THE SERGEANT-MAJOR.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of that well-loved and faithful servant of the School, Sergeant-Major F. J. Davidson. The Sergeant-Major became ill during the last holidays, and was taken to the Royal North Shore Hospital, where he died on the evening of October 2nd.

The Funeral Service was held in the Chapel on the morning of October 4th, and was attended by the Sixth and Fifth forms and a large number of Old Boys. The Cadet Corps attended School on Friday in uniform, and the boys lined the road as the procession passed. The funeral then proceeded to the Northern Suburbs Crematorium. Most of the masters attended the funeral, leaving the boys in the charge of a few masters and prefects.

HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS.

No doubt we feel to-day that we are turning a page in the history of the School, a page that will be packed for all of us with memories of a very unusual man. Time moves on, but Sergeant-Major Davidson will live on in the affectionate recollections of that great company who come within the ambit of the School's influence. His place in the School's history is unique, and is due far more to the qualities of the man even than to the things which he did. Old Boys are to-day more widely scattered through the world than ever. The news of his death will come, in due course, to men in the camps in England, on the deserts of Egypt, in Palestine, to many in the Air Force, and to some in the ships of His Majesty's Navy. To them all he was a familiar figure, and in all their hearts the news will strike a note of deep regret. I have had a number of letters lately in which men on service have mentioned him. An airman wrote from England: "I wish we had the S.M. in this depot; he would keep things moving in the right way." An officer wrote from an officer's school in Palestine about a Scots

Guard sergeant who was one of the instructors: "He is very smart and reminds me very much of the Sergeant-Major, but he is not quite as good as that." There will be for many a long day the same ring of affectionate admiration in the memories that will pass between Old Boys. These are the tributes which he liked to have. His eyes sparkled when I quoted these letters to him. But I know that in both cases there was a respect, which we all share, for much more than his great skill.

Sergeant-Major Davidson enlisted in the Scots Guards in 1891 at the age of 14 years and 2 months. His father had served in the regiment for 32 years before him. I have seen a letter in which a Guards officer speaks of young Davidson maintaining the good name which his father had built up before him. He served for 22 years. It was there that he had his education, and a fine education it is that the British Army gives. Education is of little use unless it enables a man to benefit others. We who know his work here have ample evidence of the part which it enabled him to play in his turn. He served in South Africa from 1900 to 1902, and was mentioned in despatches during the campaign. From 1908 to 1913 he was a gymnastic instructor at the Guards Depot at Aldershot. After his discharge he came to Australia, and was appointed to the position at this School which he held for 27 years. During this time nearly 5000 boys have passed through the School.

What is it that causes us to be deeply stirred as we think of our old colleague? We shall remember his fine physical bearing. There was a man who had pride in his appearance, whose shoulders were squared with consciousness of the command of his physical powers. His effortless command of his voice, too, we all admired. He had that incisiveness of speech which reflects decision and which commands obedience. Both these qualities have meant a great deal to this School, situated as it is in a land in which carelessness of bearing is too often confused with freedom of manner, and untidiness of diction is too often an affectation. We shall miss also his care for the routine of the School's daily life. Few know how many clerical duties fell to him, and how much his accurate and loyal care meant to the School's routine efficiency.

But these were not real reasons for his place in the School's respect. His erect carriage reflected a direct honesty of heart; his incisive speech reflected a proper self-confidence and a forthright character. Beneath all this work, there was the motive of a very simple and direct loyalty. School life seldom fails to reveal shallowness of character or lack of sincerity. But Davidson rang true to every test.

There was a certain breadth of manner about the Sergeant-Major which, for myself, I have always admired and envied. He easily found just the correct footing with the smallest of Prep. School boys and the oldest of Old Boys at a Speech Day, or at an Old Boys' Dinner. There was always just the right measure of kindness, or deference, or familiarity: he was never at a loss; he always said what was in his mind, but, because he was of the right mind, it was always in place and of the right temper—a great accomplishment, I think, which gave him a personal dignity which never failed.

A good, simple, loyal man whose unique character leaves its mark more deeply impressed than we can fully know. The School was his life, as it was the life of H. H. Dixon and David Davies and others who are not far from our thoughts in this building. His bodily presence has gone from us in the inevitable course of time's changes, but he does not entirely pass. They hand on the torch of life, and, in so doing, they hand on, to be preserved by us, all the essential substance of their own lives.

EDITORIAL.

SERGEANT-MAJOR DAVIDSON.

On October 2nd, after a brief illness, Sergeant-Major Davidson passed away. His death came as a great shock to all who knew him, and left a gap in our School life which can never be entirely filled. Old Boys from all parts of Australia sent messages of sympathy to the School, showing in a most striking way the place which he held in their affections. Extracts from some of these letters appear in the Old Boys' Notes.

Other people outside the School also expressed their sympathy, and mentioned the courteous assistance which the Sergeant-Major had always given to them when they visited Shore.

But we need not go beyond the bounds of the School itself to find evidence of the high respect in which he was held. Here there are more than seven hundred boys, each of whom admired the man, and now respects his memory. No boy could help but admire the effortless control which he displayed both on assembly and on the parade ground.

A man needs a strong character to control men, and it was this strength of character which gained for him a place in the respect and affections of all. Some say that boys are very fickle, and that their ideas and opinions are continually changing; but a respect and affection which lasts throughout the whole of a boy's school days can hardly be false.

This was the affection which the School showed for Sergeant-Major Davidson, and this is the respect which will always be shown to his memory. Our memory of him will be no more fickle than our affections, no less sincere than our respect.

SOME LIGHTER RECOLLECTIONS.

All great men, perhaps as an element of their greatness, have at times given us lighter memories. Out of many stories which Sergeant-Major Davidson told the writer in off periods and on Saturday mornings, here are two.

During the South African War, a number of British Regular Army N.C.O.'s were lent to certain bodies of locally raised Irregular Mounted Infantry. One of these was a corps of hard-shelled citizens, commanded by a fire-eating Irishman, and known after him as Driscoll's Horse. To them Sergeant Davidson of the Scots Guards was attached, and it is a pity that we have no record of the process whereby the men of that notorious legion made the acquaintance of discipline as it was understood in the Guards. One day Colonel Driscoll addressed his men thus: "Men, look well to your horses to-night. There's a regiment of these Australians camped over the other side of the hill, and you know what they are!" Driscoll's Horse kept vigil that night. Next morning the Australians marched out; but, although they were a horsed unit, many of them were on foot.

And then there is the story that is known to many, the story of the Saturday morning telephone call. Who the boy was this writer does not know, nor does it matter. Mere accuracy is much overrated.

"Is that Sydney Church of England Grammar School?"

"Yes," replied the Sergeant-Major.

"Well, I just want to say that I am keeping _____ at home to-day, so he won't be able to do his Saturday."

The S.M. smelt a rat. "Who is speaking, please?"

"It's—it's my father, sir!"

"Oh, it is, is it? Well, you tell that boy of yours to get here as soon as his legs can bring him!"

DOUBLE VICTORY.

It is now more than a year since the war began. On 3rd September, 1939, Britain declared to the whole world her intention of fighting Nazism to the death. In those early days we were very proud of the position which we held. We knew that the ideals of Democracy and Christianity for which we were fighting were immortal, and that the hand of right and justice was on our side. We entered the war in the defence of smaller nations, but, above all, in the defence of Christian ideals.

Germany had no ideals such as these for which to fight. Her one thought, actuated by vengeance, greed and hatred, was for world domination. For what success could she hope? A country which worshipped war could not possibly stand against a nation that had put its "hand in the hand of God."

With this feeling of confidence in the justice and ultimate success of our cause we entered upon a long and bitter struggle. One by one our allies have been defeated, and many outward and visible signs of England have disappeared, but the spirit of England remains, and also, unimpaired, the ideals for which she is fighting.

If once we allow thoughts of vengeance to sway the dictates of wisdom, if once we allow ourselves to become petty in the hatred of nations, then our right, which we claim to be our strength, will gradually dwindle. We have set ourselves the task of overthrowing, not only Germany, but also the ideas for which she stands. These ideas cannot be defeated if we allow them to enter into our own souls. Throughout this war, let us keep ever before us a full realization of the ideals for which we fight.

