EDITORIAL.

The School does seem to be picking itself up this term. The hum of extra-school activities is penetrating the cloisters of the School. Indeed we cannot help hearing them. The Octet Club is practising in any rooms available; the Orchestra is working at its scores; the Debating Club, although not so well patronised as last year, is in a state of reasonable affluence; a Chess Club is in the forming, etc., etc. The Editor has heard rumours of a play for Concert Day by a justly renowned English playwright; the Orchestra is practising Haydn and Bach with vigour—all of which points to a growing enthusiasm for good (not merely second rate) artistic expression in this School.

It is to be hoped that this hum will not die away, but rather that it should grow and increase in volume. We have started late, for a large school, in successful orchestras, etc., and it will take some years for us to hear from our assiduous musicians symphonies and concertos of the highest quality. Certainly the standard is improving. Even the choice of music shows the increase in interest for really good music as apart from catchy ephemeral stuff like Offenbach's "Barcarolle" or the "March from Bizet." This year we can expect to hear from our Orchestra a programme worthy of the School.

Sometimes these exchanges of magazines with other schools are interesting, and sometimes acutely annoying. For instance, the other day the magazine of Geelong Grammar School came to us, and we found there, to our great envy, the record of the Bach "Mass in B minor" performed by the school with the necessary outside help. For a moment we were flabbergasted thinking of "Cox and Box"—no doubt a very worthy light operette, but hardly in the same class. However, we remembered last year's Orchestra Concert, and hoped some day to hear in our own hall the great Kyrie. For the Octet Club and Choir together could do a good job of work.

We are informed by those Old Boys of bygone days that in their time nothing like this was ever known. Art was "cissy," music effeminate. It is fair to say that now that false preconception is almost eradicated. The Octet Club can boast a fine set of "toughies."

Of course, all this is highly desirable. There is nothing which points so conclusively to the School's good health than this interest in other things apart from schoolwork and sport. And that side of the School's activity has not suffered; that is self-evident.

Really now the full flowering of the School's ability awaits the building of an Assembly Hall. Then the mind can lose itself in unending vistas of plays and concerts which will broaden the mind and widen the scope of the dullest amongst us.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The School Council has presented an address to the Governor of New South Wales, Lord Wakehurst, upon the retirement of His Excellency from the office which he has held for a prolonged period in a time of great national importance. Lord Wakehurst has on several occasions been present at the School to give away prizes on Speech Day, and we shall long remember his kindly interest in our community life. His Excellency recently gave the School a chart of world history which was prepared by his mother for her children; and when it becomes possible to have it framed, it will be placed where everyone may see it. We wish His Excellency and Lady Wakehurst a safe and happy return to their homeland.

For many years Professor E. R. Holme, O.B.E., M.A., has served the School—first as a master in our very early days, and later as a member of the Council. Now he has retired, leaving a record of wise and zealous service, which has enriched the School and greatly fostered its development. It is well that we should be mindful of our friends. The School owes much to Professor Holme.

Yet a third farewell note, this time to a figure of daily familiarity. When on last Speech Day the Headmaster announced that Miss Mackey would not be returning this year, there were many who thought at once that Shore would never be quite the same without her. Miss Mackey came to us just after the last war to teach modern languages. To-day there are several hundred Australians who owe much or all of their knowledge of French to her lessons. For some time she has suffered an increasing infirmity, and was away most of last year. Her many friends will wish "Madam" good health and long enjoyment of her leisure.

Mr. Branthwaite Clarke, who is Number Two Old Boy of the School; has recently discovered a flaw in "The Torch-Bearer's" ancestry. Back in the 1920's our serial numbering got out of control and missed one number. It was an oversight, and we could wish we had never made a worse. Mr. Clarke has also presented to the Committee several old numbers going back far into our past history, and the Committee thanks him.

RELATIVITY.

Many of us who take Physics at school tacitly accept all we are taught as true. Therein lies the fallacy which has caused a misconception of physical phenomena for centuries.

Motion, we are tritely told, is "a changing of position," and we proceed to learn this definition off by heart because we either don't understand it or are not satisfied with it. Any logical reasoning demands that one defines one's terms, and Physics is no exception. Yet amidst the multitudinous phenomena involving time relationships, text books on the subject unanimously chose to omit a definition of time. Perhaps one may say that a definition of time would be tedious in the extreme, and unnecessary since the idea of time is such a simple one. But time is not simple in nature, as would seem at first sight.

Newton, in developing his mechanical viewpoint, assumed time to be unalterable, and his successors for over three hundred years followed this assumption without refuting it. It was a product of this century, Albert Einstein, who demanded that the principle of time be attacked fundamentally.

Let us take an example. There are two physicists, one conducting experiments in the open air and the other carrying out similar experiments in a rotating room. They are each using a clock. Would both clocks have the same rhythm? Newton would have said "yes" to this question, but the answer is "no," as Einstein has shown. Now, suppose the inside experimenter had spent all his life inside the rotating room. Since he knows nothing of the world outside his room, he would formulate different laws for the motion of bodies to the outside experimenter. Because of the earth's rotation, we may liken ourselves to the man inside the room, and, reasoning along suitable lines, we could deduce that the Newtonian laws of motion would not hold for an observer some distance from the earth's surface. In fact, we could not obtain fundamental laws unless we could find a place of absolute rest to relate them to? The theory of relativity gives an explanation.

Time, we have found, contrary to expectation, varies with motion. It is possible that other fundamentals vary also. Both experimental and theoretical fact have recently shown that a body in motion contracts along the direction of the motion, and that if the velocity of the body were to approach that of light it would tend to vanish. This surely refutes the principle of the conservation of matter.

Other interesting aspects of the subject present themselves, such as the application of relativity of geometry. If the study of relativity interests you, a number of admirable books are obtainable.

CHAPEL NOTES.

Open Sunday Service was held on May 6th at 11 a.m. The Most Reverend the Archbishop of Sydney, President of the School Council, preached the sermon. The service was broadcast.

* * * * *

The Memorial Service arranged for the Old Boys' Union in memory of Old Boy members of the Services who have lost their lives in this war was held on Sunday, April 29th, at 7.30 p.m. The Headmaster read the 2nd Lesson, and Mr. C. S. Tiley, President of the O.B.U., read the 1st Lesson. The Reverend I. D. Armitage said the National Prayers. The Chaplain conducted the service, assisted by the Reverend T. H. D. Kitley.

