SCHOOL NOTES.

In addition to Mr. Walmsley, about whom a notice appears below, two members of the staff are leaving us at the end of this term, Mrs. Gallia and Mrs. Gourlay. These two ladies came to Shore at a time when sickness and the war were oppressing us, and they have given us reason to say in our farewells, "We are sorry that you are going." We wish them good health and happiness, and are grateful for their help.

* * * * *

During the last weeks of term a series of lectures was delivered to the Fifth Forms by the School Medical Officer, Dr. Jamieson, on "Physiology and Hygiene."

* * * * *

On Friday, November 2nd, an American Tea was held by the ladies of the S.C.E.G.S. Association. There was a good attendance, and the very satisfactory sum of £213 was raised towards the building of the School Hall.

* * * * *

A welcome and original variation in the routine time-table took place one Friday this term, when a debate was conducted between Form V.A. and a Fourth Year Form from Wenona School. The master in charge received an overwhelming number of requests from other forms for permission to be transferred temporarily.

* * * * *

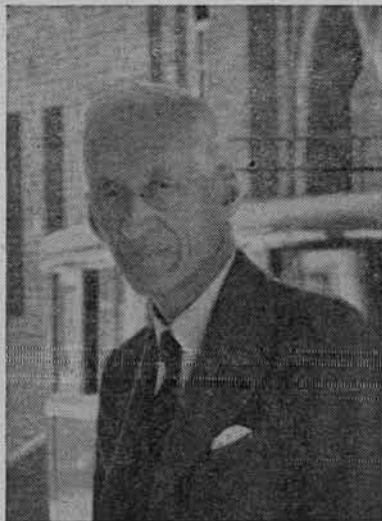

The usual Play Day performances took place this term at the Independent Theatre. It was not possible to give an account in this issue of the actual performances, but at the time of going to press fourteen plays were in rehearsal, ranging from Ben. Jonson to certain present-day and hitherto unknown dramatists. Play Day has taken a firm hold as an annual institution.

The following were made Prefects this term: 5th October—F. E. S. Hall, J. D. Harley, G. W. Thornton, Sub-Prefects: A. S. Boyd, H. H. Jamieson, A. E. Melville, J. M. Michelmore, J. A. H. Skidmore, A. N. Wiles, B. O. Wood.

MR. R. G. H. WALMSLEY.

At the end of this year Mr. Walmsley retires from active service. Between 1901, when he joined the staff, and 1945, the School has grown from something very small to one of the largest in Australia. In that period thousands of boys have been through their years at Shore, and all of them have felt in some way or other the influence of Mr. Walmsley. In the classroom; as Master of the Preparatory School; as choirmaster; as a cricket coach; and, perhaps more than anything else, as himself—a kindly Christian gentleman—Mr. Walmsley has radiated an influence that will not perish while Shore School stands.

Mr. R. G. H. Walmsley.

From 1901 to 1945 is a long time in the life of a man, of an institution and of a world. Mr. Walmsley came to us as a young man : he is now over seventy. When he came to Shore, people were wearing black for Queen Victoria : now her great-grandson sits on the Throne. Dr. W. G. Grace, Prince Ranjitsinji and Victor Trumper were then the giants in cricket. Two world wars have been fought.

Through all these years Shore has grown and changed; and the more it has changed the more it has remained the same. Whatever tradition we may possess of scholarship, sportsmanship and uprightness of life, it has owed much, and will long continue to owe much, to the work, life and example of Mr. Walmsley. The "Torch-Bearer" wishes him all happiness in his well-earned leisure.

CHAPEL NOTES.

Open Sunday was held on December 2nd at 10.45 a.m. The School Chaplain, the Reverend N. & B. T. Backhouse, preached the sermon.