No nation defeated, no nation saved, can justify the horror and bloodshed in Europe to-day. It is only by stamping out the ideas which have forced this war upon us that we can justify the part that we have played in it. If our former high ideals are allowed to degenerate into a national hatred, then we shall have defeated ourselves and, by accepting German standards, we shall have advanced their ideas, if not their cause.

Let us then think of our motto, Vitai Lampada Tradunt, and hand on to those who follow a torch which burns with an unsullied brightness, not one which flickers feebly, then dies with our last ideals. Let us, remembering the high standard which we have set ourselves, and refusing to lower them through any petty thoughts of vengeance, push on to the final, the double victory.

SHORE SCHOOL WAR FUNDS.

The total amount for the term is made up as follows:—

Collection	£135	18	2
Salvage	23	11	8
Entertainments Club	53	4	1

Total £212 13 11

We gratefully acknowledge cheques for £3/3/- and 5/- from Mrs. Hunter and Mr. Hill respectively. The excellent sum of £7 was raised by Brigden, of the Prep., and his friends, by means of a fête held for this purpose. U.I.V.B. led the form totals, with V.A. and U.I.V.A. second and third.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. P. Sellick has joined the staff as School Clerk and Drill Instructor in the place of the late Sergeant-Major Davidson. Mr. Sellick was for nineteen years in the Coldstream Guards, and came to Australia to join the Australian Instructional Corps. Subsequently he served in the A.I.F., and holds the rank of lieutenant. We welcome Mr. Sellick, and wish him well.

It was with great pride that we heard of the selection of E. B. J. Smith as Rhodes Scholar for 1941. Smith was Senior Prefect in 1936, gaining an exhibition in the Faculty of Science. He was in the Eight for two years and the 1st XV. for one year, and was an officer in the Cadet Corps during a period of three years. At the University he was awarded a Blue for rowing, and is a lieutenant in the University Regiment. He has been doing research work on natural products at the University, and intends to do research in Chemistry at Oxford.

Two recent Rhodes Scholars are also serving abroad. Ian Esplin has done brilliantly, coming top of his flying school at Cambridge and gaining his wings. He has now been posted as an instructor. B. H. Travers is serving with the A.I.F. in Palestine.

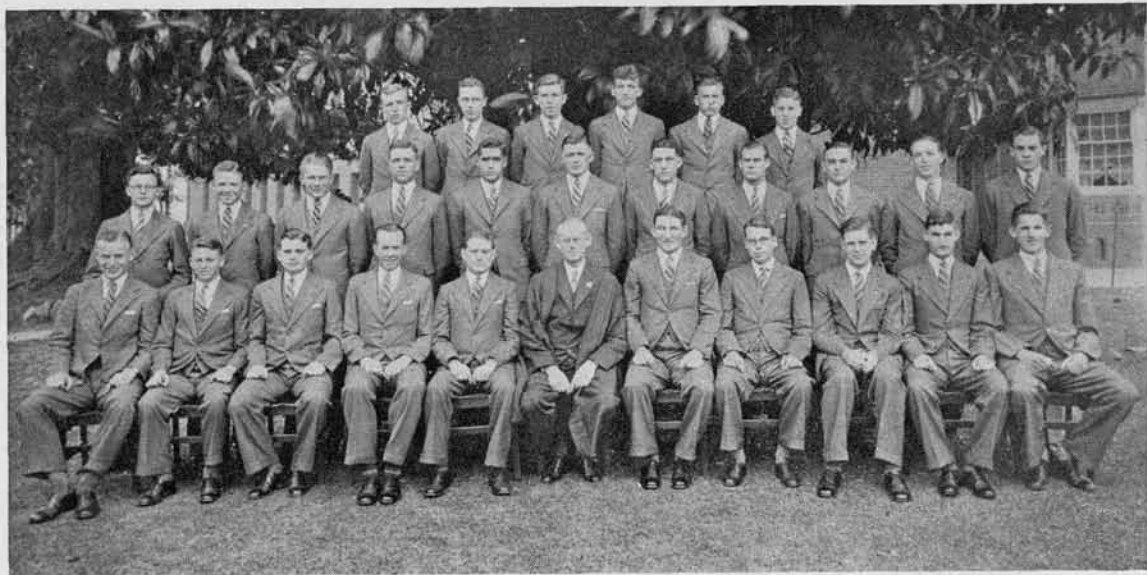

This term, in response to the need for an increased war effort, conscription has been introduced in the School. This was directed against the onion weed, which was rapidly becoming a menace to the School ground. Each form was called upon in turn to do its bit. Mr. Pope was in charge of these operations, which resulted in the complete extermination of the noxious foe.

The response this term to the War Funds Appeal has been excellent. The supply of salvage, however, has dropped off a little, and, although the response is now fair, we hope that it will be even better in the future.

Miss Holmes left us at the end of last term, and we welcome back Mr. McWilliam, who has returned to the School to take up his old position.

This year the Sixth Form post-Leaving lectures took on a new tone.

S.C.E.G.S. PARENTS AND FRIENDS' ASSOCIATION AND WOMEN'S AUXILIARY COMMITTEE.

In June of this year the annual meeting of the S.C.E.G.S. Parents and Friends' Association was held in the School Hall. At the meeting the resignation of the Hon. Secretary of the Association, Mr. R. Gilfillan, was regretfully accepted, and Mrs. O. R. Cormack, Hon. Secretary of the Women's Auxiliary, was elected Hon. Secretary in his place. It was unanimously decided to carry on the Association with a reduced subscription for the duration of the war. The subscription decided on was 2/6 per person annually, payable to the Hon. Treasurer, Mrs. D. Esplin, No. 2 Blue Street, North Sydney. The President is Mr. F. W. Hixson ; Deputy President and Chairman, Mr. L. C. Robson.

An American Tea of the "bring a gift, buy a gift" variety was held at the School on Friday, 15th November. The party was organised by the Women's Auxiliary to raise funds for the men of the Merchant Navy. The President is Mrs. L. C. Robson; the Hon. Secretary, Mrs. O. R. Cormack; and the Hon. Treasurer, Mrs. Don. Esplin. Boys from the School did their part by conducting guests on tours of the buildings and showing them the view from the tower. Afternoon tea was served in the School Dining Hall.

ENTERTAINMENTS CLUB

Our main function this term was the War Funds Concert held on Thursday evening, 31st October, in Warringah Hall, Neutral Bay. The programme was a varied one, comprising items by the School Octet conducted by Mr. Monekton, two very well produced one-act plays and music and other entertainment by "The Legionnaires," a concert-party who had already freely contributed their talent in over sixty patriotic concerts this year, and to whom we are very grateful indeed. The Hall was booked right out. The net proceeds amounted to £53/4/1, and this has been paid into the War Fund. We wish to thank the many people who, in addition to the artists, wholeheartedly assisted us in making the concert such a success—the S.C.E.G.S. Women's Auxiliary Committee, for a very generous donation of sweets for sale during the evening; the Scouts and other boys, who ushered and sold sweets and programmes; members of the Art Club, for posters; Mr. Brierley and Mr. Watson, who produced the plays; and Mr. Grigg and his assistants, who solved without a single hitch all the problems of make-up, stage-management, and incidental music.

At our Lunch-Hour Concert on Friday, 11th October, we enjoyed the privilege of hearing the Scots College Orchestra and Choir, directed by Mr. Victor Massey. The School House Prep. Room was crowded to the roof. Everyone was delighted by the performance. The programme was excellently chosen, and was really a model one for a school orchestra, but unfortunately lack of space prevents our giving it here. We congratulate Scots on their orchestra—a well-balanced band of fourteen players—and thank them and their conductor for coming so far to give a performance which was an inspiration to all of us.

Mr. Stanley Clarkson, bass-baritone, sang at the meeting of the Club on Friday, 8th November. He was in fine voice, and, ably accompanied by Mrs. Watts, opened his programme with a group of songs by Handel, and concluded with "Vagabond," by John Ireland, and Kennedy Russell's "Gipsy River." Many thanks to Mr. Clarkson and his accompanist!