* * * * *

At Evensong on the Sunday next before Easter (Palm Sunday), a Choral Service was held. Several anthems suitable to the theme of Holy Week were sung by the Choir. The sermon was preached by the Reverend A. H. Venn, Acting Rector of St. Andrew's, Roseville.

* * * * *

The Reverend W. G. Coughlan, Director of the Christian Social Order Movement, gave an address in Chapel on Friday morning, March 23rd.

* * * * *

On Friday morning an address was given by the Reverend H. M. Arrow-smith, of the Church Missionary Society.

* * * * *

On Friday morning, March 2nd, the Reverend W. H. Rainey, Commonwealth Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, spoke at the Senior School Chapel Service, and also at the Preparatory School Service.

* * * * *

An Anniversary Service was held in the School Chapel on Anzac Day, April 25th, at 9.15 p.m. The speaker was Dr. C. E. W. Bean, C.B.E., official Australian War Historian.

THE APPRECIATION OF MUSIC.

The earliest form of music, as we know it, was the suite, which is merely a set of pieces placed together. Many of these are dance or folk tunes, which are popular at the time of writing. These forms were practiced by Bach, Handel and Purcell, the best known of early composers.

The sonata is the outgrowth of the suite in the past that consists of a collection of pieces, three or four in number; but the difference is that the dance tune idea is abandoned and a more serious form of expression taken on. Of course, however, right up to the time of Beethoven the minuet was retained in sonata form.

The sonata was the base of all musical writing. From it originated what we call the symphony; i.e., a sonata for orchestra, the concerto, and the string quartet.

I must first distinguish between "sonata" and "sonata form." The former is used in reference to the whole composition, while "sonata form" refers to the plan on which the first of these pieces or movements is constructed. The present form was evolved by Emanuel Bach and Haydn. The four movements of a sonata usually are:—

- (1) A fairly long well developed movement in sonata form.
- (2) A slow movement in contrast to (1).
- (3) A minuet and trio, or a scherzo (as introduced by Beethoven), which is sometimes omitted.
- (4) A movement similar to (1) or in another form such as a "rondo."

Let us consider them in turn.

The First Movement.—This is generally the most important and the longest movement. It is divided into three parts: (a) The Exposition. (b) The Development. (c) The Recapitulation.

(a) The Exposition: This "exposes" the tunes or subjects (usually two) of which the whole movement is made. The first subject is the key in which the sonata is written, and it leads through what is known as a bridge or connecting passage to the second subject, which, although different, is related in key. This part of the 1st movement finishes off with a small coda or concluding passage, and in the earlier works of this form the whole was repeated possibly to impress the subjects on the listener's mind.

(b) The Development: The subjects are long tunes, and these can be divided into fragments. The composer takes one, two or three of these fragments and makes variations in them as much as he can—he develops the themes or the subjects. It is at first difficult to follow these developments, but careful listening will make them clear.

(c) The Recapitulation: In this section we again hear the original subjects, but in the same key. Finally the whole movement ends in a coda longer than that before, and this, as it were, frames the whole picture.

The Second Movement.—The purpose of this movement is to provide a severe contrast with the 1st movement. It is a slow movement comprising sometimes one, sometimes two, themes. The 1st movement is generally marked "allegro," while the slow movement is marked in "adagio" to "andante."

The Third Movement consists of either (a) a minuet or trio or (b) a scherzo.

(a) The Minuet: The first tune presented is a minuet A, stately and grand with its "three beats in the bar" rhythm. This is repeated, and then a second tune (B) is introduced and repeated. Next the trio comes, and it is a second minuet without the 3rd repetition of the first tune. Finally we come to what is known as da capo, where the first — subjects are played once more without repeats. Thus, if A, B, C, D are the tunes in order, the form of this movement is A, A, B, B, C, C, D, D, A, B (fine).

(b) The Scherzo was introduced by Beethoven in place of the minuet. The word means "joke" or "jest," and this really tells the tone and implication of the movement. It is followed by a trio, and in most of Beethoven's writings ends at a sudden, unexpected point in the theme.

The Fourth Movement.—A contrast is again here provided by the rapid time as compared with the stateliness of the 3rd movement. The construction is sometimes the sonata form, as in the 1st movement. To give greater gaiety some composers, especially Mozart, have used another form known as the rondo. In this form the tune keeps recurring or coming round again. If A represents the main theme, and B and C subsidiaries, the form is A, B, A, C, A, B, A. It generally ends with a coda as movement (1).

WELL, WELL, WELL!

I've earned my money, worked my way up from the bottom I have, and there's nothing I've got to be ashamed of. I'm as clean as crystal; does y' good to be able to see someone whose soul is as clean as mine! I'm above all those fools in there, with their lights blazing, that can't even be content-earning money all day, but have to make their damned fireworks all night. Munitions! Soon as the war's over, where'll they be? Eh! answer me that 'un. But me—I know myself! Rose from a nobody, I did. More'n they'd do in a million years. Can't see what they're really like inside fer the fat! But you can see right into me like I was glass. I'm as good inside as I look outside!

Thus thought one of our richest and most powerful men. This particular great man, who could see his very soul through his body and understand its greatness, was tired, and he wandered through the park glancing irritably at the dazzling lights of the munitions factory, which pointed black fingers into the sky. That munitions factory and its manager were his most deadly enemies, so he thought, since it diverted streams of money which he considered should flow to him, and him alone.

To escape the infuriating sight, he left the path he usually took homewards and followed another down into a small hollow. He came to one of the wishing wells liberally scattered through the park, and, sitting down on a stone, leant his head on his arms crossed on the stone railing, and thought.

The well was one lit all night by hidden lights, and in the centre a stone monster rose from the water. This beast's head was lit from below by a tinted light concealed somehow in the chin, and a green light burst from the brazen eyeballs and the corroded teeth. The granite body was washed by water that flashed into golden flames, and the huge bare claws were almost buried in rusty coins.

The great man likened the well to himself, only, of course, as far as its hidden lights blazed through the transparent water. His soul was as bright and clear as those lights, and it shone from all over his body. Then another thought struck him. His soul certainly was a bright light, but wherein did his greatness lie? Perhaps the brightness he saw inside him was only something reflecting and not given out light. Stupid thought! Of course he was great, above all others—greater than the fools that threw their money before this monster as though it were a god, obscuring the beautiful light from the water with pennies. Fools! Idle fools!

