themselves in the lagoon with the aid of a leaking canoe, and the remainder fishing.

The match took place at 2 o'clock, resulting in a win for the College by 17 to 3, Chinnery scoring our only try. The match was a good one, very keenly contested during the second half. However, the Navy proved too strong for us. All the Thirds agreed that it was a most enjoyable match, mainly due to our opponents, who proved themselves such good sportsmen.

After the School match, two local teams played what proved to be a very even contest.

After tea, pictures were shown in the gymnasium, interspersed with community singing.

On Sunday morning a service was held in the gymnasium. We were very impressed by the singing of the cadets, of whom there were only about fifty, yet who sang as loudly as four hundred Shore boys in the School Chapel. The rest of the morning was spent in taking photographs and packing.

After an early lunch we left in the bus for Nowra, and arrived in Sydney at 5 o'clock after a very good week-end.

The team passes a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Mander Jones for the way in which he looked after us.

THE SONGS WE SING.

Those who have been present at Saturday night singing have made acquaintance with a mixed collection of songs, sea-shanties, folk-songs, and old songs of known origin. Nearly all owe their survival to their good tunes.

I shall say little of folk-songs: their history is a subject for the expert. One curious variety I would remark on—the counting song; “John Braddleum” is a familiar example. In songs of this type the verses were apparently composed extemporaneously by individual singers, and everybody joined in a well-known chorus. It might be regarded as a kind of game in which every man was bound to produce his verse—the Welsh have a custom of this sort known as penillion singing—but twelve seems to have been the accepted limit to the number of verses, as there are several of these songs all ending in “Number twelve,

If you want any more you can sing it yourself.”

Some old songs contain the forgotten and fossilised politics of remote generations. “The Vicar of Bray,” for example, is a gentle satire on the opportunist of the late Stuart and early Hanoverian periods. “Down Among the Dead Men” is a drinking song of about the same date, for government supporters: the man who refused the loyal toast would find himself on the floor among the “dead men”—which we would know better as “dead marines.” Many of the familiar Scottish songs, “My Bonnie,” “Charlie is My Darling,” and others, are inspired by Jacobite sentiment. Very few songs have survived from the other side; a notable exception is “God Save the King,” which was originally a Hanoverian supporters’ song. In earlier days, the man who hated James II. could express his feelings with

"Lillibulero," but this song is quite dead; you can find it, if you are curious, in Grove's Dictionary of Music. "Auld Lang Syne" is a very old tune; our version of the words is more or less due to Burns. But some of us know "There was a Presbyterian Cat." Now, in an earlier time, this cat was a Cameronian cat, for in the days of the godly discipline of the Kirk the Cameronians were the strictest of Presbyterian sects, and, naturally, an object of opprobrium to their less Sabbatarian neighbours. These songs plainly contain a mixed lot of political sentiment, but we can sing them all with equal enjoyment, for the issues they celebrated are history now and the old sores are healed up. Dead politics are very dead, but the fundamental human emotions remain very much the same, and any one of us can sing "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" as enthusiastically as any Elizabethan. The tune has lasted over three hundred years, but the sentiments are timeless; in fact, the poem is practically a straight crib from the Greek Anthology.

Sea-shanties form another interesting group of songs. The shanty differs from most songs in being a working song; that is, its object was to ensure a simultaneous application of effort in a concerted task. When a number of men are hauling on a rope, they must pull together to make the best use of their exertions. Songs of this type must be very old, but the ones we know are not. They date from the great age of sail—the nineteenth century—and came in coincidentally with the rise of the American Mercantile Marine. They were never used in the Navy, in the East India Company's service, or the early Blackwallers. The American origin of many of them is shown by the references to American localities, but they cannot all be American. The two commonest kinds of action which they had to accompany were the application of steady effort and the application of regular but intermittent effort. An example of the first is working at the capstan, of the second hoisting a yard by the halliards. Almost any tune would do for a capstan shanty, preferably one with a simple, regular structure. In a halliard shanty the shantyman generally sang a line or two, and then everybody came in with the chorus, at the same time putting on the work. A good shantyman could improvise verse after verse without hesitation, and his services were so valuable that on Sou' Spainers (ships trading to the East) men were signed on especially for the position. The recorded versions of both tunes and words often differ considerably, for they were originally not written down, and tunes learnt by ear insensibly acquired variations, while the words, except the choruses, depended on the taste and fancy of the singer. But towards the '90's of last century many people suddenly realised that, with the passing of sail, a whole treasure of interesting music was likely to be lost, and so they were hastily taken down while they were yet remembered. The true working song is dead now. The modern sailor does not need one for chipping paint : he does not reef icy sails on an unsteady footrope to the rhythm of "Paddy Doyle's Boots." There were real sailors in those days, even though some learned their trade under the fist and belaying-pin of the bucko mate—hence "Blow the Man Down," for "blow" is only an evasion of "knock." Those who wish to know more of shanties will find a good deal in the introduction to Terry's book.

Some of our best known songs owe their origin to the American Civil War. There are few songs better known than "Marching Through Georgia." This celebrates the greatest achievement of the Northern general, Sherman. The State of Georgia had been untouched by the ravages of war : it was the granary of the Confederacy. Sherman had captured Atlanta, an important railway junction with machine-shops which were vital to the South. From here he marched to the sea at Savannah, his army living on the country and destroying what it could not carry away, leaving a swath of devastation about sixty miles wide; the very rails were torn from the tracks, heated red-hot in fires of sleepers, and twisted round trees. This campaign dealt a mortal blow to the Confederacy.

As Sherman's army marched out of Atlanta its bands played "John Brown's Body." Now this tune was originally a negro hymn, as the chorus ought perhaps to remind us, and it dates from before the war. The original John Brown of the song was a recruit, perhaps an altogether imaginary recruit, about whose misadventures verses were made up and set to the tune; but the song was taken up by the Massachusetts men, among whom anti-slavery feeling was strong, and they associated the name with the abolitionist John Brown, who was hanged in 1859 for attempting to start a slave rebellion by seizing the United States arsenal at Harper's Ferry : so the words we generally use refer to him.

Another well-known song referring to the Civil War is "Kingdom Coming." The scene must be the Mississippi, for there along could the "Linkum gunboats" approach a Southern position from up-river. Many "tin-clads," as they were called, were built in the industrial regions of Ohio to form a fleet for the conquest of the river system. "Linkum" is, of course, Abraham Lincoln, the President. There is one curious phrase in the song which has a curious explanation. The song says of "the massa" :

"He get so drefful tanned,
I spec he'll try to fool dem Yankees
For to think he's contraband."

Now "contraband" was war slang for a black. At the outbreak of the Civil War many slaves ran away and took refuge in the Federal Camps. The abolition of slavery was not then the avowed issue of the war, and the owners claimed that their private property should be returned to them, but abolitionist officers claimed that as the labour of slaves would assist the Southerners in the prosecution of the war the slaves might be rightly regarded as contraband of war, and so liable to seizure.

But the subject is inexhaustible. A history of humanity could be written from its songs.

WHAT SHOULD CORDELIA DO ?

A DAUGHTER'S DESPERATE DILEMMA.

This young girl is up against a great difficulty. How shall she convince her father that she really does love him? And what is the proper attitude for her to adopt towards her elder sisters?

(By Theodora Trix.)

("Torch-Bearer" Copyright.)

Dear Miss Trix,

We are having such trouble in our family, I wonder if you could put it all straight for us! My father, who is very old, and; I am afraid, a little stubborn in his ways, had just retired from business at the time when two such nice young men were paying me a lot of attention. Father decided to split up his property among the three of us girls, but before he actually did so he asked us the most awkward questions. He wanted to know how much we loved him. My elder sisters are very gushing, and I am afraid they told him a lot of lies. I was so upset that I just couldn't follow their example, though I could see that it was annoying Dad terribly. Finally he lost his temper, said the most awful things to poor me, and turned me out of the house. One of the young gentlemen who was paying me attention went away and never came back, so I married the other. And father gave all his shares and property to the other two girls, who are now treating him most cruelly. I am afraid his reason is impaired by the cruel treatment he has received from them. I cannot get satisfactory news from my sisters, and I do not know what to do. I have no ill-feeling towards Dad for disinheriting me, and my husband is all that a girl could wish. What shall I do, Miss Theodora?

Yours anxiously,
CORDELIA FRANCE.

Dear Cordelia France,

My heart bleeds for you in your trouble. I, too, am one of those who cannot gush to order. I am afraid that I must agree with you that your father has been a foolish old man. Why is it that parents are so devoid of common sense? If only they would listen to those who are qualified to give advice! But your father has made his bed, and he has only himself to blame if it is not comfortable. I think your husband would not approve of your interfering in family affairs. After all, your father cast you off. He is probably annoying your elder sisters with his stupid ways, and it is they who are deserving of our sympathy. I do not see that you can do anything. Of course, it is a pity about the money; but I gather from the address on your letter that your husband is quite well off, so that doesn't really matter. I think you are quite a lucky girl.

THEODORA TRIX.