* * * * *

The Annual Service of Lodge Torchbearer was held on Sunday, 11th November, at 7.30 p.m. The address was given by the Reverend Canon H. W. Barder, M.A., Rector of St. Mark's, Darling Point. The lessons were read by the Headmaster, Mr. L. C. Robson, and by Wor. Bro. Eric Jones, W.M.; and the Masonic prayer was said by the Lodge Chaplain, Wor. Bro. J. Carington Pope, P.M. A solo was sung by Mr. Raymond Nilsson.

* * * * *

On Friday morning, 12th October, an address was given to Senior Chapel and also to the Preparatory School in Chapel by the Reverend J. Cable, a missionary from India.

* * * * *

On Thursday and Friday mornings, 18th and 19th October, the Reverend S. S. Ashfold (Brother Sid) and the Reverend S. Carr (Brother Stephen) visited the Chapel and gave an account of the work of the Brotherhood of the Good Shepherd.

* * * * *

The University Musical Society sang Bach's cantata, "Wake, O Wake!" in the Chapel on Friday, 2nd November. Mr. Faunce Allman was the conductor.

The Corps has been visited informally by several Old Boys, many of whom had been p.'so.w. There is no need to say that such visitors are always most welcome. It is appropriate at this point to mention that Captain Adrian Curlewis one afternoon gave a most interesting account of some of his experiences, and did a great deal to help us to appreciate the wonderful morale of the Australian soldier in all circumstances.

The site chosen for the Annual Camp is Wallgrove, and the dates December 5-11—a period of 7 days.

It is intended to parade a Guard of Honour on Speech Day.

AIR TRAINING CORPS.

The combined effect of the cessation of recruiting by the R.A.A.F. and the conclusion of hostilities in Europe has been to reduce considerably the number of boys coming forward for Air Training; thus the Flight strength this year has been not more than 30.

The contraction in Air Force activities has resulted in making the work of the Flight of a much more domestic nature than before, as there has been only one combined parade this year instead of the three held previously. Visits to R.A.A.F. establishments have disappeared for the time being. Only 11 schools still continue in training, as against 23 in training in 1944.

Since Air Defence must constitute a considerable part of the peacetime defence measures of any future Government, and since there will always be some boys who would prefer that type of military training, the School has decided to maintain the Flight, pending the establishment of a permanent scheme for Air Training. There are indications that a move is taking place in that direction, as the Directorate of Air Training has just issued a new syllabus, and has expressed the hope that such Flights as are in being should be maintained.

It should be remembered that such a scheme will be something quite new in Australia's peacetime defence measures, and the Air Ministry faces a big job of planning and organising a scheme to build up, in time, a reserve of trained men to form the nucleus of a future Air Force; but it will have to be done, and it will take time to establish and put in working order.

In the meantime, the syllabus offered will give the Air Cadet a sufficient grounding in subjects necessary to his future work, while the practical side is to be catered for by systematised visits to Air Stations, including at least one attachment of six days' duration; during these visits flights, maintenance work and routine operations would be experienced under Service conditions.

The School Flight is one of the provisions made by the School to prepare boys for their responsibilities in citizenship. Should the scheme outlined above come into force, the youth of to-morrow will be as well fitted as the military cadet is to take his place in the Army.

1st WAVERTON SCOUT TROOP.

Douglas Park Camp.—Once again the Troop camped on Dr. Hamilton's property at Douglas Park from Friday, 24th, until Friday, 31st August. Four Scouts took their bicycles, which proved very useful in getting supplies from Camden, Menangle and Douglas Park. They were also used to collect the milk from a dairy, a few miles away, every morning. Meat was obtained straight from the farm.

On Tuesday, the 28th, a hike was held in the direction of Appin, but most of the time was spent in passing tenderfoot, 2nd class and 1st class tests, swimming or "freezing," and making gadgets for the kitchen. Three camp-fires were held, around which popular songs were sung.

On Sunday, the 26th, a Scouts' Own was held around the main camp-fire. As usual, Mr. Brown kindly drove our gear to and from the station. Mr. Wood visited us and stayed for the last four days.