And then the monster smiled, and brushed the great man into a cold embrace with one stroke of its gilded paw. He made no attempt to save himself, but he had a vague sense of falling, and yet of rising; but he sank into the bright water, and at once began to play with the pennies he found there, and rub them against the monster's golden sides until both shone brighter than polished gold, and all the while the monster spewed forth golden coin. Then the great man began to break off pieces from the monster's sides, but did not notice his bleeding hands, and drank deeply from the cool depths and tried to break off the monster's claws, but could not, for they were steel; so he cried, and then he laughed and splashed around happily, trying to catch the diamonds that rose from his breathing.

Soon he would take the monster's place, so he bathed his skin in the golden light that flooded up from his coins, until it looked like gold and his hands like claws. But what is this?

Where is the gold? It is changing!

He seized handfuls of it and rubbed it against the rough granite sides of the monster. But his hands passed through the coins, and he hurt his fingers badly. He seized more, but they all dissolved as he held them. He clutched more of them—only copper again now, and he felt that even he was dissolving. But the monster lifted its paw again and threw him from the well, and he fell on the hard paving, his pennies running wetly through his fingers.

The great man sprang to his feet in terror, surrounded in mental and physical darkness. He had fallen asleep on to the stones, and his hand had slipped through the railing into the water—it was still cold and dripping.

The monster was still there snarling, and the water round its feet ran in yellow ripples.

AIR TRAINING CORPS.

This year the strength of the Flight has been sharply reduced from 57 to 34, and the reasons are not difficult to see. The prospect of fruit-picking, cannery work, road work, or even the optimum of a job on ground staff is not enticing to the aspirant for aircrew. The general war situation is another factor, but one which is liable to be misread; many authorities think that the Pacific War is by no means near its final stages, and may run on for several years. Nevertheless, there must be retained, in the post-war period, some framework of air defence, and boys who wish to take up that form of service will be given the fundamentals of the training in the School Flight.

At the end of last term the Flight went into camp at Avalon, mainly for instructional purposes, and a number of Cadets were successful in their examinations. Four passed Stage II., R. S. P. Amos gaining special distinction. Six passed Stage I., all with distinction, except Newlands, who gained special distinction. In a Stage I. examination in November, two passed with distinction, and three others obtained a pass.

This year a new curriculum has been brought in, which shortens the course to two stages instead of four to be covered in the two years from 16-18. This applies to those who joined this year, while those continuing from last year go on with the curriculum obtaining then.

In an examination for N.C.O. rank held at the commencement of the term, twelve out of thirteen candidates qualified, and will receive appointment as vacancies occur. The establishment on the reduced Flight strength this year allows for only five N.C.O.'s, instead of eight as for last year.

A parade of Squadron 48 was held at North Sydney Oval on Sunday, April 15th. Flights from Shore, Knox, S.J.C., N.S.H.S. and N.S.T.H.S. paraded, and some new drill was practised, for which the Flight from the School drew commendatory remarks from the senior officers. No combined parade of School's Squadron was held this term, and no Drill Competition was held.

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

Art.—Although the usual art classes have begun late this year, many boys have already shown up good work done in their own time. The boarders have had several opportunities of working with powder paints, and several show promise.

Music.—The "50 Choir" can sing very well when they are in the right mood, and they greatly brighten our Friday services in Chapel. The junior violin classes under Mrs. Allman are progressing well.

Swimming.—Though the standard of swimming in the various events at the School Sports was quite fair, our representatives were not good enough to gain many places in the Combined Preparatory Schools' Carnival, where our friendly rivals of the Church of England Preparatory School, Mosman, all but scooped the programme. We congratulate them on their all-round excellence.

Cricket.—This term saw the introduction of important changes in the arrangements for cricket and football matches among the Preparatory Schools. The Association decided to try this year a "zoning" scheme of matches. Each of the two "zones" is to run two complete rounds in football and cricket, and the winners of each zone will play off in a final match. We welcome the decision to play two-day matches in cricket, as it will undoubtedly help our standard by enabling each member of the team to play carefully, without any necessity for risky and undue haste, as has so often been the case in one-day matches, where divided time has had to be played. We welcome into our zone Barker College and Chatswood Christian Brothers' College, with whom we have already had some enjoyable games.

At the start of the season very little material appeared to be available. However, with the splendid example of the captain, K. C. Leggett, and the other member of last year's team, T. P. Carr, and keenness and perseverance in practice, the team has developed very well, and we have already had a good deal of success in the matches played. Leggett, Carr, Tugwell and Steele have batted consistently well, and show much promise. The best bowling has been by Carr, Leggett, Tugwell, Shand and Peter Gambrill.

The Second XI. have not had many matches, but its members are very keen, and all are improving steadily. Dalrymple, Treatt and Cornish have been the most consistent players.

The Colts should develop into quite a good team. Finch has been a good captain, and he and Holman are good all-rounders. Carr is a most forceful bat. Pritchard, Maling and Widdis also shape very well.

The Trials are rather disappointing, though Worrall, McAuley and Pratten have played well at times. We owe Mr. Pratten our thanks for his continued interest and help at practices.

ENTERTAINMENTS CLUB.

The first lunch-hour concert this term was held in School House on Friday, February 23rd. On this occasion Miss Leonè Stredwick (pianist) played Chopin's "Nocturne in C minor" as an etude, and Debussy's "Goldfish." Mr. Blair Alldis (flautist), an Old Boy, played Gluck's Melody from "Orpheus" and a movement from each of three of Handel's sonatas for piano and flute, accompanied by Miss Glennie-Holmes.

FOOTBALL.

With the Regatta this year a fortnight after the opening of the football season, our early work at team-building in the senior teams has been held up somewhat by the absence of many footballer-rowers. However, a good deal of very useful training is being done.

After an early run against North Sydney Boys' High School, we have no further practice matches until the last week of the term, when, in addition to our annual fixtures with Christian Brothers' College, Waverley, and Barker College, we also have this year a visit from The Armidale School.

SYDNEY CHURCH OF ENGLAND GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

1st XV., Premiers 1944.

Middle Row—A. D. Eedy, D. E. Cormack, W. A. Farnson, A. W. T. Edwards, J. A. Muston, P. J. Valkenburg, D. B. Warden.
Sitting—C. F. Ferguson, B. L. Collett, B. J. Farn (Capt.), K. D. Anderson, Esc., J. M. B. Cooke, F. E. S. Hall, Inset—S. A. Lloyd.