DRAMATIC SOCIETY.

One of the most outstanding items in the Concert at Warringah Hall was the last of the evening. It was a one-act play by Stanley Houghton, "The Dear Departed," produced by Mr. Watson. The cast included B. R. Marshall, W. Muston, R. Higgs, I. McNulty, W. Allen and G. Wilson, two of whom made excellent ladies, and a third an extraordinarily horrid little girl.

Barry Marshall, as Mrs. Slater, was really excellent, with a surprisingly realistic red wig. Indeed, the make-up was so effective that someone whose name I shall not mention was discovered off-stage talking so earnestly to Mrs. Slater about the weather that it was a shame to point out his mistake.

William Muston, as Mrs. Jordan, was also very good. We shall never forget that plumed hat, and I feel sure that if he had walked into the Hall and taken his seat in the audience he would have carried it off! Full mourning, even unto black lacquered finger-nails . . .

Their husbands, R. Higgs and I. McNulty respectively, were also very good, and we wondered how long Mr. Slater was going to endure the pipe. But no, the pipe was all right; we should have done better to be concerned about the moustache. It was lucky it did not come right off!

Victoria Slater, a positively atrocious girl of ten or thereabouts, was excellently played by Wickham Allen. People like Victoria always make me seethe, and I don't think I've ever done it with more vehemence than while seeing this life-like portrayal.

Last, but by no means least, was Geoffrey Wilson as grandfather, Mr. Abel Merryweather. We thank Mr. Monckton for a beautiful bald head, and, to complete the deception, he wore a pair of glasses over which to look at you. He adapted himself admirably to the cracked voice of an old man, and on the whole left nothing to be desired in his playing of Mr. Merryweather.

In fact, the whole concern went off without one hitch, and we compliment Mr. Watson and all the others concerned on an excellent show.

G. Wilson, J. Hum and R. Merewether have contributed useful poster work.

Many drawings and paintings, chiefly from the Preparatory School, have already been collected for the 1941 Exhibition.

E. M. Bagot, of L.IV., lent five prints of works by Raeburn, Reynolds, Gainsborough, Hogarth, Lawrence and Constable for the Club's frames.

The Secretary, J. Merewether, casts his mantle on R. Merewether, who, we feel sure, will be a worthy successor. It is preferable to have a boarder as secretary, for obvious reasons.

All members are expected to go ahead with something in the long holidays. More breadth and strength of treatment are needed. To ensure this, members are advised to practise with poster colours and large brushes (No. 10 and upwards). The use of coloured chalks (pastels), powder paints and charcoal is recommended. Powder paints are 2d. an ounce at Sandy's. The rough side of brown paper and thick wallpaper are preferable to ordinary drawing paper. More paintings from life and imaginative work are looked for, and less copying. The School poster artists have led the way. There is enough talent now in the School to provide a really stirring show in 1941.

THE OCTET.

Items from "Haddon Hall" (Sullivan) and from "The Arcadians" (Talbot) were rendered at the War Fund Concert on 31st October. Messrs. Gilfillan and Sawkins, and also M. Wellington of I.I.A., gave good solos.

At an entirely School entertainment next winter, the Club hopes to provide most of the musical items, some of these being from "Merrie England" (German). We shall be most grateful for the loan of copies of this work.

During the last week of term, unaccompanied carols were sung in Chapel—"I saw three ships" (Godfrey Sampson) and "O come, all ye faithful" (harmonised by Walford Davies).

We shall much miss J. Merewether, one of the original members of The Octet, and a most adaptable singer.

The trebles this year have been exceptionally good.

SCOUT TROOP

The September Camp was held as usual. Pittwater Basin was the site chosen after careful consideration, and it proved to be all that we had hoped. It is a beautiful place, and, although we were on a camping ground, it was very private. We were allowed on this ground, without payment of the usual camping fee by the kind permission of the Warringah Council. The country is ideal for Scout training, and it was put to full advantage. Part of every day was spent in training, and tests of various kinds were passed. We had two boats at the Camp, and made full use of these. Much of the time at Camp we spent in these boats, either swimming or rowing round the basin. All Stores for the Camp were brought on the first day, and so gave good training to the Patrol Leaders, who had to order their provisions in bulk. The usual camp fire was held on the eve of departure.

The usual meetings were held this term in the Scout Hut, several investitures taking place. The standard of work this term has been very high, the younger members of the Troop taking a very keen interest.

CADET NOTES.

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Sergeant-Major F. J. Davidson. The interests of the Corps were always close to his heart : very many Drill Teams have borne and very many soldiers bear the impress of his hand. All who carried their military work beyond the Cadet stage freely acknowledge their personal debt to him.

The Corps, as a tribute to his memory and as an acknowledgment of its debt to him, attended School in uniform on the day of the Sergeant-Major's funeral, and lined the drive and street as the cortege passed by.

Lt.-Gen. C. G. N. Miles, C.M.G., D.S.O., G.O.C. Eastern Command, inspected the Corps on Tuesday, 15th October. We were drawn up in mass at the north end of the School ground, facing south, the saluting base being situated in the centre of the line joining the corner of the new Laboratories to the Edward Street gate. After the inspection the Corps broke up into training groups.

Lt.-Col. W. P. Farr, D.S.O., G.S.O. I. Eastern Command, visited the School on Tuesday, 29th October, shortly before his death. At the conclusion of the parade Lt.-Col. Farr addressed the Corps. His remarks included advice of special interest to those about to leave School. He said that boys under the age for enlistment in the A.I.F. should join the Militia in order to develop the physical maturity they did not possess at an earlier age, and that was necessary to enable them to endure the severe trials a fighting soldier might be called upon to face.

On Speech Day the Corps is to parade under the command of Lieut. G. H. Broinowski, and is to march past.

Officers.—Lieut. P. Sellick, who is taking the place of Sgt.-Major Davidson, has taken up duties with the Corps.

Mr. I. F. Jones has joined the Corps, and has applied for a commission. Mr. Jones is a returned soldier, and belongs to the R.S.V.D.C.

Lieut. B. A. Selby has left us to become a member of the S.U.R.

W.O. H. W. Coulson's application for a commission as Cdt.-Lt. has been sent in.

Cdt.-Lts. A. V. Maxwell, P. V. Murphy and G. H. Wearne have recently resigned to take up commissions with 55 Bn., joining G. C. Dent and D. R. Roughton, who are already subalterns in the 55th.

N.C.O. Schools.—The Staff Officer for Cadets, Capt. Moray, conducted an eight-day School for Officers and N.C.O.'s at Hurlstone Park A.H.S. from 23rd to 30th August. The course of training included Field Engineering, Map Reading, Field Craft and Elementary Tactics. Fifteen of our N.C.O.'s attended the school as pupils, and four Cdt.-Lts. as instructors.

Two schools are to be held during the holidays—the first from 14th to 21st December, 1940, and the second from 21st January to 11th February, 1941.

Arms.—Rifles, .303 in., and bayonets have been withdrawn from all Cadet Detachments. Now that they are no longer on issue to us, we realise what an important part they played in our work. The .310 Westley-Richards rifle has been issued to us instead of the .303s. This weapon is not without appeal. Unfortunately no ammunition, either ball or blank, is available for use with it.

In order to be able to carry on with Bayonet Training, 30 hardwood dummy rifles with conduit "bayonets" have been secured.

A model Bren gun made by Mr. Jones has appeared on parade. It will be used next year for section training.

Books, containing matter of great interest, are purchasable :—

"The Fighting Soldier."

"New Ways of War" (Penguin special).

"Notes for Section Commanders" (Jefferson).

All those who have not returned Text Books on issue to them are urgently requested to post them in to the Adjutant without delay.