During the term the Patrols have been working for the Poster and Patrol Competitions. A hike was held on Saturday, 22nd September, from Lindfield to De Burgh's Bridge. Fourteen Scouts made their way to Fuller's Bridge from there, travelling along the east bank of the Lane Cove. For the first two and a half miles the going was easy; after that progress was slower, as many creeks had to be crossed or avoided. We finally reached the Bridge, and made our way by Ryde Road to Pymble Station.

Pennant Hills Camp.—A Camp was held at Pennant Hills on Saturday and Sunday, 28th and 29th September. On Saturday night the boys went to Thornleigh Picture Show and arrived back in camp rather late, thus having a "sleep in" on Sunday. After a late breakfast, a stalking game was played for two hours. During the afternoon we had some visitors, who had a cup of tea with us after the Troop had done some tracking. As it came on to rain very heavily, the "visitors" took us home in their cars.

Investiture.—On Friday, 26th October, an Investiture was held in the Chapel and the following invested as Scouts: David E. Hallinan, James A. Jackson, David G. Pritchard, John Pollock and Robert E. Moore. Also the following Scouts were invested as Patrol Leaders: John W. Arlom (Thrush), Michael T. Allen (Kingfisher), and James K. Gambrill (Jacky Winter).

March at Sports Ground.—On Saturday, 10th November, the official welcome took place to the Duke of Gloucester as the Chief Scout in Australia. After an inspection of the 10,000 Scouts and Guides, a march past was held. Various displays were put on by the Cubs, Scouts and Guides. The School Troop was present, and all enjoyed it very much.

December Camp.—For a change, the Troop is going to camp at the District Camp Site at Blaxland. As there is plenty of wood and an excellent swimming pool, a good time is expected.

During the term a written Tenderfoot Test was given, all Scouts passing satisfactorily.

A Scouts' Annual Service was held in St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday, 1st December.

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

It is pleasing to be able to report that there has been a greatly increased interest in music and acting during the second half of the year. The "50" Choir has responded very well, and can now sing the Festal Responses. Their top notes in hymns and chants require more effort, but their intonation has been especially good.

Instrumental music is being greatly encouraged by Mrs. Allman's skill and enthusiasm as a teacher. Beginners for the violin, clarinet, flute and other instruments, are always welcome, and several of those who began this year are making excellent progress. Good pupils soon find themselves able to enjoy playing with the orchestra.

Great interest was shown by all of the Preparatory School in a short lunch-hour concert of vocal and piano music given by J. J. Allen and J. Endicott, of the Upper School. Their effort was genuinely appreciated.

Another concert, by our own boys, was held on November 23rd. The orchestra of thirteen was composed of violins and flutes. Popular airs were well played by these youthful performers. Rutherford and Noble contributed violin solos; Helms and Read a flute duet; Shaffran, Cuffe and Mellor, piano solos; and Bragg and Morse, songs. Necessary contrast was afforded by an amusing interlude by Maling and N. Carr. Mrs. Allman's accompanying and general interest were, as usual, outstanding features.

The response in Art this year has been somewhat disappointing, only a few boys showing much talent and keenness. Beeman, Lyall and Southwick are the most talented, while Moore, Rutherford and Chapman show skill at Hand-craft.

A play, written and produced by the boys of Remove A, dealing with incidents in the life of Marco Polo, was a really excellent effort. For a boys' production, it was very cleverly done. Wilson, Finch, Goulston, Blanks, Helms and Read acted well, but the star was the comedian, Maling, whose witticisms had the audience in fits of laughter. Another play was written by J. Clements, of I.I.A., and performed by his form.

Great enthusiasm was shown by everyone in the Athletic Sports. An excellent sports meeting was held at Northbridge, and good performances were recorded. Carr's fine jumping enabled him to win the Senior Points Shield after a keen tussle with Gumbley, while Treatt won the Junior Cup. Whitehouse showed great promise among the younger boys. Our team was not quite as successful as we had hoped in the Combined Preparatory Schools' meeting at the Cricket Ground, when we finished fourth in both the senior and the junior sections.