Our next concert was held on Friday, March 23rd, when the whole programme was provided by Shore boys—a piano solo, "May Night" (Palmgren), by P. J. Benjamin, IV.A.; a flute sonata (Handel) by A. L. Walker, S.A2, with Miss Holmes accompanying; and a trio for two violins and cello (Covelli) by B. T. Shearman, V.A., D. H. Crane, VI.B., and I. C. Rodger, VI.C., members of the School Orchestra. The trio was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Faunce Allman.

On Thursday afternoon, March 22nd, a party of 150 boys attended the first of this year's series of free orchestral concerts arranged for schools in the Town Hall, Sydney, by the Australian Broadcasting Commission. The most interesting part of the programme was the "walk" through the orchestra, during which the audience heard singly each member in each family of instruments. The rest of the programme included three Irish folk tunes arranged by the Australian composer, Percy Grainger, and "Blue Billabong," a suite of Australian bush scenes composed by Clive Douglas, the conductor of the A.B.C. Brisbane Orchestra.

On Friday, April 13th, in the School Chapel, the organist, Mr. Leslie Sage, the Assistant Supervisor of Music in the Department of Education, played music by Bach and Handel, and Mr. Raymond Nilsson (tenor) sang two groups of songs by Handel, Schumann and Quilter.

The final concert of the term took place on Friday, April 27th, in School House, when our visitors were Miss Gloria Noud (pianist), Miss Frances Swales (violinist) and Miss Bonnie Maguire ('cellist). Their programme included "Ritual Fire Dance" and "Spanish Dance" by Manuel de Falla, "Hornpipe" by Frank Bridge, Beethoven's "Tempo di Menuetto," Mozart's "Rondo Alla Turca," and "Tango" by Albeniz.

We express our thanks to the Housemaster and boys of School House for the large prep. room they regularly make available for lunch-hour concerts, and to Miss Lena Ward, of the Associated Music Clubs, for her very great assistance in arranging programmes by visiting musicians.

SHORE SCOUT TROOP.

At the beginning of the Christmas holidays twenty members of the Troop camped at Mt. Keira, overlooking Wollongong and Port Kembla. The camp is situated on a shelf in an amphitheatre of hills one thousand feet above sea level. Behind the camp the hills rise another five hundred feet, and are richly tree-clad. A swimming bath filled by spring water makes the camp an ideal summer resort. The surf is only four miles distant. The chief event of the camp was the visit to Port Kembla Steel Works. The Managing Director, Mr. Hoskins, provided bus transport and lunch, and also guides to conduct the Scouts round the works. Our sincere thanks are due to Mr. Hoskins for his generous hospitality. Our Scouts joined in a camp fire and games with a troop from Wollongong. The District Commissioner of the South Coast and Tablelands visited the camp, and congratulated the Troop on its high standard of camping.

THE FOSSICKERS.

This term the Fossickers have had only one meeting, on April 7th, when Mr. Justice E. D. Roper and Mrs. Roper were our visitors. The Judge gave us a very interesting and informative talk on all aspects of the legal system, and the manner in which it has been developed into its present state. Then, as is the custom at our meetings, the Fossickers asked the Judge all manner of questions pertaining to the law. Mr. Justice Roper, who is a Judge of the is indeed a very prominent and distinguished man in legal circles, and we were very fortunate in having an opportunity to discuss legal matters with him. The Fossickers are very grateful to Mr. Justice Roper and Mrs. Roper for making their meeting so interesting and enjoyable.

CLUB NOTES.

The annual meeting of the Club was held on 8th March last, and the Club President, Mr. Richard Ludowici, submitted the annual report, which read as follows:—

"During the year many discussions have taken place concerning the steps to be taken to improve the Club immediately this is possible. The necessity of bringing about a considerable number of improvements has been in the forefront of the Committee's considerations, with the consequence that this Club moved through its delegates on the Board of School Clubs Limited and instigated proceedings which resulted in the formation of a sub-committee comprising members from all clubs to thoroughly investigate the position and draw up a report and plan. This sub-committee has met on a number of occasions, and has almost completed a report for submission to the Board of School Clubs Limited.

"Total membership for the year is now approximately as follows: Associate members, 22 (six of whom are in the Services); honorary members, 26; ordinary members, 704 (of whom 387 are in the Services). The deficit for the year is slightly higher than in 1943, but this is relatively satisfactory, because during the previous year we received from School Clubs Limited approximately £40, representing a rebate on account of rent.

"The informal function to welcome new members and to entertain boys who had just left school was held earlier in the evening of March 8th, 1945.

"The Committee again records its appreciation of the support and interest received from Mr. J. N. Pascoe as a member of the Club Committee and a member of the School Staff in bringing the Club to the notice of the boys who are about to leave school. The duties of Honorary Auditor were again carried out by Mr. Richard Swift, and the Committee's thanks are extended to him.

"It is with great pleasure that the Committee notes the presence of discharged members of the Services at the Club in increasing numbers.

"The fund inaugurated in aid of the Australian Red Cross Prisoner of War Fund resulted in £1 per week, being collected among Club members and being paid at regular intervals to Headquarters. To date the total amount received is £75/6/6.

"Messrs. D'Arcy F. Roberts and R. Ludowici represented this Club on the Board of School Clubs Limited during the year.

"The Committee records with deep regret the deaths of the following members while on active service: Dvr. J. P. Maclean and Lieut. J. S. Ryan, of the A.I.F.; F/Sgt. P. D. Bateman, F/O. G. B. Huddle, F/O. R. H. Morgan, F/O. J. K. Newth, F/O. C. C. Swire and P/O. B. K. White, of the R.A.A.F. To relatives and friends the Committee extends its sympathy."

The office-bearers elected for the year were as follows:—President, R. Ludowici; Immediate Past President, A. N. Harding; Vice-Presidents, G. E. Browne and J. E. M. Dixon; Hon. Secretary, J. T. Humphreys; Hon. Treasurer, D'Arcy F. Roberts; Committee, R. C. Gowing, T. T. Halstead, P. A. Hanks, H. J. Lewarne, R. G. Mair, J. E. Makinson, S. C. Stott and G. C. Turnbull.

Old Boys who recently joined the Club are: P. D. B. Adams, W. J. B. Allen, G. B. Alvarez, R. S. P. Amos, H. C. Anderson, R. G. Backhouse, E. M. Bagot junr., J. C. Bedingfield, P. Barnes, D. C. ROWING.