JEALOUSY!

A Marriage Problem.

There is a little rift within the lute of Desdemona's happiness. The tertium quid, as the old Greeks used to say, is showing his cloven hoof, and the green-eyed monster is gnawing at the heart of a scarcely faded orange blossom. Miss Trix solves the eternal question of the triangle of forecs matrimonial.

Dear Miss Trix,

My husband has developed the most extraordinary ideas. I wonder if you can tell me what I ought to do! I ran away from home to my wedding, and father was not at all nice in the things he said when he found out. I think he had some prejudice against my husband, who is a coloured gentleman, and a famous soldier. The trouble is, that though we were very happy after our marriage for a while, there has come into our lives what the movies call a sinister influence. My husband is becoming insanely jealous. Once he gave me an embroidered handkerchief, and when I lost it he made the most absurd fuss. And he seems to think that I am taking more interest in one of the officers of his regiment than a nice girl ought to. We had a dreadful scene to-day, and he said things for which he will be sorry when he is calmer. I dare not go out of my bedroom, for he is stalking up and down outside in the most terrible temper. O Miss Trix, what ought I to do?

Yours despairingly,

DESDEMONA.

Dear Desdemona,

I am afraid you have been rash and unwise. These sheiks are all very well in the pages of a novel or a play, but in real life they have their disadvantages. As Shakespeare or somebody says: "Not all the water in the multitudinous sea can wash the spots from the Ethiopian." They are always jealous, as I could have told you, dear, if you had only consulted me earlier. It is a pity that your father took it so badly, for you can hardly go back there now. I should recommend that you wait as patiently as you can, give your husband no real cause for jealousy, and he will soon get over it.

"THE TESTS."

The teams are now taking the field; the masters, under the captaincy of D.X.N., are quietly confident of success, while the boys under M.K.N.S.N. are eager to refute the storm of abuse and criticism which has been levelled at them for the past year. M.K.N.S.N. has won the toss, and is opening with M.R.S. B.G.T. has opened the bowling from the office end, and M.K.N.S.N. scores a single from his first ball. M.R.S. plays out the remainder of the over carefully, being determined to make no mistakes. L.S.T.R. now takes up the bowling from the laboratory end, and M.K.N.S.N. scores a four from his first delivery, which was easy. He repeated the performance next ball, but the third was a combination delivery which permutated in mid-air, and he was forced to return it to the bowler. The last ball was an easy definition, which he hit for a single, bringing him opposite B.G.T. Oh! well hit! Getting right on to B.G.T.'s first physical delivery, he clouted it over the laboratory for a beautiful six.

D.X.N. is evidently adopting shock tactics, as a change has been made in the bowling. B.R.N.W.S.K. has been brought on in place of L.S.T.R., and—oh! M.R.S. is out! The first ball was very tricky; the batsman failed to see the catch in it, and was beautifully caught by G.R.G.G. in the slips for a duck.

W.S.T.N. is now coming in—a very reliable batsman this. He is now proceeding to knock B.R.N.W.S.K. off his length, and he and M.K.N.S.N. are consolidating the position. They are particularly severe on L.S.T.R., and B.R.G.S.S. is making some great saves at the English position of silly point. The captain is now 96, and reaches the century with a brilliant four down the asphalt off the googly bowler, S.M.S. The next ball, however, was a wrong 'un, and M.K.N.S.N., failing to note it, was with Gallic brilliance stumped by the wicketkeeper, C.L.R.K.

The next batsman is S.B.S.T.R., and—C.L.N.C.H. has dropped it : a simple catch right into his hands at silly leg—but he missed it disastrously.

Sensation !

C.L.N.C.H. has returned a ball perfectly to the wicketkeeper, with W.S.T.N. yards out of his crease. Owing to unforeseen circumstances, however, the ball went over C.L.R.K.'s head, and the batsman raced to safety. W.S.T.N. reaches 98 with a very short single off M.N.K.T.N., whose bowling he treats cavalierly. He's out! G.R.G.G. makes a brilliant dive in the slips to take a classical catch and dismiss W.S.T.N. for 98, bringing his average for the season up to 95.2.

N.N.N. goes first ball—caught by C.L.R.K.; and the batsman coming in is C.R.W., apparently to knock M.N.K.T.N. off his length. He swings wildly at the first ball, and L.S.T.R. makes a glide at it, and, with a very nice catch, gives M.N.K.T.N. the hat trick.

H.L.S.T.D., a rather doubtful batsman, has taken up his stand at the wicket, and the position looks rather bad. The new batsman is displaying unexpected brilliance, though, and is hitting B.G.T. to all parts of the ground, including two sixers. The boys are showing great skill in detecting the weak points in the fieldsmen. Four snicks have just gone over C.L.R.K.'s head, while several landed at M.R.T.N.'s feet, where his vision was somewhat obstructed. M.K.N.S.N. closed the innings after the team had batted for three hours. Some seemed very anxious to continue, but the masters seemed unwilling. The result of their innings will be made known immediately after the holidays.

R. B. SPEIRS.

THE CADET CORPS.

As was anticipated, the response to the call for volunteers was exceedingly good, 201 being enrolled. Regulations fixed the enlisting age at anything over 14 years, but the School has made the age limit nearer 15. However, a few exceptions were made. It is gratifying to note that practically everyone of the required age has volunteered.

The Corps is organised into two companies, with four platoons in the senior and three in the junior company. There are approximately 22 boys in each platoon, together with six N.C.O.'s, each section containing five or six boys.

Last term almost all those who were in the compulsory cadets volunteered and attended N.C.O. classes. These now form the backbone of the Corps. In addition, eight boys attended a School of Instruction at Liverpool, going into camp for five days. These were H. G. Brown, R. F. Butcher, J. E. Dixon, J. M. Oldham, B. G. Rae, R. G. Row, P. C. Taylor, and T. C. Walker.

The new uniform of khaki with blue and white facings presents a distinctive appearance, and is well liked by all in the Corps. The belts issued for use with the uniform are of A.P. leather, and are both soldierly-looking and serviceable. The uniforms, being completed a little earlier than was expected, made it possible to have two parades before the end of the first term. New uniforms were issued to N.C.O.'s on Tuesday, May 6, and on that day an assembly parade was held, the N.C.O.'s being in uniform and the remainder in mufti. The remainder were issued with uniforms on the two following days, May 7 and May 8. On May 8 another assembly parade was held, all being in uniform, in order that the Headmaster might view the newly formed Corps before his departure for England. Brigadier Heritage honoured the Corps with an unofficial visit on this occasion, and expressed his pleasure at being present at the first parade of the new Corps. He seemed pleased with the new uniform, and also expressed his hope for the success of the Corps.

Although these were the only two full parades held in the first term, they were of great assistance in the organisation of the Corps. This was made apparent in the success of the first training parade held on June 6, the first Friday of the new term.

The following Officers and N.C.O.'s were on parade:—Captain E. M. Bagot, Captain E. Mander Jones, Lieutenant J. B. Burrell, Lieutenant G. H. Broinowski, and Sergeant-Major Davidson.

Acting-Sergeants H. G. Brown, R. F. Butcher, J. E. Dixon, E. J. Eastaugh, T. T. Halstead, J. A. Litchfield, D. M. MacDermott, F. Munro, J. M. Oldham, and T. C. Walker.

Acting Corporals N. L. Newman, B. G. Rae, R. G. Row, J. R. Sheaffe i., and P. C. Taylor.

Acting Lance-Corporals D. M. Cowlishaw, G. C. Cullis-Hill, J. W. Debenham, I. G. Esplin, J. D. Flashman, J. H. Goldfinch, F. L. Harris, N. De V. Hunt, G. R. Kierath, W. V. Lightfoot, E. H. Mitchell ii., B. R. Moodie, P. K. Oatley, M. V. O'Reilly, E. B. Petherick, A. F. Roberts, J. M. Scott, R. J. Sheaffe ii., C. R. Sinclair, G. W. Smith, R. H. Spring, R. T. Suttor, J. K. Thompson, L. H. Watson, and E. S. White.

Lieutenant Hawkins, A.I.C., has been attached to the Corps by Brigade Headquarters for instructional purposes, and has been engaged mainly in assisting in the training of the N.C.O.'s.

In addition, Lieutenant Kenna, Staff Corps, who was the instructor in charge of those who went to the Liverpool School of Instruction at Easter time, was present unofficially on this and a few subsequent parades, and rendered valuable assistance in the training of N.C.O.'s.

Arms and equipment were made available at an early date, and training was soon in full swing. The N.C.O.'s were divided into three squads, and there was an additional squad of boys training for N.C.O. rank. The parade was divided into three periods, and on each occasion most of the N.C.O.'s acted as instructors for one period, and all N.C.O.'s receive instruction for two periods. Also for one period the platoons were instructed by officers and Sergeant-Major Davidson.

The N.C.O.'s are rapidly improving in bearing, knowledge and ability to handle men.

The time so far has mainly been devoted to the training of N.C.O.'s, and recently to musketry in preparation for range practice, which was held for "A" Company at Chatswood on August 21.