Our cricket team has again won all its matches in their zone. The team this year has been a good all-round eleven, and their keenness at practice has contributed greatly to their success. Leggett, the captain, and Carr have batted and bowled excellently, and both possess the ability and temperament to do well later. Tugwell bowled well, but was disappointing as a batsman, being rather lacking in attack. Gumbley, a new arrival, has been an excellent bat and a most promising 'keeper.

The Seconds have practised keenly, but have not been able to play many matches this term.

There is excellent material in the Colts, several of whom should make their mark later on. Widdis, Finch, McHutchison, N. Carr and Barnier are good all-rounders, while Morse, Hasemer and Eastaway are very promising beginners.

ATHLETICS.

The 1945 season was not quite as successful as the previous one; nevertheless, some good performances were put up at one time or another. The teams won a match against Barker College and Trinity Grammar School with comparative ease, but the fixture with Scots and Grammar was a very different affair, the School emerging with a microscopic lead on points. In the course of this fixture, N. N. G. Levick's long-standing 220 yards record was broken by P. F. Everett.

In the final test of the G.P.S. Sports, the senior team was beaten by a good all-round combination from S.G.S. by a comparatively narrow margin, but the junior teams were all outclassed by a brilliant combination from Sydney High School. P. F. Everett was not quite up to form as the result of a heavy cold, and was narrowly beaten in the 100 yards and 220 yards by P. Heath (T.K.S.). C. M. B. Lloyd won the hurdles, and the relay team won comfortably in 44.2 secs. E. W. Carr, emulating his father, won the 440 yards championship, and W. A. Davey ran splendidly to win the second division of the same race. G. Coghlan was erratic in his broad jump, and only filled fourth place. Other members of the team performed creditably, but did not reach the standard necessary to ensure success.

In the juniors, J. L. Bradshaw won the 100 yards and the 90 yards hurdles. A. J. Sutton was second in the high jump, and continued pluckily to compete in the senior high jump, in which he was fourth. The under 16 relay team won in record time. Tancred and Gumbley obtained second places in the under 13 division, but there were too many gaps in the remainder of the events.

The final points were:—Senior: S.G.S., 103; Shore, 92; Scots, 79; High, 54; King's, 42; Newington, 30; S.J.C., 21; S.I.C., 15; Armidale, 0. Junior: High, 159; Scots, 116; Shore, 109; S.G.S., 84; Newington, 73; S.J.C., 64; King's, 15; Riverview, 12; Armidale, 2.

The Annual School Sports were held at Northbridge on Saturday, August 18th, in fine weather. P. F. Everett won the open championship and the Headmaster's Cup; J. L. Bradshaw won the under 16 championship and the Randal Carey Cup; and M. L. Rothwell won the under 14 championship.

CRICKET — 1st XI.

Cricket in the School is still going on under difficulties. Material is still difficult to get; there are not groundsmen to give us all the wickets we need; the dry Spring made the grounds brown and dusty. The balls available are so poor in quality that it is a matter of real difficulty to keep supplies going. Master and boy-power still has to be used to get any cricket at all on School ground.

In these conditions it has been almost inevitable for the standard of cricket in the School to deteriorate. The 1st XI. was reasonably successful; the 2nd XI., led by a forceful and enterprising captain in Coghlan, did very well and improved a great deal during the season; the Under 14 1sts was a team of fine promise, but most of the others were uneven and on the whole below standard. Some of them did fairly well because other schools were feeling conditions in the same way, but the men taking the teams did not feel very hopeful about their future as cricketers.