The Christmas Camp was most successful. The weather was fairly good, and good progress was made with about 28 boys. Thereafter we rowed two eights and two fours from Gladsville about three afternoons a week (sometimes fewer) and on Saturdays. In the last six weeks these crews were increased to the eight, first and second fours, junior eight, fifth and sixth fours. Mr. Nilsson took keen interest throughout this term, and coached the 5th and 6th fours. Alastair Robson also assisted by coaching the junior eight, which provided also the 3rd and 4th fours.

It took some time to settle the Regatta crews into place. For a long time the combination of the eight was not satisfactory, but when the crew became finally settled, which was about five weeks before the Regatta, they progressed rapidly and eventually became really good.

This early unsettlement, of course, affected the fours. It was always clear, however, that the first four would be good in spite of the several rearrangements under which they had to suffer. The second four was at first rough, but they persevered and improved steadily, and, later, rapidly. The junior eight also had a setback when Pennefather, who had been extremely keen, lost his appendix and consequently his place in the boat. Thereafter they took some time to recover, but eventually they were a very satisfactory crew for their grade, and they raced well.

The eight took part in Sydney Rowing Club Regatta on March 17th in the Open Eights. Their performance was not very good, and indeed showed poor promise. They showed no dash though their form was good enough, and they came fourth, far behind Haberfield and Sydney. They next competed on March 14th at a regatta on Iron Cove against the same crews, with St. Joseph's. They showed quite remarkable improvement: Had it not been for a most unusual accident, they would have been at least a good second to Haberfield. This performance gave them great confidence, and paved the way to further progress.

At Riverview Regatta on April 21st we entered the eight, both fours, and junior eight. The eight's performance in rowing two hard mile races within two hours, and in rowing a dead-heat for first with Haberfield in the Riverview Gold Cup race, marked the crew as of really good quality. The Haberfield crew is a really good club crew, substantially the same as that which rowed in 1944 and which has had an almost unbeaten record since. It contains several very experienced and capable oarsmen. The two fours both rowed most promisingly and beat all other school fours. The first encountered a good Haberfield club four, and had to be content with second place. The second won the maiden fours with ease. The junior eight, after being headed at the start, won its race well.

Following are the records of the races prior to the G.P.S. Regatta:—

MARCH 17.—S.R.C. REGATTA.

Open Eights: Haberfield, 1; Sydney, 2; Balmain, 3; Shore, 4.

APRIL 14.—J. B. SHARP MEMORIAL REGATTA ON IRON COVE.

Open Eights: Haberfield, 1; Sydney, 2; Shore, 3.

APRIL 21.—RIVERVIEW REGATTA.

Open Eights (1 mile).—First Heat: Shore 1, Haberfield 2, Sydney 3; won by a length. Second Heat: St. Joseph's 1, Scots 2; won easily. Final: Shore and Haberfield (dead heat) 1, St. Joseph's 3; time, about 5 mins. 11 secs.

Unclassified Fours (½ mile).—First Heat: Shore 1, Haberfield 2. Second Heat: Mosman 1, Scots 2. Final: Haberfield 1, Shore 2, Mosman 3; won by a length.

Maiden Fours (½ mile).—First Heat: Shore 1, Haberfield 2. Second Heat: High School 1. Final: Shore 1, High 2, Haberfield 3; won by two lengths.

Junior G.P.S. Eights (½ mile).—Shore 1, Riverview 2, St. Joseph's 3; won by a canvas.

G.P.S. REGATTA.

Fortunately the weather was fine, with a light sou-easter which did not affect the half-mile course, but made a rather nasty ruffle on the first part of the eights course. The tide was dead low at Fort Denison at 2.50 p.m. Hence the last three races at least were rowed against the tide—a very unsatisfactory condition on the Cabarita stretch of the Parramatta River.

In the day's racing we entered ten crews, which won five first places, including all the major races, and five seconds. It was a first class performance, for which the credit must be spread widely, but to no one should a greater measure go than, of course, to Mr. Burrell. In keeping the rowing up to standard, in spite of his temporary physical handicap, he has done a job for which we cannot be sufficiently grateful.

Following are the results, with brief comment:—

Third Eights, ½ mile (Shore unrepresented): Grammar 1; Riverview 2, Scots 3; time, 2.42.

First Tub Fours, ½ mile: Grammar 1, Shore 2, Scots 3; time, 1.36½.

Second Tub Fours, ½ mile: Shore 1, Grammar 2, Scots 3; time, 1.37½.

Second Eights, ½ mile: Shore 1, Riverview 2, Newington 3; time, 2.41½. Won by a length. This crew took an early lead, and rowed with power and length at a fairly high rate. All credit to the coach, A. G. G. Robson, for his second win with this crew.

Sixth Fours, ½ mile: Grammar 1, Shore 2, Riverview 3; time, 3.30. This four was badly handicapped by a bad start, which caught them unready, but they made up leeway quite well.

Fifth Fours, ½ mile: High 1, Shore 2, Riverview 3; time, 3.33. Won by 2 ft. only. Jamieson deserves much credit for his sustained keenness in this four.

Fourth Fours, ½ mile: High 1, Shore 2, Grammar 3; time, 3.22. Won by 4 lengths.

Third Fours, ½ mile: High 1, Shore 2, Scots 3; time, 3.15. Won by 5 lengths.

These two crews had rowed before in the Junior Eight, and were meeting fresh opponents. We have not solved the problem of representation in both races without double banking. They did well in the circumstances.

Second Fours, ½ mile: Shore 1, High 2, St. Joseph's 3; time, 3.13½. A well rowed race, with well sustained length and vigour. Won by 1½ lengths.

First Fours, ½ mile: Shore 1, High 2, Grammar 3; time, 3.11¼. Another impressive row. Won by 1½ lengths. The crew took a fairly early lead and did not look like being beaten.

Championship Eights, ¾ mile: Shore 1, High 2, St. Joseph's 3, Newington 4, Grammar 5, Scots 6, King's 7, Riverview 8; time, 4.10 7-10. Won by ½ length.

The positions at the start were: 1, H.; 2, I.; 3, J.; 4, N.; 5, E.; 6, G.; 7, K.; 8, S. Shore started at 38, and lengthened to 34 across the rough patch after the Gasworks. High were then perhaps leading. Along the Cabarita shore, Shore, rowing about 36, went away and were moving out rapidly at the finish. A good sound piece of rowing, with length and powerful, solid finish to every stroke. Good steering made a big contribution to the win.