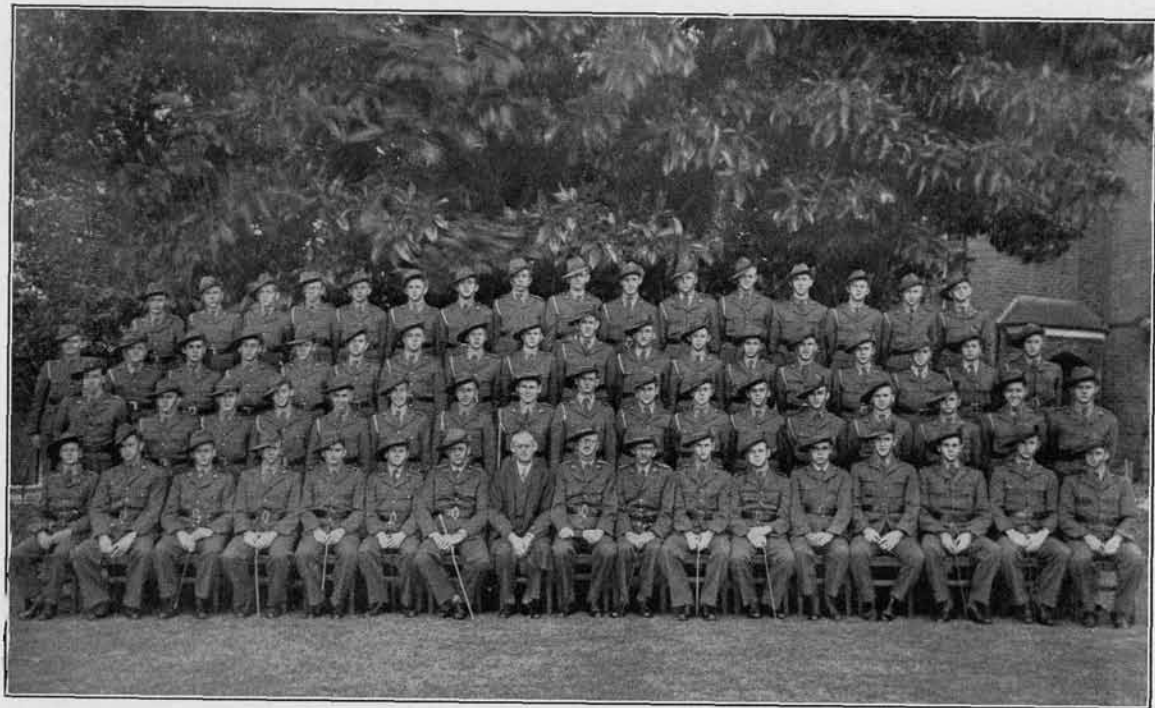

Rifle Shooting, except on the Miniature Range, has disappeared from the programme, neither rifles nor ammunition being available.

Training.—In lieu of Camp this year, training took the form of Field Training (four days), and rehearsals, examinations and administration (one day). The Field Training was carried out at Blacktown, movement out and back each day being by train.

Cost of Joining the Corps.—UNIFORM (tunic, trousers, hat, pugree, shoes, shirt and tie), about £5; obtainable only at Farmer & Co. GENERAL EXPENSES—10/- payable at the beginning of Term III. DEPOSIT—4/- on enrolment, and refunded on ceasing to be a Cadet, provided that all equipment has been returned. Subject to funds being made available by the Defence Department, a refund of 15/- on each new uniform purchased is made through Farmer & Co.

PARADES.—2 Hr. Parades; 9 Training; 2 Ceremonial. Field Training, 5 days.

STRENGTH.—14 Officers, 4 W.O.'s, 53 N.C.O.'s, 199 O.R. Total, 270.

ORIGINAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

Although our readers may not believe it, the two following poems were written by two of our regular contributors, who, unknown to each other, wrote on the same subject and named their poems in the same way. It will be interesting for readers to make a comparison between the two and study the methods of treatment.

FUTILITY.

A life fashioned in dreams !
 But a conceited thought of what I'd be
 If only I could force my mind to see
 Just what it means—
 It's bare futility.

Nothing constructive
 Dreams which always seem
 Accomplished, as I dream;
 Far too real to push away,
 They've come to stay.

There is nothing more destructive
 Of material success than these dreams.
 I'm told they spur you on.

That is wrong—
They're ideals!

Men who live on dreams don't succeed.
 They never have the need

To live. They dream!

They will never do the world any good;
 But if they should—

What's it mean?

It's but another name for Hell.
 It's just as well

We can dream!

FUTILITY.

(By R. T. Finch.)

A vision I saw, a vision so clear
 That it sears in my mind as I write it down here:
 I saw, marching past with noiseless tread,
 The ever-extending columns of dead

That were our fathers.

I know not where I was, nor how

I came upon this place of death;

I know not where I was, but now

I still draw in a shuddering breath

As I think of that beating, throbbing sound,
 Dispersing the air and rocking the ground.

A chant it was, containing one word,
 Yet it filled the minds of all who heard

With a terrible anguish.

Then I began with them to repeat
 The chant that throbbed beneath our feet—

“Futility!”

I closer drew, mingling with those shadowy forms of men,
 Their faces drawn and sad, a longing in their eyes;
 The vain hope they had cherished died away again,
 And they felt the sting of inward tears at their futile sacrifice.
 "Has pitiless Fate decreed," they cried,
 "That peace shall be no more ?
 Has foolish man in all his pride
 Flung our sons in war ?"

Yet they know that as long as man remains man,
 As long as the seas do roll,
 Through boasting word and faulty plan
 War shall take its toll;
 And through the worlds of living and dead
 Resounds that awful cry,
 That swelling chant of anguish and dread,
 For those about to die.

Yet a stronger cry in our world of life
 Emerges from our bloodlust's strife,
 A cry of hope that we will make
 A better world, and thus forsake
 Futility !

VITA CONSERVATA.

(B. R. M.)

It befell one day that alone I stood upon a cliff
 That o'erlooked a surging, angry sea,
 Battering at the rocks below with such wrath as if Urged by some Unseen Force, whose angry cry
 And berserk rage had lashed it on
 With pitiless wind, whose mad song
 Was oft a screaming wail of Death, dropping to a sigh.

Above the tumult of the wind and sea
 A thought occurred to me, upon which men
 Have meditated centuries long—the thought of feeble Man,
 Who pits his wits against the power of Nature;
 And, battling thus, his courage fails and dies
 As though he ne'er began.

I gazed upon the rocks beneath, which stand
 As ineffable as Time, as they repulsed the waves
 That sullenly advanced and then fell back
 To gather strength and haul themselves in new attack,
 While wind and cloud scud by like fleeting Death—
 The sea itself is many long-forgotten graves.

My soul was gripped by sudden urge to slip
 Away from life, with all its futile strife and bloody war,
 To end existence once for all on that distant rocky floor
 A hundred feet below. . . . The waves would be my shroud—
 When suddenly appeared across the wind-swept slope
 A grey-clad figure which, from the flying cloud
 Of high-flung spray, approached and unexpectedly disturbed
 My final thoughts of life untenable and abandoned hope.

He also looked below and slowly shook his head.
 "Nice place for a suicide!" he said; "but not for me.
 Life holds too much for that—a coward's way!"
 And then, "Good day!" and, stumbling out of view,
 Vanished as he spirit-like had come, around the lee. . .
 I took another look at tortured rocks and swirling green;
 While the thoughts departed, ne'er to come anew,
 I breathed a prayer of thanks and escaped the scene.

AUSTRALIA AND ITS WAR EFFORT.

By Courtesy of the Department of Information.

How much do you know about the effort that Australia is making toward winning this war against Nazism—against a menace more real and terrible than any the history books show?

Too often the citizen who is not immediately connected with war activity is inclined to assess "war effort" by the number of uniforms he sees in the streets, or by the reports of warlike activities that appear in newspapers.

But there is more to it than this. The effort the Commonwealth is making is tremendous, but it is worthy. Recently, a party inspecting the factory of the Commonwealth Aircraft Corporation at Fisherman's Bend, Melbourne, saw more than £700,000 worth of modern aeroplanes on the factory floor, in all stages of manufacture. From this factory another £1,000,000 worth of aeroplanes had passed into the service of the Royal Australian Air Force, and are now ready for action in several war theatres. One completed aeroplane a day is coming from this vast workshop, where 3000 people are now employed, and soon the rate of production will be stepped up enormously. Yet, three years ago, this factory did not exist. The land on which it stands was a formless, swampy waste. There were then people who said that it would take Australia ten to fifteen years to learn the art of aircraft building and engine production.