The Corps also trained and provided a guard of honour to His Excellency the Governor on the occasion of the dedication of the memorial to Lieutenant Keith Anderson at Rawson Park, Mosman, on Sunday, July 27. This guard was mainly composed of the N.C.O.'s of the Corps, and was commanded by Captain E. Mander Jones. Lieutenant G. H. Broinowski was the Subaltern of the Guard, and Sergeant Halstead the Sergeant of the Guard.

The following is an extract from a letter received by the Headmaster from the Colonel Commandant, 8th Infantry Brigade (Colonel Norrie) : "I have been informed that the guard carried out its duties in a very creditable manner, and their smart appearance in their new School uniform was the subject of much favourable comment. It is worthy of mention that this is the first public appearance of any school guard of honour under the new voluntary system."

On July 11 a platoon competition for "A" Company was held. The competition was won by No. 4 Platoon, with Sergeant Eastaugh in command and Corporal Newman as platoon sergeant. A similar competition was held for "B" Company on July 18, but as there are only three platoons in the company the competition was for half platoons, the platoon commander taking the right half and the platoon sergeant the left half. The right half of No. 6 Platoon, under Sergeant J. Oldham, was the winner.

These competitions, of which more are to be held in the future, created much interest, and do much to bring up the efficiency of the Corps.

The buglers, under Mr. Debenham, are practising hard, and before long should prove a valuable adjunct to the Corps.

In addition to range practice, twelve two-hour parades were held during the term.

On August 5th, the following promotions were made:—Acting-Sergeant T. T. Halstead to C.S.M., "A" Company; Acting-Sergeant H. G. Brown to C.S.M., "B" Company; Acting-Corporal J. R. Sheaffe to C.Q.M.S., "A" Company; Acting

Lance-Corporal J. K. Thompson to Acting-Corporal; Acting Lance-Corporal L. H. Watson to Acting-Corporal; Privates R. Hislop, E. A. Utz, N. I. Falk, G. L. Newton, G. F. Walker, R. E. Makinson, R. M. Little, and R. B. Speirs to Acting Lance-Corporals.

This makes the total number of N.C.O.'s 48, all of whom are actively engaged in the training of the Corps, and themselves receiving further instruction. The N.C.O.'s ranks are at present only acting, as there has not been sufficient time for the finalising of examinations for confirmation, which are at present being carried out.

On Friday, August 8, a photograph of the officers and N.C.O.'s was taken. This photograph appears elsewhere in this issue.

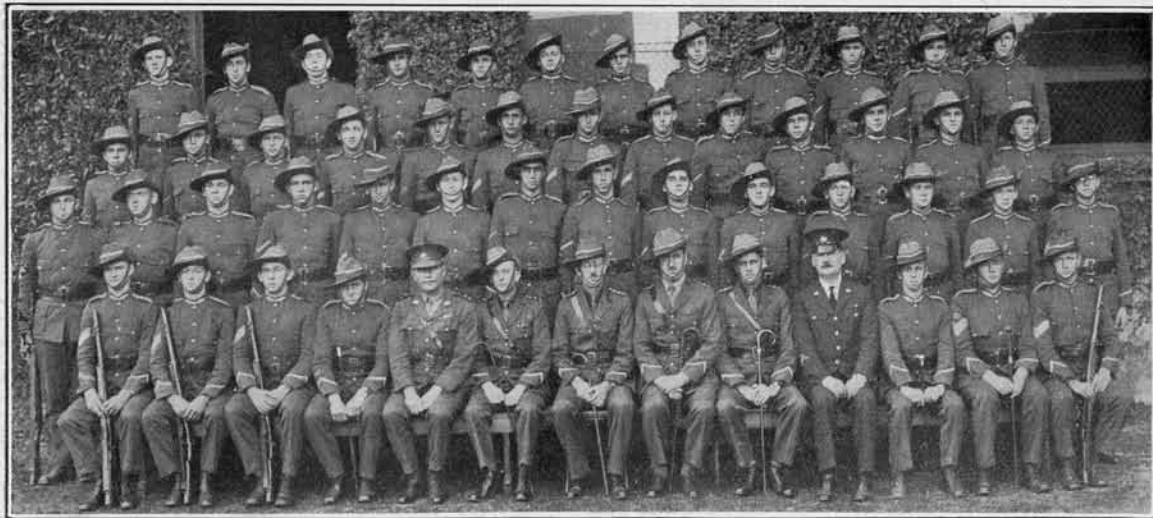

Toward the end of the term the first issue of khaki chevrons was replaced by an issue of gold ones, which are much more distinctive, setting off the uniform to much greater advantage.

In connection with the Corps, a Rifle Club is being formed, and will be affiliated with the Militia Forces' Rifle Club Union. The number of applications for enrolment is large, and the club should prove a great success. It will be carried on apart from but as a feeder to the School G.P.S. Rifle Team. Already the Corps has been represented by two teams in the first of this year's matches held by the M.F.R.C.U. on Saturday, August 2nd.

On Saturday, August 9, a team of four, under the command of a fire-director, who did not shoot, competed in a match to decide which corps should represent the School in the Empire Competition for the Earl Roberts Trophy. The team won, and will shoot on September 22nd. Full reports of these two matches appear under "Rifle Shooting."

The Headmaster has received the following letter from Colonel J. T. McColl, General Staff, 1st Division: "The commander of the 1st Division, Brigadier F. B. Heritage, C.B.E., M.V.O., desires me to convey to you and your rifle team his hearty congratulations on their win in the eliminating contest for the Earl Roberts Trophy, by which they will represent New South Wales in this Empire Competition. He is confident that they will do justice to themselves and credit to the State in the actual shoot on the 22nd September."

Under the new organisation, the control of Cadet Corps is in the hands of Formation. In this case this means 2nd Division, which has appointed the 8th Infantry Brigade as its representative; so it is to the 8th Brigade we look for all our requirements. Thus we have not entirely severed our connection with the Ernest Street Drill Hall, which Old Boys know so well, as the 17th Battalion is in the 8th Brigade. The 17th Battalion always rendered us every assistance in its power in the past, and our association with it has been one of which we are justly proud.

The work of organising and equipping the Corps has been much facilitated by the ready help of Division, Brigade, and Battalion. It appears that everybody in the Corps is keen and is enjoying the parades. After this year opportunity should come to all to become N.C.O.'s before leaving School. Those who have enrolled in their last year at School, and do not attain N.C.O. rank, can rest assured that they have done good service in helping to establish the Corps.

RIFLE SHOOTING NOTES.

Owing to the abnormal amount of wet weather, and to the unusually large number of senior football matches played on Saturday mornings of the term, the practices at Chatswood have been somewhat interrupted. In addition, rifles to replace those returned at the termination of compulsory training were not issued until June, so that no preliminary shooting had been done.

Following on Miniature Range Tests, seventy boys were tried out with the .303, and this number was gradually reduced to thirty, from whom the boys to attend Shooting Camp will be chosen. We are fortunate in having ten of last year's representative teams in this number.

On August 2nd we entered a team in both the "A" and "B" Grade Competitions held by the New South Wales Militia Forces Rifle Clubs' Union, the "A" Team gaining second place and the "B" Team third place. In the "A" Grade, W. R. Bucknell obtained the highest individual score; and in the "B" Grade, L. H. Watson secured the same honour. Each was awarded a handsome silver spoon. The teams were:—"A": Sheaffe (Captain), Bucknell, Esplin, Flashman, Hislop, Sutor, G. F. Walker, and T. C. Walker. "B": Pain (Captain), Hunt, Jeffreys, Lightfoot, G. Litchfield, Oldham, Sautelle, and Watson.

These matches were fired under the target conditions that came into vogue in Australia last year, in accordance with British Army amendments. The "small tin hat bull" is 7½ ins. in diameter, and the "inner" 18 ins., and the "large tin hat bull" 15 ins. The other circles are unaltered. The old 12 in. and 24 in. bulls are left as aiming marks.

This year the above conditions will apply in the G.P.S. matches. Scores at practice, at all of which these targets have been used, have been rather low, but lately there has been a decided improvement.

On August 9th a team of five represented the School at Long Bay in an eliminating contest to decide what Corps would represent New South Wales in the Earl Roberts Imperial Cadet Trophy Competition. The School team won comfortably by a margin of 26, scoring 259 out of a possible 320. The personnel of the team and the scores were:—G. F. Walker, 59; I. G. Esplin, 69; R. T. Suttor, 73; J. R. Sheaffe, 60; the highest possible score in each case being 80. The shooting was not good, but the conditions were unusual. There were four practices: five shots at 500 yards; five shots "fire with movement" from 500 to 100 yards; five shots rapid at 200 yards; and five shots snap at 200 yards. The School will represent New South Wales on September 22, when Cadets all over the British Empire will compete for the trophy.