Lloyd was a good captain, careful of detail, and able to lead. A powerful six, though a little impetuous; very good leg work and blade work. Holliday was a good, vigorous and untiring stroke, with a good finish to his stroke and a satisfactory sense of rhythm. Macpherson has that natural grip with the legs that is the hall mark of a seven, but needs much polish yet at the finish; completely reliable. Fogden—very reliable and thoughtful; a little unsettled at the beginning of the stroke, but a good swinging five. Marquis—a sound oarsman, though a little uncontrolled with slide at the beginning. Hall—rugged, impetuous, but effective and always working. Fuller—neat, good leg work, but rather unco-ordinated. McCormack—a good bow; sometimes a bit hurried, but always lively and finishing well. Richards, at first a raw recruit, picked up his job well, and steered decisively.

CREWS FOR G.P.S. REGATTA.

Eight: Bow, R. J. McCormack, 10.12; 2, P. H. Fuller, 11.0; 3, F. E. S. Hall, 10.12; 4, P. J. Marquis, 11.8; 5, R. S. Fogden, 12.3; 6, C. B. M. Lloyd, 12.7; 7, G. C. Macpherson, 10.10; stroke, R. E. Holliday, 11.8; cox, W. R. Richards.

Second Tub Four : Bow, B. G. Carruthers; 2, A. F. Withey; 3, W. M. Shipway; stroke, J. D. MacCallum; cox, J. B. Jackson.

FOOTSTEPS.

Footsteps, footsteps, down life's changing road,
 Relentless, definite, moving to the goal
 Where earth's ambitions fade in worthless mist :
 That point where both success and failure merge
 In one great mass which is oblivion;
 The place where joins life's dim horizon
 In one great curv'd and purple-tint'd sweep
 To the dark canopy of star-fill'd nothing—
 Earth's roof, and bottom of eternity.
 O Creator of this universe,
 Why must we wait to reach our journey's end
 Before we pierce that dark and lustrous veil,
 And learn the answers to those burning thoughts
 Which fire our brains and cause our heads to reel ?
 Is it that our souls, released from bondage,
 Fly upwards, hawklike, free as air itself,
 And, seeking entrance at the gleaming gates,
 Do enter through a diamond-pointed door
 Set in the indigo and boundless wall,
 To fall amazed into eternal seas;
 Whence, tossed and harried by immortal storms,
 They sink, time-batter'd, on the sparkling shore
 Of a nameless era in an age unborn
 Where, all unconscious, they are cover'd soon
 With dust of time, becoming human clay
 And blotting out all mem'ry of the past,
 Until, their feet set on another path,
 And moving onwards to a different goal,
 They are released from mortal bonds once more
 And rise again unto the starry door ?

THE ART CLUB.

There is a great deal of talent in the School. Good work is continually being handed in, the best of it being displayed under the Arch. Some is pinned up in Room 29. Several new boys are showing great interest : Nicolson, Nickoll, Watling and Best deserve special mention.

We recommend all members to visit the National Art Gallery and temporary exhibitions that are so often advertised, and to examine the work and methods of good artists. Such visits are extremely profitable.

THE OCTET CLUB.

Over fifty are practising in the Club. Owing to the amount of talent about, and the great keenness displayed, it has been hard to cut the numbers down much. It is, however, greatly regretted that so many have had to be refused; but a limit is really necessary.

Vocal scores of "The Arcadians" and "Cox and Box" would be very welcome on loan. Also, in one scene, there will be required over fifty small umbrellas or sunshades. Casual enquiries show that these should be available. Mr. Monckton would be glad to have names of those willing to lend these as early as possible. Those being lent should be clearly marked. All members have been warned about the simple costumes required.

DEBATING.

So far this term we have not had particularly brilliant success. Attendance has been fair (this shows interest is not lacking), but the number of speakers has been regrettably limited to the veterans in the main. However, a few fifth-formers have shown reasonable promise. Palmer is perhaps the best.

The highlight of this term's debating was the match lost to the Masters by the School team. The subject was, "That Australians have it in them to become a great nation." The School team showed its lack of practise by the overstatement of its case, whereas the Masters presented a well balanced case in the affirmative, crowned by the telling reply of their leader, Mr. Jones.

Next term the competition debates will be held. Our team will probably be as for the Masters' debate—Melville, Foster, Mackenzie. But they need more practice; their co-operation is faulty. However, it should weld into a good team.

CADET CORPS.

The year has started well for the Corps, as the notes below will show. The strength is again a record at 339, of whom 113 joined this term.

Guard of Honour.—The Corps was given an opportunity of supplying a Guard of Honour to H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, and paraded one at Admiralty House on March 13. The guard was composed of N.C.O.'s, with two buglers, and was commanded by Cdt.-Lt. A. J. Burns, with Cdt.-Lt. P. F. Everett as 2 i/c. A photo. of the inspection appears in this issue.

Presentation of Drums.—A bass and two side drums were presented to the Corps by A Coy. 7 Bn. V.D.C. at a display given in aid of the A.C.F. on No. 1 Oval, St. Leonards Park. Three platoons of our Cadets paraded on this occasion. The parade was inspected by Maj-Gen. E. C. P. Plant, D.S.O., O.B.E. In addition, the Corps received as a gift a side drum from 18 Pl. E Coy. 8 Bn. V.D.C. These drums are accepted gratefully, and will be most useful.

N.S.W. L. of C. Courses were held at Balgownie during January. All our representatives qualified, the Signallers with distinction. Sgt. D. J. C. Macourt came top of the first course, and L/Sgt. J. A. Skidmore was second in the second course. The results appear below.

Officers.—Lts. H. W. Grigg and I. F. Jones were promoted to the rank of Captain (Temporary) early in the year.

Mr. P. R. M. Jenkins has joined the Corps with the rank of Lieutenant.

Sgts. C. B. M. Lloyd, W. A. Davey and B. O. Wood were gazetted as Cdt.-Lts. during March.

The papers of seven other N.C.O.'s have been sent in. On their gazettal, the Corps will have 17 officers and will be up to its establishment.

N.C.O. Training.—For three weeks potential N.C.O.'s received training; 40 passed the examination out of 66. Since then classes have been held for candidates for promotion to the rank of Sergeant.

Training has been arranged on a different basis this year. A Coy. is to be under the general supervision of Mr. N. M. Goddard, B Coy. of Capt. H. W. Grigg, and the Recruit Cadre of Lt. P. R. M. Jenkins. Capt. I. F. Jones deals with matters of uniform and equipment, and assists with Weapon Training. Sgt.-Maj. P. Sellick trains N.C.O.'s.