Australians, by their determination and by their ready adaptability, have brought about a result that has not been bettered in any part of the world, although many countries are older and richer than we are in industrial experience. This is a fact that should bring a new pride of race to every Australian.

Then munitions. In 1914, Australia did not produce sufficient munitions to supply the needs of her own armies in the field. To-day, in factories and annexes—annexes are factories set up either at the cost of the Government or a "parent" firm specifically for the manufacture of munitions, and which are situated on the property of the parent firm and entirely managed and operated by it—all over Australia, we are producing shells, guns, trench mortars, machine guns, bombs, machine gun-carriers, rifles, bullets, and a host of other implements of war, not only for ourselves, but for supply to Britain and to other parts of the Empire. This has meant a tremendous effort of organisation and of workmanship, but once again the will and the wit of Australians have been equal to it.

To-day we are in reality an arsenal of the Empire.

Our Australian Imperial Force, which inherits the tradition of the Australian Imperial Force of 1914-1918, described by Mr. Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, as the best force of fighting men in the world, stands ready for action in the Middle East and in Britain, while reinforcements are marshalled in Australia.

The tremendous and rapid growth of our Royal Australian Air Force—nearly 33,000 men, air crew and ground staff, have been selected for service since the war began, and there is already a waiting list of about 13,000—and the part it is playing, and will play, in the Empire Air Scheme, are important features of our war effort.

Australia has produced some of the world's greatest fliers. The R.A.A.F. units that have been serving for so long with Britain's Air Force have done magnificently, and we can believe with confidence in the ability of our new airmen to add fresh glory to the Australian tradition.

The Australian Navy, as the world knows, is on service in many theatres of war, and has a sparkling list of successes. Here, too, the effort to increase our strength goes on. Since the outbreak of war we have armed five ships as merchant cruisers, 30 as auxiliary war vessels, and more than 150 merchant vessels have been armed for their own defence and manned with gunners from the Royal Australian Volunteer Reserve. Minesweepers are active day and night around our coasts to protect ships that take supplies to Britain from our vast storehouse of natural products, and to make certain that our soldiers and airmen journey oversea in security; warships of the Australian Fleet have escorted our men across the waters, and day and night their vigilance is maintained.

Now we are building more and more ships of war in Australia. We are even building patrol vessels for Great Britain.

This is a splendid record for a country of only 7,000,000 people, and it does not tell one-half the story of private and public striving to guard our freedom.

ATHLETICS.

This year has seen a change in the management of Athletics in both Training and Competitive fixtures. In the first term, three days a week were set aside for special training and coaching.

This year there have been more School and Inter-School meetings than in previous years. In Term I. there were two fixtures—one for the IIIrd and Lower IVth Forms, and one for the Upper IVth, Vth and VIth Forms. Both these meetings were held with the object of carrying out the ideas behind the "Physical Efficiency" Scheme.

The 49th Annual Athletic Sports were held at the Northbridge Memorial Grounds on Saturday, 17th August. S. H. Suban did particularly well in the senior events, and won the School Championship by a clear margin. W. R. Lambell won the Junior Championship, J. J. Coghlan the Under 15 Championship, and the under 14 Championship was won by H. P. M. Forbes, whilst the Under 13 Championship was shared by C. F. Ferguson and R. I. Mitchell. The Mile Cup was won by J. W. F. Bell. The result of the House Competition was: School, 105; Robson, 101½; Barry, 76; and Hodges, 26.

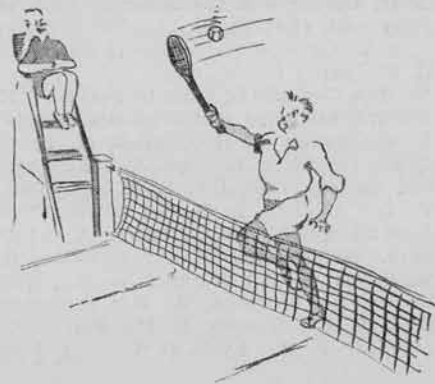

As the Annual G.P.S. Sports were not held this year, we carried on Inter-School fixtures. In all, there were four triangular matches. The first of these was against Trinity Grammar School and Waverley College, held at Trinity on September 28. Our team was stronger than the others, it winning by a fair margin from T.G.S. On Friday, October 4, at Northbridge, we met T.K.S. and S.G.S. Shore won comfortably from S.G.S. On Wednesday, October 9, we met S.J.C. and T.S.C. at Northbridge. This was the closest match of the season, S.J.C. winning from Shore. On Wednesday, October 16, the final match was held at Northbridge against S.U.A.C. and Newington College. S.U.A.C. were far too strong for our team, and had little difficulty in beating it, with N.C. third. A notable feature of all these matches was the friendly competition. In all Inter-School matches, Shore was first in the total points in the senior events. The juniors showed much promise this year.

On Saturday, October 12, a number of athletes from this School competed in the N.S.W. State Schoolboys' Championships at the Sydney Sports Ground. In the under 20 events, S. H. Suhan won the 880 yards in 2 mins. 3 secs. and the 440 yards in 51½ secs. A. V. Maxwell won the 120 yards hurdles in 15 9-10 secs. L. W. Davies won the under 18 high jump at 5 ft. 9½ ins., and the hop, step and jump with 41 ft. 8½ ins. J. W. F. Bell won the under 20 mile in 4 mins. 48½ secs. I. R. Carter won the under 17 440 yards in 54½ secs., and J. J. Coghlan the under 15 100 yards in 10½ secs.

The Committee wish to thank A. M. Davey for a donation of £1/1/-.

SCHOOL ATHLETIC SPORTS.

On Saturday, 17th August, the School Athletic Sports were held at Northbridge. The day was dismal, the wind blowing consistently and rain coming down spasmodically.

S. H. Suhan was the outstanding athlete, winning the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, and 880 yards, to gain the Senior Cup with 32 points. Cadell was second in the Senior Cup with 19 points, and Carter third with 15 points.

The mile was won by Bell, who ran well, and fully deserved his victory. Maxwell and Wearne again held their hurdles and shot putt titles respectively, and Davies won the open high jump.

Lambell was the under 16 Cup winner, whilst Coghlan and Forbes were the best in the under 15 and 14 years respectively. In the under 13, Ferguson and Mitchell ii. were equal.