It is proposed to extend the shooting activities of the School by the formation of a Rifle Club, which will be affiliated with the abovementioned Union. Considerable interest has been shown in the proposal, and over one hundred boys have applied for membership in the Club. This Club will be associated with the Cadet Corps. There will be no financial obligation attached to membership, the only stipulation being that a member must on three different occasions fire at least seven shots. Clubs such as this enjoy many privileges, and when our Club is formed we shall be able to reap considerable advantages.

On July 26th and August 2nd the House matches were held, the ranges being 200, 300 and 500 yards. After a keen contest, School House won with a total of 358 points. Barry and Hodges were equal for second with 345 points, while Robson scored 336. The highest possible score was 420.

The House teams, with the totals, were:—School House: Litchfield (Captain), 93; Suttor, 90; Flashman, 87; Sheaffe, 88. Barry House: Bucknell (Captain), 91; Pengilly, 85; Oldham, 85; Watson, 84. Hodges House: Esplin (Captain), 88; Hislop, 87; T. C. Walker, 84; Moodie, 86. Robson House: G. F. Walker (Captain), 86; Sautelle, 88; Richardson, 80; Dixon, 82.

ROWING.

The day of heats provided good conditions for boat racing.

The Second Fours failed to come up to expectations. Their rating at the start was 33, but as they progressed down the course it dropped to 25. This slow rating failed to make any impression on the leaders.

The First Four commenced at 32, then dropped to 30; this rating was maintained throughout the course. Their leg and shoulder work was good, but the length was short; this was a disadvantage. However, they fought every inch of the way. King's, followed by St. Joseph's.

with Grammar third, proved too strong for them, and won by one length.

The first heat of the Eights was most exciting. The School got away to a good start, and led all the way until nearing the quarter-mile post from the finish, when Sydney High School challenged strongly. They drew level : from then on over the last 200 yards each fought the other, stroke for stroke, neither gaining any advantage; in that position they crossed the line.

The Finals.

Saturday morning promised ill; a strong southerly commenced to make the water unpleasant for rowing. As the day advanced the weather became worse. At the time of the race of the Eights there was a maximum of discomfort for all crews.

Positions at the start : Newington College, 1; St. Joseph's College, 2; Sydney High School, 3; Sydney Church of England Grammar School, 4.

The starter had a difficult time getting the crews away with a side wind; however, he managed to obtain a satisfactory start. N.C. and St. Joseph's, on the southern side, obtained a lead. Our Eight, rowing exceedingly well, gradually drew away from S.H.S. By this time the crews had reached the gasworks, where the full force of the wind was felt by all. At this point, the School crew put forth all their efforts and obtained a lead. At the mile mark they led by half a length, with S.H.S. second.

Passing Cabarita the pair were level, then S.H.S. gradually drew ahead. The heavy weather conditions told against our lighter combination, and a gruelling race over the last quarter mile resulted in S.H.S. crossing the line first, with St. Joseph's a close second, and our crew in third place. They rowed splendidly throughout.

The results of the heats and finals are as follows:—

We take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Martin for his capable help in driving the crews in the School 'bus to and from the Shed, also for his coaching of the Third Four.

They were a powerful combination, and did not meet with the good fortune they deserved. Mr. Robinson did yeoman's service at Berry's Bay, his crews responding in fine spirit: the 4th and 5th secured splendid wins.

In conclusion, we desire to thank the many friends who have taken interest in our work; Mr. and Mrs. Purves and H. Muston, Esq., for cases of fruit; — Hall, Esq., for the loan of his projector and screen; Newman, for taking moving pictures of the 2nd and 3rd Fours. Also the Old Boys, who have turned up with unabated zeal, and by boating two crews to pace the Eight and Fours, have given us valuable assistance. Likewise North Shore Rowing and Mosman Clubs helped us in sending crews to pace ours. We appreciate this attention from them.

The Shed offers congratulations to the Captain of Boats (A. H. Munsie) for the efficient way in which he carried out the onerous duties of that position. He was ably backed up by his committee; in this connection the work of J. St. V. Welch, stroke of the Eight, was of inestimable value.

This year the Dance Funds gave us welcome help in providing a bread crock and thirty enamel mugs for the Shed; in addition to which a gift of a sum of money from the same source helped to defray the expenses of the Camp.

TENNIS.

Our School team commenced the year well by winning the G.P.S. tournament, which was held in May last.

In the eliminating rounds we defeated Newington College and Sydney Grammar School. In the upper half of the draw The King's School were successful. After a keen struggle, we defeated The King's School in the final by eight sets to four. Our team played well, but the play of MacDermott, Falk and Litchfield i. calls for special mention.

Our Junior team were not so successful, but succeeded in reaching the final round, in which they were defeated by The King's School. Rosengarten, Cruttenden, Roberts, Henning, Wood i. and Wood ii. represented the School in the Junior division; whilst MacDermott, Falk, Litchfield i., White, Barnes and Harding formed our Senior team.

Although considerably delayed by wet weather, the School tournament is now in full swing, and the Committee hopes to complete it before the end of the year.

The following were the scores in the final of the G.P.S. tournament:—

FOOTBALL.

RETROSPECT.

The First's forwards showed very fair form throughout the season. An even pack in weight, speed, and general ability, their worst faults were occasional high tackling and leaving the job to the other man. By mid-season they were backing up well, and had developed their ruck-ing, handling, and team sense. There was little off side play on the whole, and that little was due primarily to ignorance rather than dishonesty.

The backs suffered from the lack of a versatile five-eighth, one who could defend as well as attack. Several players were tried for the position, but despite their honesty they could not fill the bill. This led to much outside waste, and some apparent playing out of position. It is interesting to note that the State selectors have plenty of good backs at present, but are in a predicament with regard to the five-eighth position.

The slowness of our halves militated against our scoring chances, and even when the ball was cleared, bad handling spoilt promising positions; this is after allowing for our opponents' "spoiling." Members of a 1st XV. should have very definite ideas on one-handed giving and taking passes, tackling the man with the ball, taking the ball on the full, etc.; the finesse will come later. The backs gradually developed a back-up and come-through, and really good unorthodox scoring moves resulted, notably against Grammar, Armidale, and in the first half against The King's School. On these occasions perfect understanding with the forwards (who were never sufficiently strong to be exploited solely) saw the team "moving" without hesitation. Three-quarters cannot emulate the mushroom, and, just as a hurdler trains for months (and years) to acquire finish, so must aspiring backs specialise for seasons to be consistently successful, or at least consistent.

In the majority of games the team fought on against great odds—wound, large margins, the wind, and better footballers—yet they were to be found in their opponents' "25" in the closing stages. This is a good test. Moreover, every individual practised with great enthusiasm, and these two facts, keenness and tenacity of purpose, have in themselves made the game worth while, and serve as a good augury for the future. The lower teams have done well, particularly the 2nds under Mr. Martin and Junior "A" under Mr. Eldershaw. Some promising material is showing up here, and the "Prep." teams also have more than held their own.

We congratulate St. Joseph's on their excellent form throughout the season and a well-earned Premiership.

G. A. F.

CHARACTERS OF THE TEAM.

- Halstead (Captain—centre three-quarter). Would have been better suited on the wing. Strong runner and tackler, but unreliable handler. Played with dash until an injury slowed him up. Our one back who might have penetrated good defence. With more experience would become a good captain.
- Munro (Vice-Captain—front row forward).—Splendid place kick, and a good line-out man. Did not tackle sufficiently or use abnormal pace to advantage. Off side play a menace.
- Bourke (lock).—Played with 1sts in middle of season, and showed up as a good forward. Hard worker and safe tackle. Will do well next year.
- Higgs (five-eighth).—Light, but game, fast off mark, and served a good pass. Kept outside backs bright until injured. Not rugged enough for the position.

Boughton (wing three-quarter).—A deceptive runner, with a turn of speed and a good swerve. Only fair in defence, but with age and confidence should do well.

Cowitchaw (break-away).—Better in open than rucks; good hands. Tackled low and hard, and should do well next season.

Kierath played a few games. Good in loose, and fine hands; excellent kick, but must go low. Must overcome this weakness to do any good.

Cullis-Hill (five-eighth and inner centre).—Was played in former position for sound defence. Far too slow off the mark, and not sufficiently enterprising in a position difficult to fill. A very fair kick; light, but solid tackler.

Ifould (wing).—Played well until injured. Fast in first ten yards, and later; good kick, good handler, but served a bad pass (off wrong leg). Tendency towards useless kicking.

Scott (breakaway).—A good, honest, hard-working forward; strong tackler, and always with the play. New to break-away position, but a very useful player.

Taylor (wing).—A fast, powerful runner, with a good swerve and great scoring potentialities. Unsafe hands, slow off mark, and lack of idea of position very serious weaknesses. Tackled low and with determination on occasions. Should do well next year.

Litchfield (half-back).—An honest, hard worker, but too slow for the position. Very game tackler, and always with the play.

Goldfinch (break-away on the blind).—Played well throughout season. Good football sense; better in open than rucks. Fairly fast, and developed tackling, though a light forward.

Gowing (second row).—Heavy, fast forward. Followed up well, but spoilt good work by tackling high. Useful in line-out. With more experience and "ginger," will do well next year.