The Corps now has a Sigs. Pl. and an A.M.C. Squad. S.S.M.'s from S.O.S.C. staff are in charge of their training.

A Coy. has been doing the Automatic Weapons, and has been receiving training in Method of Instruction.

B Coy. has been occupied with R.T., Guards and Sentries, and Map Reading.

The Uniform situation is not quite clear at the moment. It is expected that Cadets will be lent by the Department of the Army the following items: Great-coat, kitbag, tunic and trousers (woollen), gaiters and hats; perhaps, also, boots. The woollen uniform should be available shortly.

At the present time the Corps is issuing to each Cadet slacks and a shirt of drill.

It should be noted that all these items have to be returned, excepting the shirt.

Cadets are to provide themselves with at least one additional shirt.

The issuing of these items of uniform, free of cost, while it saves expense, puts a heavy burden upon Cadet officers. All concerned should co-operate in securing the return of items due for withdrawal without delay.

Annual Camp was held at Dapto. The weather was hot and dusty, but training was carried out successfully, and the camp was enjoyed by all. Night work figured largely in the programme. A Coy., after digging in during the day, spent a night in the open with patrols out, and staged dawn attacks. Other companies gained experience in night movement and patrolling. No open range was available, but everybody fired a course with the S.M.G.

Long Service.—Of those who left School at the end of last year, Cdt.-Lts. T. P. W. Nelson, and D. B. Cormack enrolled in 1940, and 29 others joined up in 1941.

CRICKET RESULTS FOR TERM I.

In spite of two bad days—the first of the season and the last—the 1st XI. played sound cricket this term. It was a real team; its members played and practised with enjoyment, got on well together on and off the field, had full confidence in their captain, and individually showed themselves capable of rising to the needs of the situation on many occasions when things were going badly. After the first bad day against Scots the position was well retrieved on the second day, and with more time a win might have been achieved. In the last match against High, the collapse was on a very tricky wicket and the game was too short (it only started after lunch on the second day) to make any recovery possible.

No batsman gave the feeling of confidence that Faram did last year. On the other hand, more men were getting runs and every member of the side was liable to hold up the opposition for a good while. Every one had at least one good batting performance. Burns was easily the best batsman, but he sometimes gave his wicket away by treating bad balls carelessly. Bennett showed improvement; Tugwell was solid and patient, Chambers and Taylor aggressive, Love developing on sound lines, Warby watchful on an awkward wicket; Shand, Playfair and Davey difficult to shift when runs were required. Kirby, handicapped by lack of practice, developed in batting as much as anyone; he can hit powerfully, but he will soon be far more useful than a mere hitter.

The bowling was sound and accurate, except in the High School match. Kirby, bowling below half pace, was still very successful. His 21 wickets cost slightly under 5 runs per wicket.— Burns bowled with more guile than last year and got many wickets by his well-concealed change of pace. Love was not at his best, especially towards the end of the season. He lost accuracy, and was delivering the ball sluggishly rather than easily. The lapse will only be temporary. He is too keen a cricketer and too good a bowler not to overcome this temporary weakness. Shand and Warby both showed promise.

It was in fielding that the team was noticeably better than last year's. Very few catches were missed, and some splendid ones were taken in slips by Kirby and Burns, who had moved there because of a shortage of good slip fieldsmen. Taylor, Love and Shand were also outstanding in their work in the field among a team that was consistently good in this department. Davey was always good behind the wickets. The general work of the team has been good enough to give hope that it will have greater success in third term than in first.

The 2nd XI. did very well, winning all its matches, that against Riverview only after a remarkable last wicket partnership. Edwards has shown form consistently as batsman and bowler. The batting was strong generally, and some good scores were made.

Of lower teams, the 4ths (Under 15) and the Under 14A were very successful. The standard of these teams gives hope for the future.

A good deal of cricket was played, but still not nearly enough. We cannot, however, manage any more until satisfactory practice wickets are available again at School ground. Present conditions there make useful cricket almost impossible.

9th and 10th XI's.

These teams have been well provided for in the way of matches, and have had varied success. Leeder and Long have been useful captains. Talent has been slow to develop owing to our lack of practice facilities. Roberts is by far the outstanding batsman, while Stratton shapes quite well. Leeder is developing into a good bowler. Both teams have shown great keenness in spite of wartime difficulties.

OLD BOYS' UNION NOTES.

The ballot for Committee, which was held too late to be published in last December's "Torch-Bearer," resulted in the election of the following members: H. D. Ainsworth, M. M. Goddard, R. C. Gowing, R. A. Hammond, P. A. Hanks, A. B. Lang, J. G. M. Marsh, W. S. Perks and W. L. Rhodes.

At the first meeting of the Committee, N. A. B. T. Backhouse and E. M. Bagot, of the School Staff, were elected co-opted members.

At the time of going to press, it is intended to hold a Memorial Service for all Old Boys who have fallen on service in the School Chapel on Sunday, April 29th. Archdeacon E. A. North Ash, an Old Boy of the School, has been invited to deliver the address at the service, to which all next-of-kin have been asked.

The Union records with deep regret the death of one of its most distinguished members, Colonel R. Heathcote Russell, D.S.O., who was killed in an air crash when on his way to New Guinea to take up an important appointment with the Australian Medical Corps. A tribute to him by Lieut.-Colonel C. H. Selby has been received, and is here printed in part: "I would like to write a few lines in appreciation of Rob. Russell, whose unfortunate death occurred recently in an air accident. Though I did not know Rob. at school, I have known him since the outbreak of the war, and he was a valued friend, so I feel that I am in a position to let you know some of his attributes. The School can always be proud of Rob., and he was proud of it, and often mentioned his school days affectionately. He was one of those rareties known as a gentleman, and was also rare in that I have never heard one word spoken of him except in praise. His quietness and interest in their welfare, and that of their families, endeared him to all the troops." After describing Colonel Russell's gallant conduct during the evacuation from Greece and Crete, Colonel Selby concludes: "His conscientiousness and knowledge of the field caused him to be promoted and given administrative duties. He was about to take up a coveted position on A.D.M.S., 6 Australian Division, when the accident befell him. Our sympathy goes to his wife, son and daughters, and all Shore boys can be very proud of Rob.—a very brave gentleman."