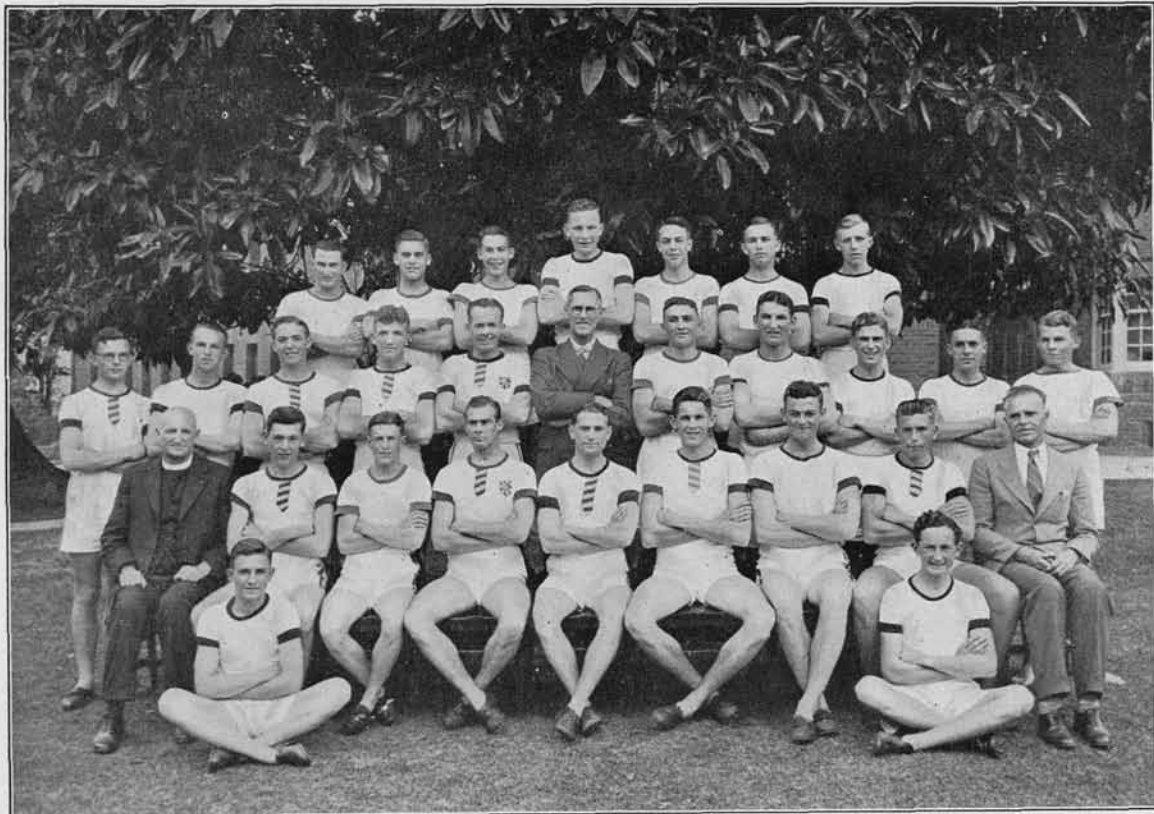

The House Competition was won by School (105 1-6) from the holders, Robson (101½), followed by Barry (76½) and Hodges (26).

COMBINED ATHLETIC FIXTURE.

This year it was decided not to hold the usual combined athletic fixture at the Sydney Cricket Ground. In its place the School arranged a series of contests with other schools, a procedure which enabled a wider programme to be carried out, and also enabled two or three boys per school to compete in each event, instead of the one boy as in the G.P.S. Combined Meeting ; thus a far greater number of boys could obtain a full athletic season of running, etc., with coaching. Maxwell was an active and enthusiastic Captain of Athletics, and Suhan and others assisted him. The results of the series of meetings showed that this year we had a very good all-round senior team which would have taken a good deal of beating, and which only lost to the S.U.A.C. in the matches held. Maxwell, Suhan, Davies, Wearne, Paterson, Venn-Brown, Shaw, Bell, Carter, and Shelley-Jones all performed well in all the contests, Maxwell creating a School record for the hurdles of 15.7 secs. v. S.U.A.C. and N.C.

The junior team, although there were some good performers in it, was not strong throughout, and many of the younger boys in the School did not make as much use as they might have done of the opportunities offered for coaching and training. The Committee looks for an improvement in the interest of junior boys in athletics next year, for it is in the early stages that foundations for future success are laid.

The meetings held were as follows :—

1 v. T.G.S. and Christian Brothers, Waverley, at Summer Hill.
Result : Shore, 125 points, 1 ; T.G.S., 2.

2 v. T.K.S. and S.G.S., at Northbridge.
Seniors : Shore, 92½ ; King's, 71 ; Grammar, 28½.
Juniors : Grammar, 91 ; Shore, 86½ ; King's, 20.

3 October 9th—v. S.J.C. and T.S.C., at Northbridge.
Senior : Shore, 82.3 ; St. Joseph's, 65.3 ; Scots, 41.3.
Juniors : St. Joseph's, 75 ; Scots, 71 ; Shore, 54.

4 October 16th—v. S.U.A.C. and N.C., at Northbridge.
Seniors : S.U.A.C., 105 ; Shore, 70 ; N.C., 14.
Juniors : Shore, 124 ; N.C., 76.

Against G.P.S. Schools the senior team scored 244.9 points as against 219.9 ; and the junior team scored 264.5 points against 333.

One most enjoyable feature common to all these meetings was the bonhomie and good spirit prevailing, giving almost a picnic tone to the functions, and quite different to the atmosphere attached to the G.P.S. meeting.

INTER-HOUSE ATHLETIC SPORTS.

On Wednesday, 21st August, an Inter-House Sports Meeting was held at Northbridge. On the preceding Monday there were a high jump and a broad jump held at the School.

On Wednesday, two boys from each House were eligible for each of the events, which were 100 yards and 220 yards races for all boys under 19, 18, 17, 16, 15 and 14 respectively. Some 330 yards races were also run for younger boys. A cross-country race was run to the Castlecrag district and back for seniors and juniors. The shot putt and high jump were available for everybody's use. In all there were 44 races of 100 yards and 37 of 220 yards, eight boys (with a few exceptions) running in each race.

The final points were : Barry House, 364 ; School, 330½ ; Robson, 256½ ; Hodges, 166.

ROWING

Owing to rough conditions on Saturday, 2nd November, the heats of the House Regatta were postponed until the following Monday, and the finals were rowed in perfect conditions on the Wednesday. The final results were as follows:—

	First Fours.	Second Fours.
1st	Robson	School
2nd	School	School
3rd	Hodges	Hodges
4th	Barry	Barry

The standard of crews this year appeared higher than that of previous years. This is probably due to the fact that the eight crews had four boats with which to train instead of the usual two.

We have received the loan of one racing eight, a practice eight, a light four, and a tub pair from the University. Oars were also given with the boats. This went towards making up the much needed equipment for Berry's Bay, and, thanks to the untiring efforts made by Mr. Burrell, the shed has reached a standard of which its members must be proud.

The members of the Club at Berry's Bay are contributing 1/- per week towards the repair of boats, and also improvements to the shed. It is very gratifying to see such keenness displayed by all newcomers to the sport. At present there are one eight, two light fours, and four heavy fours preparing for the Picnic Regatta.

The Picnic Regatta is to be held on the 30th November over the last half-mile of the old G.P.S. course only under the lee of Towns' Boat Shed. The proceeds will go towards the War Fund.

On Saturday, 16th November, the School entered an eight and a four in the Police-Sydney Regatta. The eight came third behind Haberfield and Police, and the four put up a very plucky effort to be defeated by the Police by one length. The results are quite satisfactory, considering the amount of training that had been done.

CRICKET NOTES

On account of water restrictions, it has not been possible to provide cricket facilities for all the boys this term. Form matches had to be abandoned, but we were able to provide regular practices during the week and matches on Saturday for eleven School teams. Considering the difficulties, the condition of grounds and wickets at Northbridge and at the School was wonderfully good.

The 1st XI, on account of a weakness in bowling, was hardly as impressive as during first term. The loss of Lang and Read was felt considerably, and, apart from Wearne, the bowling this term was not convincing. Even Wearne suffered from having to do too much work, and the boisterous winds that he encountered almost every Saturday did not suit his bowling. Still his performances were first class. Marchant suffered from the fact that he has grown several inches in height recently, and has not yet succeeded in making the necessary adjustments in his delivery, and his length has been inaccurate. He still gives promise of being a very good bowler. Wilson and Irving, promoted to the team this term, tried very hard, and improved a good deal in control.

The fielding has been keen and fairly dependable. Deamer and Kraefft were as good as ever; Butler made a great improvement, and should be first class next year; Wearne set a good example of tireless work; and no one fell far below standard. In this respect the team was much better than in first term and much easier for the captain to handle. Dunsmore's wicketkeeping was at times good, but it was not as reliable as it had been last season.

The batting was better than in first term, and the improvement was general rather than particular. Emery was consistent throughout, but most members came to light with runs at some time during the season. Godwin and Smith, going in fairly late, were dependable when runs were wanted. Deamer had a good term, and, if luck had been with him, might easily have done better.

The team enjoyed all its games, and in the two-day matches was unbeaten for the year. Against King's, however, the main game was inconclusive, and in a one-day match they beat us comfortably.

The 2nd XI. was younger than usual, but contained some promising players, and most of this team will be back next year. In the lower grades, too, there are many boys certain to develop into good players.