Rae (full-back).—Although inexperienced, developed his kicking, tackling, and taking. Slow to anticipate. Too slow for the position.

Holmes (centre forward).—Raked well throughout season; hard worker; not always off feet for tackle; good dribbler.

Newton (front row).—Light forward, but game. Good worker; better in ruck than open. Solid tackler; slow.

Muston (second row).—Promising forward; new to the game. Good dribbler, and useful in rucks. Developed quickly, and should do well next year.

S.C.E.G.S. v. T.A.S.

Competition match, played at Northbridge on Saturday, June 14, 1930.)

Armidale, running down field, sent the ball out from the kick off, and from a pack they took the ball into Shore's twenty-five. They continued to attack strongly, until Shore were awarded a free in front of the posts; Shore relieved with a long kick, but Armidale took the play back to our territory, Munro again clearing with another free.

The backs then worked right up the field in a passing rush, and from a ruck Litchfield came round the blind side and in-passed to Goldfinch, then to Cullis-Hill, who kicked a brilliant field goal. Armidale attacked again, but failed to put over a free awarded on the twenty-five line.

Munro, Goldfinch and Moodie worked the ball back to Armidale territory with a dribbling rush, but Armidale brought the ball round well, attacked hard across field, and scored.

Shore was not getting the ball at all from the lines out, but was far superior in the packs, while her ruck work was good. We had several attempts at penalty goals, but failed each time, as the ball was inclined to be wet and heavy.

At half-time the score was 4-3 in Shore's favour.

On resuming, Shore reverse kicked, but Armidale relieved; then Halstead brought the ball across field and in-passed to Ifould, but Armidale again took the ball back to Shore's twenty-five. Armidale was still getting the ball from the lines out, but Shore was attacking again and again, until from a line out in Armidale territory the ball went out to the Armidale winger, Mottershead, who made a magnificent run right up the field and passed in to the outer centre, who scored near the post. Halstead was there to take his man, but the others were too fast for our three-quarter line.

Shortly after this, Moodie took the ball right into Armidale territory in a fine effort, and the ball went out near the corner post. Shore was attacking desperately, and from a five yards scrum Litchfield dodged round the pack on the open side and dived over. With only a minute or two to go, Taylor did a side line sprint to within ten yards of the Armidale line, and then from a scrum Litchfield worked the blind side, and Taylor went over. Shore three-quarters again staged several attacking moves, but excellent tackling by T.A.S. backs kept them out. Armidale attacked, but Munro relieved, and the full time whistle went.

The most pleasing feature of the match was the strong finish put in by the Shore XV., in contrast to the way in which they used to fall away last season.

Scores: Shore, 10; Armidale, 6.

S.C.E.G.S. v. S.J.C.

(Played at Northbridge on Saturday, June 21, 1930.)

Shortly after the kick off Shore was awarded a free. Halstead kicked, and the line umpires signalled a goal, but the referee disallowed it. Soon after this incident, St. Joseph's crossed Shore's line. Then Taylor and Watson took the ball into the opponents' territory, but St. Joseph's responded strongly and their five-eighth scored, the try being converted. They attacked again almost immediately, and went over for the third time. Then Shore attacked, and Halstead nearly scored; but the St. Joseph's defence was too solid. From the twenty-five Mitchell attempted a field goal, but the ball went away to the right.

Our packing was again proving good, but the lines out were extremely weak, St. Joseph's getting the ball practically without exception. Rae was kicking well, but the forwards were not taking their men, thus giving St. Joseph's an advantage that told, for Shore was continually throwing away ground which she had gained by hard fighting.

After half-time play moved up and down the field, until St. Joseph's scored again in the corner, and converted with an excellent kick.

From the kick off Goldfinch fought through to the St. Joseph's twenty-five, but there was not a man there to back him up, and play returned to the Shore twenty-five. The ball went to the St. Joseph's full-back, who put over a magnificent field goal from fifteen yards outside Shore's territory and across to the left.

By this time Shore's forwards were breaking through from the lines out really well, Gowing and Scott in particular working hard; but St. Joseph's were too strong, and scored twice more before the final whistle went.

Full time scores were:—S.J.C., 26; Shore, nil.

S.C.E.G.S. v. S.H.S.

(Competition match, played at Northbridge on July 12, 1930.)

Shore kicked off, but High relieved to the half-way again, and from a pack Shore started moving nicely; but a High back intercepted and scored between the posts. No convert.

High again attacked, but Cullis-Hill relieved with a neat little kick round the blind side. They again pressed, but Litchfield twice lightened the pressure by ducking round the packs and getting the ball out to his three-quarter line.

Shore was attacking and beginning to show promise of something to come, when the half-time whistle sounded. After the interval, however, they again dropped passes at critical times. Cullis-Hill was again outstanding for his solid tackling, and his handling improved, while Halstead and Higgs were the better of the backs.

In the second half, play for the most part went backward and forward in the middle of the field, until a High man got the ball from a dropped pass and did a magnificent run to score again between the posts. Shortly after this, High again went over from a pack on Shore's line. They converted this, and the score was still 11-nil when the final whistle blew.

High's fast in-centre was particularly good, and left Shore backs standing. Shore forwards won their share of the ball, but the backs fumbled frequently when scores seemed imminent. It was scrappy football.

S.C.E.G.S. v. S.G.S.

(Competition match, played at Weigall Ground on July 15, 1930.)

From the kick off Shore attacked strongly, Higgs twice breaking through and nearly scoring; but Grammar relieved with three free kicks. Grammar attacked in their turn. Rae got out of difficulties with a good line kick, but they dribbled down to Shore's line again, as Taylor would not go down on the ball, and from a ruck the Grammar half, Cocks, ducked round and scored by the post. No convert.

Almost immediately after this the ball went right out along the back line from a ruck to Taylor, who threw a long in-pass to Halstead, who, gathering well, went over. No convert.

Shore attacked again, Munro breaking through from a line out and passing to Goldfinch; all the backs then handled the ball, the movement being finally checked right on the Grammar line. Play went back to half-way, but Halstead dribbled through again and passed to Taylor, who took the ball to the Grammar twenty-five. From there Halstead passed to Broughton, who was brought down within inches of the Grammar line. The scores at half-time were 3 all.

Shortly after the resumption, from a line out outside Grammar's twenty-five the ball went out to Taylor, who scored easily. Munro converted.

Up to this stage of the game Shore's forwards had been getting the ball from every scrum, ruck, and line out practically without exception, thus giving the backs plenty of excellent opportunities, which they made the most of; but in the second half they were not quite so successful, though they continued to play hard. Stone was doing excellent work for Grammar.

Grammar then appeared to be away, but Halstead intercepted and saved the position. Goldfinch dribbled the ball to half-way, but Grammar kicked, followed up, and, the ball bouncing right, picked up and scored between the posts and converted.

Shore attacked again, and Rae made a splendid attempt at a field goal, but the ball went a little away to the right. Grammar then attacked, and play was working up and down Shore's goal line until a free was awarded, and Munro cleared. Grammar got away and appeared certain to score, but Boughton did a splendid tackle and Munro cleverly intercepted the in-pass and turned the Grammar movement into a Shore attack. Shore was still trying grimly to pierce Grammar's defence with attack after attack.

Shore had played finely throughout, and the honours of the game decidedly went to them. The backs were more consistent, and the team made a sustained effort. Goldfinch was Shore's most outstanding player. Scott and Higgs also shone out.

S.C.E.G.S. v. T.K.S.

(Competition match, played at Parramatta on July 19, 1930.)

Shore kicked off and gained ground, but King's put the ball out. They then dribbled up to our line, where Halstead cleared; but from a scrum the ball went to The King's winger, who scored in the corner. No convert.

Immediately after this, King's attacked again, and, from a line out in Shore's territory, Lord, King's big inner centre, scored. The try was converted.

Then Shore was awarded a free kick right on the half-way line. Munro placed the ball for a penalty goal, and did a fine kick, which just grazed the post—on the wrong side. Right on top of this he was given another chance about ten yards inside of half-way, and this he put over with a magnificent kick.

Rae attempted a field goal, and just after the drop out another free was given to Shore not two feet from the side line and well outside The King's twenty-five. Munro again did the trick. This gave Shore fresh vim.

King's then commenced to attack again, and missed a couple of certain tries through holding on to the ball too long.

Then came the tit-bit of the match. From Shore's side of half-way a fine movement, characterised by quick passing and splendid handling, was set going. The ball was handled by every back in turn; then it was reversed to the forwards, to Scott, to Gowing, to Goldfinch, to Holmes, to Boughton on the wing, who went over between posts and side line. The movement was brilliant, and Shore led, 11-8. Munro converted. Just before half-time King's, who were now attacking strongly, crossed our line, one of Shore's forwards failing to go down on the ball, again to even the scores.

After half-time a most disappointing slump was witnessed. Shore rallied a few times, while King's registered several tries. They first scored three right by the posts, all of which were converted, as a result of their five-eighth and inner centre coming through. Their half, Barron, played cleverly to score on the blind. Shore then attempted to attack in the second half, but King's relieved, and then scored themselves. They managed two more tries before the final whistle blew.