Since the last issue, news has been received of the award of Distinguished Flying Crosses to five more Old Boys: F/Lt. (now S/Ldr.) J. R. Henderson, F/O. G. C. O'Neil, M.M., F/Lt. J. C. King, F/O. D. M. Robinson and P/O. M. R. Priest. S/Ldr. Henderson, to quote the official citation, "has completed many successful operations against the enemy in which he has displayed high skill, fortitude and devotion to duty." He has since been heard of flying Lancasters over Germany, and took part in the attack on the Zeitz oil-plant near Leipzig. In his spare time he plays cricket for the R.A.A.F. at Lords.

No particulars are to hand of F/O. O'Neil's award, nor of F/Lt. King's, but the latter is still believed to be stationed with Bomber Command in England.

* * * * *

F/O. Robinson returned to Sydney in mid-January after spending a period of service in England, where he won the D.F.C. He was an Air Gunner in a Pathfinder squadron, and is believed to have been the only Pathfinder amongst the members of the Union. During his two years away he was missing for about eight months.

* * * * *

The following citation has been received in respect of P/O. M. R. Priest: "Before becoming captain of aircraft, P/O. Priest completed a large number of operations as second pilot, and since then has completed a full tour of duty as a captain. His work has been consistently of high standard, and he has attacked enemy shipping, oil installations and harbours, often in the face of considerable opposition. In September, 1944, he made a daring attack on a convoy of enemy ships off Marine di Ravenna, one of which was set on fire and burnt out completely. This officer's determination and skill have always been most praiseworthy." P/O. Priest has now been posted to a transport squadron in the Middle East.

* * * * *

As we go to press, news of the award of the M.B.E. to Major Don. Esplin for brilliant work in New Guinea has just come to hand. The citation is not yet available.

* * * * *

E. Maynard Pain writes: "Almost all last year I was Flight Commander of a squadron of Coastal Command in South Wales. For a short time we had an Old Boy as one of our captains. He was F/Lt. Clarke, R.A.A.F. The only others I have heard from were a note from W/C. Ian Esplin inviting me to his wedding in London last May, which unfortunately I was unable to accept, and a Christmas card from Napier-Thomson, which indicated that he was still attached to the Australian Legation in Washington. Now I am stationed near London on a course at the Staff College, which will keep me here till the middle of the year."

The Union has received a letter from F/O. A. L. Cohen, replying to a letter of congratulation on the award of his D.F.S., in which he says: "At the moment I am busily engaged in a second tour of operations with Bomber Command, and, as usual, am finding the cold English winter in Lincolnshire somewhat of a trial. Old Boys might be interested to know that S/Ldr. Henderson (Bob), who is well known for his cricket prowess, is a flight commander here, doing his second tour. Eric Utz, who was unfortunately killed in a raid on Nuremberg in March last year, was also a S/Ldr. and flight commander with 460 Squadron. Of my own young contemporaries, I hear Ian Carter and Ian Osborne are well on their way to finishing a tour on Lancasters. [Unfortunately Osborne's death in action is recorded in the Roll of Honour in this issue.] I met Bill Merrett, who has been doing a great job on the Continent flying Typhoons. Bill broke his back about eighteen months ago, but is now quite fit and shooting up many a Hun headquarters." The Department of Air has reported an incident in which Merrett climbed out of his damaged Typhoon, intending to jump, changed his mind, and made a perfect "belly landing" back at his base, saving both his aircraft and himself.

* * * * *

Captain P. G. Taylor is back in Sydney again, having arrived in a Consolidated RY3 plane of R.A.F. Transport Command, of which he was captain. This is the fastest type transport on the Trans-Pacific service.

* * * * *

Captain T. J. West, who joined the A.I.F. early in the war, is at present an instructor at the Royal Military College, Duntroon, where J. G. Monaghan is now a Staff-Cadet.

* * * * *

Pte. T. B. Walton, M.M., reached the finals in the 7 Div. middleweight boxing contests recently, and his brother, Lieut. I. C. Walton (with the Australian Landing Ships Detachment), was in the first party of the A.I.F. to land in the Philippines.

* * * * *

From the Philippines has arrived John D. MacMaster, who was interned by the Japanese Army for three years and two months. He was released by U.S. forces on 23rd February, and wishes his friends to know that he is safe and well. He may be contacted at Messrs. G. S. Yuill & Co. Pty. Ltd., of 6 Bridge Street, Sydney.

* * * * *

Two appointments of interest to Old Boys have been made by the University of Sydney. L. F. Fitzhardinge has been appointed a Lecturer in Classics, and W. S. Gledhill is working as a research chemist in the Department of Organic and Applied Chemistry, after having gained the M.Sc. degree in 1943.

* * * * *

The Committee, with the School's assistance, has arranged a series of lectures on various aspects of public affairs with speakers who are well versed in their subjects, the object being to stimulate interest in topics on which it behoves every citizen to be well informed. The first lecture on Civic Administration by Mr. J. D. L. Gaden proved most interesting, informative and entertaining. There were about 95 present, of whom some 50 were Old Boys, and the remainder boys still at the School. The second lecture, on Parliamentary Government, by Prof. F. A. Bland, was even better attended, and proved equally enjoyable. One more lecture is proposed for this term, and the inauguration of further series will depend on the views of, and support given by, Old Boys in the present series.

Two elevens were fielded against the School on February 10th, and the 1sts were soundly defeated, while the 2nds played a draw. All players, as usual, greatly enjoyed renewing their acquaintance with the grounds at Northbridge once again.

* * * * *

With this issue, two alterations have been made in the method of distribution of "The Torch-Bearer." It is now posted to all servicemen whose service address is known by the Union, and it is mailed as 1st class matter, the object of this being to ensure its reaching its destination. It can, however, only be despatched in cases where the Union is perfectly certain of the service address, and servicemen are asked to co-operate by forwarding details immediately of any change. If this is not done, the Union's gesture will be rendered valueless.

* * * * *

REHABILITATION.

The Committee of the Old Boys' Union is desirous of being of assistance in the placing of Old Boys in suitable openings on their discharge from the Services. With this end in view, the Committee would be glad to hear of suitable openings from persons, firms and organisations who are now in, or anticipate being in, a position to offer employment.

Old Boys who are seeking openings are invited to apply to the Hon. Secretary of the Union in writing relative to their requirements.

Old Boys leaving the Services are reminded that general advisory assistance from the Sub-Committee will be gladly given on request.