It was fitting that Wearne should captain the side during his last term at school. To him more than to any other individual can be attributed the success of our teams for the past two seasons. It will probably be a long time before we have a more capable and courageous bowler or a more cheerful and happy sportsman.

G.P.S. MATCHES.

v. S.G.S.—Played at Weigall Ground on October 19 and 26.

Grammar won the toss, and batted on a good wicket. However, they were soon dismissed for 62, due to the two opening bowlers, Wearne and Irving, the former taking 7 for 25.

Shore's first innings saw a fine seventh-wicket partnership between Godwin

(62) and Smith (37), which enabled the team to establish a lead of 171 runs. Emery also batted carefully for 32.

Grammar, in their second innings, once again started badly. Barbour made a fine stand for 83, but lacked support, and, when they were dismissed on the second day for 213, Shore only had to gain 44 runs to obtain an outright win, which they did for the loss of only one wicket.

The most successful Shore bowlers in the second innings were: Wearne, 4 for 48; and Wilson, 2 for 37.

former was dismissed for 50. Deamer went on to make a fine 113, despite an injured leg, before being run out. Of the total, 321, Kraefft contributed 56.

Scots started off in fine style, Weller, a newcomer, batting very well for a bright 82. On the second day, Wearne dismissed the remainder, taking 7 for 88, and Scots were all out for 238.

Shore, in their second innings, totalled 220 before closing, of which Emery scored a chanceless 109 and Smith 58 not out. This gave Scots 303 runs to get in three hours.

Scots started badly, due to the fine bowling of Irving, who finished with 6 for 61. At one stage Scots had lost 4 for 28, but were able to avert an outright defeat by one wicket. Thus Shore won on the first innings by 83 runs.

v. Newington College.—Played at Northbridge on November 23.

The first day's play had to be abandoned. The second day found Newington, after winning the toss, batting on a perfect wicket. Their openers started well, Curtis scoring 70 runs before being dismissed. However, rain fell and made the wicket very easy. Newington went on to make 182 before closing with 7 wickets down. Wearne took 5 for 49 and Wilson 1 for 34.

Shore had very little chance of obtaining a first innings win, due to the bad state of the wicket, and thus batted out time, finishing with 4 down for 65, the match ending in a draw.

This left Shore once again the most successful of the G.P.S. teams for the second year in succession.

9th and 10th XI's.

In spite of dry conditions, many of the usual matches were played. Paterson, Morell, W. P. Nelson, Warby, Coward, Palmer and Taplin scored well on occasions, while Wansey, Lawrie and Paterson ii. all bowled creditably. Net practices were fairly well attended. Morell, Lawrie and Cormack were promoted to the 6th XI. Morrell, Wansey and P. G. Coward captained most successfully. The batting standard of the 10th XI. has been unusually low this season, this undoubtedly being due to the fact that the better players are continually being moved into higher teams. It is obvious that the result of such sifting should be most noticeable at the end of the year.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL NOTES.

The Chapel.—Addresses were given by the Chaplain, and one by Mr. Anderson at a special service on Armistice Day. On occasions the singing has been good, though more effort might have been made by the "50 Choir." Sometimes the Lesson reading was excellent.

Music.—The "50 Choir" has been doing good work, practising songs ancient and modern, besides a few rounds in three and four parts. The "A" section sang the best. Owing to the term's full programme, the intended concert in School House did not come off. A concert provided by the Swingtet in aid of war funds was greatly appreciated.

Plays.—Under Mr. Brierley, a play has been prepared by I.I.A., and we look forward to seeing this performed. "The Brass Door-Knob" was a great success, and congratulations go to R. Meikle and R. Tiley. Mr. Brierley, the producer, was well rewarded by the performance.

Art.—There is much talent, and great strides have been made by the more industrious. Jamieson, Valder, Cameron and Studdy have worked the best. Far more work should be attempted out of school, if talent is to be developed. Several boys in Form I. show marked ability.

Mr. McWilliam.—We welcome back Mr. M. McWilliam after his most eventful trip to England.

War Funds.—The boys have continued to contribute steadily to the daily collections, while the efforts of certain individual boys have been even better this term. Two youthful organisations, Ferris Ltd. and C. R. Theatres, have handed in good sums from time to time. A fête organised by two Remove boys, Brigden and Mackintosh, resulted in a donation of £7, while another fête run by Studdy, Hardwick, and others brought in the splendid sum of £15. These efforts are particularly praiseworthy. The whole Preparatory School also made an effort in the sale of concert tickets.

Boarders' Activities.—A most enjoyable launch trip on the Lane Cove and Parramatta Rivers was held on House Regatta day. Keen disappointment was felt at the postponement of the annual camping week-end, but it is hoped to hold it later. Our thanks are due to Mr. J. Williams for showing us a most interesting set of films taken on a recent world tour.

Physical Training.—We have again taken up our regular routine of physical drill and organised games under Mr. Sellick, while a special squad is training with a view to giving a display later in the term.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

The Annual Athletic Sports were held at Northbridge on 10th October, before an interested crowd of parents and other spectators. The programme was a rather full one, so that, although heats had been held previously, the majority of the boys in the School took part.

Some good performances were witnessed, G. R. J. Coghlan and J. A. Bulmer being outstanding in the open events. Coghlan won the broad jump and high jump, and took third place in the 100 yards, thus gaining the Victor Ludorum Challenge Trophy, which is the trophy awarded to the senior champion athlete. Bulmer won the 100 yards and 200 yards. Other winners of championship events were:—

100 Yards, under 12 :	I. L. Watson.	1 st .
High Jump, under 12 :	J. G. Hyland.	1 st .
100' Yards, under 11 :	N. J. Davey.	1 st .
75' Yards, under 10 :	G. G. Hawker.	1 st .

Davies Quarter won both the junior and senior relays, and Baker Quarter won the "B" relay.

Davies Quarter easily won the Quarter competition from Baker, the point score being : Davies, 41 ; Baker, 18 ; Hall, 14 ; and Linton, 11.

During the term several boys took part in the inter-school contests of the Senior School in the under 12 years and under 13 years events. These competitors included I. L. Watson, H. L. Pulling, D. J. Bowe, G. R. J. Coghlan, D. H. Playfair, J. A. Bulmer, J. G. Hyland and E. W. Carr.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL CRICKET.

Owing to the exceptionally dry season, our cricket as a whole has suffered considerably. However, our first four elevens have practised regularly each week. Although on occasions no middle wicket has been available, we have taken the advantage of this by giving more time to fielding and bowling practices, which, as a result, have improved generally.

On account of the usual practice wickets or nets being unavailable, vigorous and rounders have been enjoyed by the remainder of the School, and, if nothing else is achieved, it has been excellent exercise, and, we hope, the making of a good eye for cricket in the future.

As will be seen from the results of our matches, we had a most successful term. We have been fortunate enough to field a particularly good all-round 1st and 2nd XI. Perhaps not so much so individually, but as teams both elevens have been something we shall be proud to remember; they have played as a team in every sense of the word, and with keenness and enthusiasm. The fielding and bowling throughout the year is worthy of mention, as it has been above the average in both teams.

We shall hope to hear some good reports of boys who are leaving us to go into the Senior School next year. To these boys we wish to take this opportunity of wishing them all good luck for their success at cricket in the future.

The first round of Quarter matches have been played. Judging from the narrow wins Davies and Linton have had from Baker and Hall respectively, the semi-final and final games should prove very interesting.

The following boys deserve special mention for the consistent way they have played throughout the year:—

Batting: D. H. Playfair, Crane, Suhan, Warby, R. C. Bowe, E. W. Carr, G. Thornton, Watson.

Bowling: Bennett, Turner, Warby, Crane, Solling.

Fielding: Crane, Playfair, Coghlan, Warby.

The Colts and Trials this term have played several matches, and, although only winning one of their games, they have always given a good account of themselves, as their opponents have nearly always been a stronger and bigger side. We have every reason to believe that we shall have several promising cricketers in our 1st and 2nd XI's next year from these junior cricketers. The best players include A. J. West, Blackett, Lee, Hyland, Shaw, Davey and Hawker.