Shore seemed to suffer from a disability to start any movement going. The King's forwards crowding their backs. As in the High match, Shore forwards were not going for their men, thus allowing them to break through, whilst Barron and Lord were far too clever.

The final scores were:—The King's School, 35; Shore, 11.

S.C.E.G.S. v. S.J.C.

(Competition match, played at Hunter's Hill on July 26, 1930.)

Play was even for ten minutes, when St. Joseph's crossed our line. Rae attempted a field goal without success; then St. Joseph's were over again, due to faulty tackling on Shore's part. They converted.

Shore was defending desperately, and formed a double rank for a line. When the ball came in, however, a Shore forward knocked back, and a St. Joseph's forward went over. After another try and convert Mitchell was caught shepherding, and a penalty goal was registered against Shore.

Before half-time St. Joseph's had time to score twice more and convert. Both tries were due to intercepts between Shore's outer centre and wing.

Shore had been awarded several frees which should have been put over, but Munro continually failed to allow for the breeze which was coming across the ground.

Shortly after half-time Holmes was tackled heavily, and was unconscious for some time; St. Joseph's had time to score ten more points before he again took the field.

The succession of tries, due to brilliant individual work, continued, and St. Joseph's registered four more with converts before the final whistle went, several of which started when Shore was in their territory. The last try was most remarkable. Shore attacked, but from a line out one yard from the St. Joseph's line they got the ball to their backs, who scored.

It was not that Shore played so very badly: St. Joseph's were just overwhelmingly superior in every department of the game. Shore's backs were outplayed and outclassed during the whole match, but her forwards rallied a little in the second half.

The St. Joseph's team was brilliant individually, and this, with natural football brains, made their team work a pleasure to watch—and difficult to play against.

Final scores:—St. Joseph's, 57; Shore, nil.

S.C.E.G.S. v. N.C.

(Competition match, played at Northbridge on July 30, 1930.)

Shortly after the commencement, with Shore attacking, a Newington back did a smart intercept in the middle of the field and scored by the posts. Converted.

Then Shore was awarded a free on the half-way line, but Munro failed to put it over. Immediately afterwards he attempted a long field goal, but it dropped short. Shore attacked, but Newington intercepted and would have scored but for a neat tackle by Rae.

A few minutes later, from a ruck in the centre of the field the ball went out to Taylor, who did a good line run, and then cut in to score between the posts. Converted. The score was still 5 all at half-time.

Newington's five-eighth, a fast, strong runner, started off brilliantly in the second half with a really fine field goal, and he followed this up by a very clever dodging run to score between the posts. Converted.

Play remained in mid-field for some time after this, with Newington attacking more than Shore. They had time to score again—another good movement characterised by quick and frequent passing—and convert before full time.

Newington was on the offensive in the second half. Goldfinch was conspicuous amongst Shore's forwards.

Full time scores:—Newington College, 17; Shore, 5.

S.C.E.G.S. v. S.I.C.

(Competition match, played at Northbridge On August 9, 1930.)

From the kick off Riverview attacked with a good dribbling rush, but Shore cleared. The ball then went out to Halstead, who cut in well; but Riverview relieved with a long kick. They followed up, and Moses got away; Litchfield brought him down solidly, but he wriggled over the line to score. No convert.

Riverview attacked again, and got the ball back from a line out. They fumbled, however, and Gowing, breaking through, cleverly took the ball at the toe to half-way, where Shore was awarded a free. Munro kicked, but the ball dropped short; he then attempted a field goal, with the same result. At half-time Shore was attacking.

In the second half play remained in mid-field for some time. Then Riverview attacked, but Shore prevented a score by solid tackling.

From a line out Holmes returned to Taylor, the winger, who had a clear run; but the ball had not been thrown in five yards, and play was brought back.

Shore then commenced to launch attack after attack in an attempt to equalise the scores, but the backs could not break through. Riverview played right on top of Shore's centres, and this, together with Ifould's (five-eighth) over-drawing his man, nullified our efforts. Had Halstead (nursing an injury on the wing) relieved Boughton of the centre position, we probably would have broken the defence. Shore forwards won the ball consistently from lines out, scrums and rucks, but the backs repaid their efforts badly. The bell went, and Shore, in trying to keep the ball in play, lost control, Riverview scoring near the corner, to make it 6-nil.

(Competition match, played at Northbridge on August 16, 1930.)

From the kick off Shore fumbled, and the ball went out in her own twenty-five. Almost immediately afterwards Scots' were awarded a free kick, which they put over.

A kicking competition between full-backs went on for a few minutes, then Scots' attacked again with a nice passing rush; Cullis-Hill nearly brought off the intercept, but the Scots' winger got the ball and scored between the posts. Converted.

Cullis-Hill did a side line run, but was tackled, and Scots' converted the movement into an attacking one, from which they scored and converted. They then attacked again, and scored just before half-time.

On resuming, Shore attacked strongly, but failed to put over a "free" awarded near the Scots' twenty-five. However, they launched attack after attack in really fine style, Goldfinch and Cullis-Hill featuring. Higgs did a clever dribbling movement to the Scots' twenty-five; then play worked back to Shore's territory, where the tit-bit of the match—from Shore's point of view—occurred. Wenden, Higgs, and Ifould dribbled the ball right down field in magnificent style, and as they crossed the Scots' line Higgs fell on the ball to score. No convert. Shore attacked once more, but suddenly the Scot's backs got working again and scored twice before the end, converting one.

Shore's backs had been playing more like a team than previously this season. Shore certainly had the honours of the second half, although Scots' scored two runaway tries just on full time.

Full time scores: Scots', 24; Shore, 3.

2nd XV.

The 2nd XV. has played good and consistent football throughout the season. We started training with a team in which there were none of last year's members, our recruits coming chiefly from last year's Junior "A" team.

As we hoped, we once again won our Competition.

to allow him to play at five-eighth;

Again the toll of injuries and replacements, rendered necessary by boys going to the 1st XV., has been very heavy, and the team has been represented by well over thirty players. The weight of the team was lighter this year than previously, especially in the backs. The forwards have played hard and consistent football, and seem to understand the game better than the usual 2nd XV. side. The backs have developed very much as the season has advanced, and should be of use next year.

It was found unnecessary to make any changes, other than replacements in the forwards. But the backs caused some difficulty. Bunnell finally filled the full-back position. Thompson was found too valuable in the outer-centre position to allow him to play at five-eighth; this position was finally filled by Roberts, who has steadily improved in every match. Buchanan, although very light, has played good and sometimes brilliant football; while Kierath has been a tower of strength in the forwards.

Thompson has captained the team well, and its success, in no small degree, is due to him. The forwards have been led well by Woodger and Kierath.

There is one feature of the play which is worthy of mention. The kicking of the team as a whole has been very much better this year than formerly, and although the actual number of points scored from kicking has been disappointing, it has been most pleasing to see backs, and even forwards, passing to one another by kicking during the match. On our own ground the team has, at the time of going to press, scored 50 points to nil.

The enthusiasm of the team has been excellent, and all members have obtained much pleasure and fun both from the practice days and the matches, and thus the main end of the sport has been realised.

The results of the Competition matches are as follow:—

- v. S.H.S. : Won, 18-0.
- v. T.K.S. : Won, 8-6.
- v. S.G.S. : Won, 8-3.
- v. S.J.C. : Lost, 13-0.
- v. N.C. : Won, 21-0.
- v. S.I.C. : Won, 15-0.
- v. T.S.C. : Won, 18-8.

3rd AND 4th XV.'s.

The season opened with bright prospects for both teams, but, unfortunately, continued wet weather early in the term hampered arrangements, and excepting the Old Boys' match on June 7, the first match to be played by the 3rds as a team was against the Royal Naval College at Jervis Bay. The team, with Mr.

Mander Jones in charge, spent a most enjoyable week-end, and despite the fact that we lost, the remembrance of the trip will last a long time. It is much to be regretted that there will be no more of these trips for the future 3rd XV.s, as they were always most popular.

The season was remarkable for the number of changes necessitated by injuries in all four teams: the 3rds and 4ths being doubly handicapped on the one hand by actual members of the teams being hurt, and on the other hand by the loss of players to higher teams. The backs especially of both teams suffered a great deal in this respect, as not a week passed without a change having to be made.

The Canberra Grammar School sent a XV. to spend a week-end (8th-13th July) with us. A good game was played on the Saturday against the 4th XV., the home team winning by a narrow margin. The visiting team was entertained by the members of the 4th XV., and on the Sunday Mr. Martin took both teams in the School bus for a picnic to Wiseman's ferry.

Both teams were unfortunate in losing the services of Mr. F. C. Funnell, who was incapacitated through illness in the middle of the season.

At the commencement of the term a new team below the 4ths was formed. This was called the Reserve XV., and was composed of those in their 1st House XV.'s who were debarred by age from the junior outside teams. The object of this XV, was to act as a feeder to the 3rds and 4ths, and to replace the casualties which it was expected would be as numerous as ever. That such a reserve is necessary is proved by the fact that ten of the original team played in either the 3rd or 4th XV's before the end of the season.

Although the teams were not always as successful as might have been hoped for, every member of either team was played hard, and thoroughly enjoyed the season.

We should like to take this opportunity of congratulating St. Joseph's College on their excellent performances throughout the season.

Results:—

JUNIOR FOOTBALL.

The Junior Football teams have done fairly well throughout the season. The "A" team, though it has not quite such a good record on paper as last year's team, probably attained just as high a standard of football skill by the end of the year. The team was unfortunate with regard to casualties, breaks robbing them of the services of three of the best men. Early in the season a good pack of forwards was developed, but it was only in the later stages that the backs reached the same standard. In the last games the backs were excellent, exceptionally fast for their age and clever in handling. In defence, they were somewhat weaker. A good full-back was badly missed. The forwards were very even, and their excellent defensive work covered the backs' weakness. Bourke ii. was exceptionally good as a captain.

The "B" team was hit worse by the loss of valuable men than the "A." Very good work, however, was done through the season, the forwards particularly reaching a good standard.

The "C" team lapsed badly in the middle of the season, but came on again at the end. In this team the forwards were very good, and individually most of the backs showed fine promise. They did not, however, mould into a really good team, on account of their poor handling of the backs, which was always due to a failure to concentrate sufficiently on the ball. With greater opportunities for practice next year, a fine team should be developed from these boys.

The "D" team had few opportunities, but some individuals gave promise. They were not together enough to develop team work.

PREPARATORY FOOTBALL.

REPORT ON 1930 SEASON.

The 1930 season has been a most successful one from every point of view. Perhaps the most pleasing feature is the way in which backs and forwards have listened to instructions given, and have, to the best of their ability, carried them out.

The 1st and 2nd XV.s especially have played remarkably good football, improving steadily throughout the season. Ten matches have been played both by 1st and 2nd XV.s, with two matches still to play. The 1st XV. have won six matches and have lost four, the points scored being: For, 141; against, 52. The 2nd XV. have scored 274 points as against 3 scored by opponents. These figures alone show the standard of football attained.

Especial mention should be made of the forwards of the 1st XV. They have combined excellently as a pack, both their ruck work and open play being excellent. Each member of the pack has been invaluable to his side, perhaps the pick of a very good lot being Travers, Ellis and Hannaford. The defence of the back division has been very good, but the attack has been at times faulty, Burke i. and Welch being the most consistent.

The 2nd XV. have won each match comfortably, the best being Burke ii. and Pronk ii.

The 3rd, 4th and 5th XV.s have also been very keen, and most successful. Some players, having shown great improvement, should form a strong nucleus for the 1931 season.

Results:—

1st XV.

- v. S.G.S.—Won, 38-0.
- v. Manly.—Lost, 11-9.
- v. Coogee.—Lost, 12-0.
- v. Mosman.—Won, 27-0.
- v. Mosman.—Won, 14-3.
- v. Ashfield.—Lost, 6-3.
- v. Manly.—Lost, 14-8.
- v. Coogee.—Won, 9-3.
- v. Manly.—Won, 12-3.
- v. Mosman.—Won, 21-0.

OLD BOYS' UNION.

The death of Lieutenant Basil Guy Jackson was noted in the last issue of "The Torch-Bearer." Fuller details are here recorded:—

Hon. Lieutenant Basil Guy Jackson.
Royal Indian Marine.

Died Greenwich Hospital, London, suddenly (angina pectoris), on Saturday, 15th

February, 1930; buried Shooter's Hill Cemetery, Greenwich, on Thursday, 20th February, 1930. Was on sick leave in London at date of death, and in the employment of Messrs. Turner, Morrison and Company, Bombay, as Captain in the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited; three years in command; total service with company, about ten years.

War Service.—Joined Royal Indian Marine in April, 1915, as temporary Lieutenant; served in Mesopotamia until February, 1916; joined H.M.S. "Lama," Red Sea patrol, in April, 1916; transferred to H.M.S. "Northbrook" and granted temporary Commission in Royal Navy, and served as watchkeeper, navigator, and executive officer in ships on East Indies Squadron till January, 1919; appointed Naval Transport Officer and Port Officer at Abadan, Persian Gulf, with rank of Lieutenant-Commander, in February, 1919, and served as such till October, 1919, when demobilised.

Mr. L. C. Robson wrote the following interesting letter from the s.s. "Ormonde":—

It may be of interest to the O.B.U. Committee to hear that some Old Boys met me in Adelaide and had me to lunch. It was extraordinarily good of them, and it was also highly delightful to encounter so much keenness among them concerning School affairs. Seven were there—as it was an odd week day, many would not come. I enclose a sheet bearing their signatures. They display enthusiasm over the idea of their annual dinner, which seems to be growing from year to year. Walker very kindly arranged for his wife to look after Mrs. Robson and Alastair. In general, they made our day in Adelaide very delightful. We have just rounded the Leeuwin, with much rolling, and tomorrow we get to Fremantle. My mouth watered in Melbourne at the sight of their new Hall; and again at St. Peter's, Adelaide, where the style of their new Hall is positively lavish. To-morrow I go to see Mr. Freeth at Guildford, and expect to be smitten with envy after seeing their Chapel. All good wishes to everyone from both of us.

The list of signatures is:—Reg. Walker, 1890-; L. G. Melville, 1914-18; William H. Sheppard, 1904-06;

R. T. Moodie, 1890-; Egerton A. North-Ash, 1905-; Rodney Robey, 1906-08; C. V. T. Wells, 1902-06; and L. C. Robson.

It is pleasing to see Mr. G. F. Allman again President of the New South Wales Musical Association. This is his third term in this capacity. He was President for the first time some six years ago.

Max Goddard has been appointed assistant manager of the Norwich Union Assurance Company. It is interesting to note that ever since the company commenced business in New South Wales there has been a Goddard in the position of either manager or assistant manager. We give him our best wishes.

Donald Blackwood is leaving Scotland for Australia at the end of August.

F. W. Edwards writes from Pindari, Inverell, which property, he tells us, was purchased in the name of W. T. Edwards Ltd. in 1927, and has been under his management since that date.

Mr. E. Lufft informs us that his son left for a trip abroad on 20th February last, and has so far visited New Zealand, Canada, and America, and is at present in London. He expects to leave Europe in September. Though the trip is mainly a business one, he is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

E. F. Harrison is now a Brigadier, and helping to maintain the high traditions (Scullino volente) of the Royal Military College, Duntroon. Gordon Macleod is also doing very well at this establishment.

Alan F. Kyle is now permanently in the Mandated Territory as a Patrol Officer. "Salamoa, New Guinea," is his address.

Dick Hipsley, having graduated in Engineering, left Australia on 1st July for England. He will be with the Metropolitan Vickers Electric Co. Ltd. at Trafford Park, Manchester, and will be away for two or more years.

Jack Herbert also obtained his B.E. at Sydney with 2nd class honours, and left for England on the s.s. "Bendigo" on 10th May to enter the Rugby Works of the English Electric Co. Ltd.

Mr. E. I. Robson, who has been consulted at various times on the early history of the School, and has proved, by his letters that his memory is still as keen as his love for the old School, writes from Oxford:—

I am glad to think that my memory wasn't condemned, though since the 26th March it seems to have deteriorated. I am afraid I couldn't take on that article about the origin of the Boat Club—it was really the origin of the Boat Club Camps. The scene was Gore's Creek; I suppose that is all improved away, and the solitary old prickly pear which grew there has been cleared off the face of the earth. I must try to do it some day, but my head is too empty at present!

A. Kingsford Smith, who was one of the prime movers in the Moree Dinner, is now practising on his own account as a solicitor at Moree.

F. G. Brooks, now on a three months' holiday in Sydney, writes telling of some of his experiences in Fiji, where he is stationed with the Colonial Sugar Company. He manifests a lively interest in the doings of the School, and declares that in that distant quarter even "The Torch-Bearer" is most welcome. Tennis, golf, and swimming are, he tells us, among the less noxious vices prevalent in those parts. Labasa, his home town, was severely damaged in a recent hurricane, which attained the Segrave-like speed of 130 m.p.h.

That the spirit of comradeship engendered in teams and crews does not end when they disband was strikingly illustrated by a function held on 14th December last, when the members of the winning "Eight" of 1928 gathered together, as they have pledged themselves from time to time to do, at Adams' Hotel. Those present were D. E. Woods, J. E. Read, D. K. Phillips, N. Carey, A. L. McKenzie, A. D. Hudson, and T. H. McDonald.

As J. C. Orr and Bob Miller, miles away in the bush, could not attend, telegrams were sent to them.

The eating and drinking were well up to standard, and a relish was added by speeches by "Navy" Phillips, "Huddo," and others. The plucky efforts of the 1929 Crew were loudly extolled.

The sparkling entertainment which the Theatre Royal then afforded rounded off a most pleasant evening.