OLD BOYS' UNION

The Annual Meeting was held at the School on Friday, 4th October, when the following office-bearers were elected :—

Patron : The Headmaster.

President : R. N. Cadwallader.

Vice-Presidents : I. D. Armitage, R. C. M. Boyce, G. E. Browne, J. Cadwallader, N. Y. Deane, R. B. Hipsley, C. M. Marsh, A. Distin Morgan, A. H. Moseley, D'A. F. Roberts, E. I. Robson, C. S. Tiley, G. C. Turnbull, H. L. St. Vincent Welch, A. B. S. White.

Honorary Secretary : E. M. Swire.

Honorary Treasurer : A. C. O'Reilly.

Assistant Hon. Secretary : J. F. Linton.

Assistant Hon. Treasurer : F. W. Catts.

Honorary Auditor : D. M. Dixon.

"Torch-Bearer" Representative : D. J. Richards.

The ballot for Committee resulted in the election of the following :—

J. E. M. Dixon.	T. T. Halstead.	D. C. Pope.
A. D. W. Fisher.	J. W. Lipscomb.	P. C. Taylor.
B. L. Geddes.	D. M. MacDermott.	H. M. Vincent.

At its first meeting on 7th November, the Committee co-opted Messrs. W. Sawkins and K. D. Anderson of the School Staff.

All Old Boys were deeply moved by the news of the death of Sergeant-Major F. J. Davidson on October 2. It seemed that something both irreplaceable and essential had been lost to the School, for, as one Old Boy said, the S.M. was as much a part of the School as the School Tower.

Many letters of sympathy were received at the School, all testifying to the very high place Onkus (?) held in the affections of Old Boys. Many of us remember that exceptionally fine speech he made at our Annual Dinner in 1938. Others remember some little incident concerned with the S.M., or some peculiar though lovable characteristic. But our most lasting memory is of a man whose physique and character were remarkably alike. He was at all times as straight as a die—his character as upright as his fine bearing. Nothing that we can say or write will do as much justice to this remarkable man as the very moving address given by the Headmaster in the Chapel service. It is reprinted in the School portion of this issue.

In his passing, the School has lost a loyal servant and the Old Boys a true friend.

At the end of this issue we publish a list of all Old Boys who have enlisted in the Navy, A.I.F., R.A.A.F., and other branches of His Majesty's Forces on active service. The list is as complete and as accurate as we can make it, but there must be many omissions and perhaps some errors. We therefore ask all readers to go through the list thoroughly, and advise the Secretary as to further information or amendments. Additional names, changes in rank, transfers to other units, fuller particulars—all such information will be welcomed. To those Old Boys and parents who have already assisted us in this regard, we tender our thanks.

At the Annual Meeting of the Old Boys' Union held on 4th October, 1940, the following amendment was made to our Constitution:—"The subscription of all members on active service abroad shall be waived for all years subsequent to their enlistment until their discharge or transfer to a unit for Home Defence; and, in the case of a member embarking for overseas prior to 4th May in any year, his subscription for that year shall also be waived if it shall be unpaid on that date. Provided also that the Committee shall have discretion to waive annual subscriptions for any members serving in any of His Majesty's Forces in Australia."

We received an interesting letter from Guy Harriott, War Correspondent with the A.I.F. He writes:—

A pleasing feature of a job not always easy has been the number of Old Boys I have met in the A.I.F. over here and their ready good fellowship. I have been hailed by them in all sorts of places—officers' messes, men's canteens, and Tel Aviv night-clubs. I think the School has representatives in pretty well every branch of the Army, and, of course, in the R.A.N., which has already made a name for itself through the exploits of the "Sydney" and the "Hobart." . . . I met Lieut. Freddy Taylor, Head Prefect in 1929. . . . Two of the senior medicine men at the Australian General Hospital here are Old Boys—Major Neil Francis and Major Lorimer Dods. . . . Major R. H. Russell, of the Field Ambulance, has been trying to organise an Old Boys' Dinner. . . . A man who is doing a difficult and thankless job with a tact which has won him a host of friends is D.A.P.M. Captain Godfrey Hawker. . . . Three of my shipmates on the first convoy coming over were Ron. Willmott and Bill Travers, lieutenants, and R. H. Bourke with a corporal's stripes up. Jika Travers is over here, of course, too, and the brothers have made a name for themselves in A.I.F. sporting circles. Lieut. Les. Calman was a little difficult to recognise at first, as he has camouflaged himself with a moustache of really formidable proportions. . . . Up to date, hard training has been the order of the day for all ranks—nothing spectacular, but plenty of solid work—and the troops are as fit and tough as men can be. They are all as keen as mustard to get into the "real thing." When that will be, Heaven—and the Olympians at Middle East Headquarters—alone know."

Guy Harriott and another Old Boy, Kenneth Slessor, the Commonwealth Official War Correspondent, at present in England, both carry the rather odd grading of "officer without rank."

Colonel T. A. J. Playfair, D.S.O., O.B.E., V.D., was recently appointed Commander of the Royal Artillery, 2nd Division.

Ian Esplin has graduated from his R.A.F. training school with the rank of Pilot Officer, having passed exceptionally well, it seems. He has been posted to an Instructors' class.

Stan. Welch also did very well in his Elementary Flying Training at Mascot, coming top of his class. He is now with the R.A.A.F. in Canada completing his training.

Norm. Stokes, who is with the A.I.F. in England, is now in the "Fighting 72nd," and has been transferred from M.G. Carriers' Platoon to Battalion H.Q. Intelligence. His entry into this distinguished arm of the service was celebrated by a week's trench-digging. Norm's letters to the writer of these Notes contain some first class descriptions of English countryside, cathedrals, etc., and it is hoped that we shall have space to reproduce some of his literary gems in succeeding issues.

E. B. J. Smith has been selected N.S.W. Rhodes Scholar for 1941. He entered the Faculty of Science in 1937 with a Public Exhibition. In 1938 and this year he was awarded a blue for rowing, and is vice-captain of the University Boat Club. He is a lieutenant in the Sydney University Regiment. For six months Brian has been doing research work on natural products at the University, and he intends to do research in chemistry when he goes to Oxford.

The congratulations of the Old Boys' Union have been conveyed to Mr. Justice Dudley Williams on his recent appointment to the High Court of Australia.

The annual cricket matches against the School will take place on 15th February next. The Union hopes to field three teams, and those who will be available are asked to send their names to the Secretary on or before 11th February.

The Torch-Bearer has been cut down in the interests of economy. A good suggestion for further economy has been made by an Old Boy to the effect that members who have sons at the School should send their names to the Secretary offering to forego issues of The Torch-Bearer "for the duration." Those who are willing to do this as a war-time economy should inform the Secretary if their sons leave the School, so that the posting of copies of The Torch-Bearer to them can be resumed.

We trust we are not disclosing information of value to the enemy when we say that there are 144 one-pint Wedgwood mugs with the School Crest in colours somewhere on the high seas on their way to Sydney. We advise an early application to the Secretary.

A recent letter from London from P. H. Shirley (1924-29) contains an open invitation to any Old Boys who are free for a few hours or days to visit him at "Meadow Cottage," Windsor Lane, Woburn Green, Bucks.

We have heard that Jika Travers has been appointed A.D.C. to Major-General I. G. Mackay.

S.C.E.G.S. OLD BOYS' CLUB.

A good attendance of members at the Club has been maintained throughout the year, and the Committee has been pleased to see that many members now in the various Forces have made a point of using the Club while they have been in the city.

The coming year promises to be a difficult one financially, as more than seventy members are now on the Active Service List, which entitles them to a remission of all subscriptions until their discharge. Accordingly it is hoped that the membership list will be considerably increased by a large number of the boys who leave School this year, as well as by other Old Boys who have not up till now become members.

Boys leaving school this year who wish to join should see Mr. Pascoe, who can supply them with full information and entry forms. Special concessions are available to them, if application is made within four months of the end of the School year, when no entrance fee is charged, and a subscription of £1/1/- covers the years 1941 and 1942.