C. C. Abel writes from Kwato, Samarai, Papua:—

The "Torch-Bearer" is always greatly appreciated. Seeing our only personal interest lies in what we glean from the O.B.U. Notes, this is rather remarkable. For instance, at morning tea this morning, from various members of the staff you would hear, "Hullo! old Scamell's going to get married!" "Which Bellingham is that?" "When will the tribe of Litchfield come to an end?" and so on. And to this, I suppose, it is up to me to provide the same bit of interest for others. My brother and I are both in the same "show" up here; so are my two sisters. We are doing educational and industrial work. Amongst the natives, though, our principal job is as missionaries. We are carrying on the work begun by my father forty years ago. After leaving Shore we both took our degrees at Cambridge, and started in here in 1927. We are now looking forward to our first leave in Sydney.

G. W. Sautelle has obtained his "A" Pilot's Certificate at the Aero Club, and Jack Plaskitt his "B" Certificate.

I. S. Penfold is at present travelling in Great Britain.

On 3rd May a highly successful G.P.S. function was held at Moree. This took the form of a dinner, which, from all accounts, was as bright and entertaining as the novel menu printed for the occasion.

It was pleasing to see some thirty-five Shore Old Boys present, giving the School a majority in numbers, if not in noise. The Shore Old Boys present were:—

Graeme Anderson, A. W. Brama, J. M. Bevan, J. Bucknell, Colin Bull, "Toby" Carver (Initials, please!), Les. Carver, W. R. Coates, D. Chauvel, Cyril Doyle, H. G. Doyle, Ritchie Doyle, C. D. Everingham, R. Fielding, J. K. Finley, H. C. Gunthorpe, B. Maurice P. Hickson, Geoff. Hobbes, Robert Hobbes, J. Hobson, Dr. F. L. Jones, R. R. King, J. M. Kitchen, R. Ledingham, R. Lance Manning, Geoff. Manchee, Ian McWilliams, H. R. Piggott, A. K. Smith (solicitor, Moree), B. Tyrrell, Reg. Thompson, Frank Tress, T. Tubb, J. Williams, and Wal. Williams.

Dr. R. H. Russell has, since the beginning of the year, been in practice at Broadmeadow. He tells us that he is rapidly becoming acclimatised, and hopes to get in touch with plenty of Old Boys in Newcastle.

J. H. Grutzmacher is now in partnership with Mr. Quinn, junr., in Quinn & Grutzmacher's Property Exchange at Bondi Junction.

J. C. Jaeger, B.Sc., Barker Graduate Scholar in Mathematics of Sydney University, has obtained a first class in the Mathematical Tripos (Part II.) at Cambridge University, and has been awarded the Mayhew Prize as the most distinguished graduate in applied mathematics. He entered Trinity College two years ago, and is now a senior scholar of the College.

ADELAIDE DINNER.

J. R. Barter writes under date of 1st May, 1930:—

I telegraphed you yesterday morning as follows:

“Old Shore Boys in South Australia assembling to-night send-greetings and best wishes for to-night’s function”; and am attaching copy of the manu, from which you will note the following were present:—Walker, C. S. M.; Wells, C. V. T.; Walker, Reg.; Sheppard, W. H. (Chairman); Scott, E. K.; Robey, R. K.; Pritchard, A. G.; Mocatta, C. H.; Moodie, R. T.; Horn, J.; Fox, A. G.; Barter, J. R. (Hon. Secretary).

Apologies were received from Messrs. A. H. Evans, D. F. Ferguson, J. Holden, R. Moodie, L. G. Melville, Rev. E. A. North-Ash, and E. M. Warron.

A telegram conveying greetings was previously sent to Mr. J. K. McNamara, an Old Boy residing at Nunjirkompita, some 450 miles west of Adelaide.

The enclosure gives the names of those who delivered speeches; and at the conclusion of these the Hon. Secretary was instructed to make preliminary enquiries with a view to arranging some annual function; to be attended by any Old Boys of the Great Public Schools of Victoria and New South Wales who may be residing in South Australia.

Mr. C. V. T. Wells was elected chairman for next year’s function.

After dinner, those present were entertained by Mr. A. G. (“Jerry”) Fox (who leaves shortly for England) at his delightful home at Marybank, on the Adelaide foothills.

For your information, I am attaching hereto revised list of Old Boys resident in South Australia; this is positively complete, so far as fairly extensive enquiries can make it.

Yours truly,

J. R. BARTER,
Hon. Secretary.

MELBOURNE DINNER.

T. C. Boehme writes under date of 13th June, 1930:—

I received your letter of the 6th inst. asking for particulars of our last Dinner here, and must apologise for not having let you have this before, but I thought the next “Torch-Bearer” was not due for publication for some time and that, therefore, there was no great hurry about the matter.

This year, I had a great deal of assistance in the arranging of the Dinner from V. D. Watson, who gave up a lot of his time in making personal calls and telephone calls on a great number of those Old Boys whose names were on our list, and as a result we were able to entice along some who had not been present on previous occasions.

Unfortunately, we had already decided on the date on which the Dinner was to be held, and sent out notices to that effect before we realised that the 21st May was right in the middle of the School holiday here, and consequently Messrs. C. R. Franklin, R. P. Franklin, and C. Kaepfel, who are all Masters at Melbourne Grammar, were unable to be present. This was most unfortunate, but we will take good care that next year the date will not occur during School holidays. Others who replied to our circular, but were unable to attend through various reasons, were:— Dr. E. O. Mills, Brigadier-General E. F. Harrison, G. W. Ramsden, M. C. Cox, Rev. C. J. Nash, A. B. Adams, H. P. Ankerson, D. Esplin, L. H. Lemaire, and J. Addison.

However, we assembled in due course at the Hotel Windsor, and found that we were eleven strong, those present being:— G. Barton Browne, Geoff. Deane, C. Deane, N. K. Gilfillan, A. E. Knox, T. W. Smith, F. G. Spiller, V. D. Watson, W. M. Vider, T. J. Hudson, and myself. T. J. Hudson is one of the very early members of the School, his number on the Register being somewhere between 30 and 40; and he also took an application for Membership, which I hope has been duly sent on to you. His address is 42 Kensington Road, South Yarra.

The Dinner itself was a very successful affair, and everyone enjoyed it very much, and after the business of eating was done a lot of discussion took place as to how we could gain a little publicity. An opportunity occurred a week or so later, when the "Herald" published a letter with reference to the formation here of an Association of Old Boys of Sydney Grammar. This gave me an opening, and the enclosed cutting from the "Herald" of two days later gave us a good deal of publicity. As a result of it, I received a call from Mr. Burrett, who is acting as secretary and organiser of a dinner to be held on 2nd June, and I have received from him an invitation to be present at that function as the representative of Shere.

It is possible that at that dinner some scheme may be put forward for the formation of an Association in Melbourne of Old Boys from all the New South Wales Public Schools, and perhaps quite a big Association may result from it. Anyhow, I will attend, and let you know of any ideas or schemes which may be put forward.

I think that in future the arranging of this Annual Dinner will be carried out by V. D. Watson and myself in conjunction. Watson is an Old Boy of only about three or four years' standing, and is very keen indeed; he has been a great help in making the function a success, and I am very desirous of maintaining his interest and assistance.

I must admit that we were rather disappointed that we did not have a bigger attendance this year. Two days before the function we felt sure of having sixteen present, and places were laid for this number, but at the last minute A. B. Adams, J. Addison, D. Esplin, and L. H. Lemaire could not be present, and our numbers were consequently much reduced. However, we have this year got far more Old Boys interested than ever before, and we are confident that next year we will be able to get at least sixteen to attend.

I am enclosing a copy of the very latest list of names and addresses. This was revised and added to at the Dinner, and is now right up to date, and supersedes all previous lists which I have sent you. Next year we would like to hold our Dinner a week or so before the Old Boys' Dinner held in Sydney, so that you could announce the holding of our Dinner at yours; so if you can give me any idea as to when the Sydney function will be held I would be grateful.

R. M. Saddington duly went to Western Australia about the middle of last year, and his address now is: C/o Colonial Sugar Refining Co. Ltd., Fremantle. We missed his enthusiasm and cheerfulness at the last Dinner very much, and are all sorry to have lost him.

I wish to thank you very much for all the assistance you have given me in the arranging of this and previous Dinners, and with best wishes to the School, the Club, and Old Boys from all those present,

I am, your sincerely,

T. C. BOEHME.

C. C. Marr writes from the Experimental Farm, Trangie:—

(The Editor.)

Dear Sir,

Just a few lines to notify you of my temporary change of address.

After leaving School at the end of 1926, I decided to go on the land, and undertook a three-year course of agriculture at Hawkesbury Agricultural College, where I graduated last year. On leaving College last year, I decided to pursue my studies further in sheep and wool, and am now situated at the above Farm for a period of twelve months to gain more practical experience.

W. Hicks is also doing the same course, after having completed a course at the Wagga Experimental Farm, Bomen.

My Sydney address is: "Clutha," 34 Morton Street, Wollstonecraft.