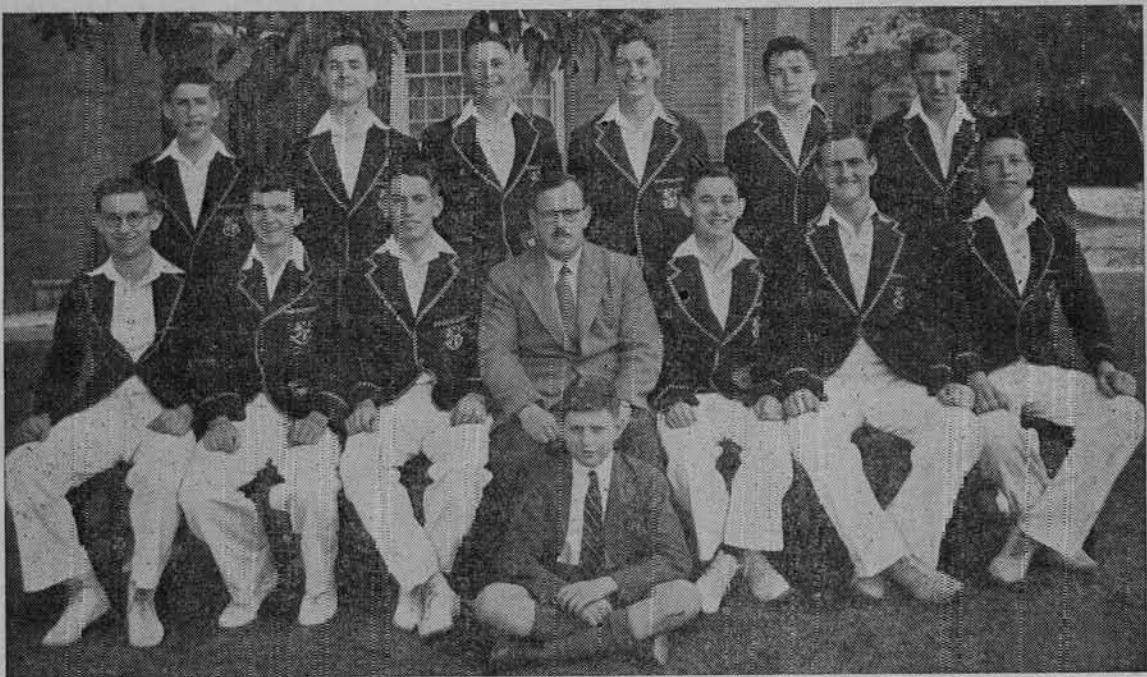

Apart from Scots, who were unbeaten during the season, the 1st XI. was the most successful G.P.S. side. Their batting was even and consistent. Burns, Taylor, Tugwell and Bennett did best, but the others were all able to make runs, and usually did make them when they were wanted. Warby opened well, but on several occasions threw his wicket away when apparently well set. Love, batting as stylishly as anyone in the side, did not get as many runs as he was worth. Chambers and Kirby could hit well; Shand and Playfair proved dependable in a bad position; Davey got few chances, but is by no means without ability.

When Kirby was able to bowl, our attack looked first class. When he was not bowling, or bowling under difficulties, the rest of the attack was much easier handled by the opponents. Not many bowlers of better ability or higher courage than Kirby can have bowled for the School, and no better team man. He tried to hide from everyone the fact that he had hurt his back again in the St. Joseph's game, and we only found out afterwards that he was in pain whenever he bowled in the last two games. It is plain that he will have to give up cricket for a long time. He realised it, but tried to finish his season with the School. His 35 wickets at an average of 7 in school games was a remarkable feat in the circumstances. With Kirby fit as a shock bowler, Burns and Love were always effective foils. When Kirby was not at his best, they were usually easier played. At the end of the season, however, Love improved a good deal and had several fine bowling performances. J. Shand had to bowl a good deal when Kirby was out of the attack, and he improved steadily in accuracy all the time. Next year he should be a fine all-rounder.

Apart from the slips position, the fielding was usually good. Hardly a catch was dropped anywhere but in the slips, and the ground fielding was good considering the roughness of most of the grounds at present. Burns stood out as a fieldsmen in any position. He was our best slip, our best close-in fieldsmen, our safest and surest mid-off or cover. Taylor was next best, and his untiring efforts and quick anticipation were a good example to the others. Shand was also very sure and consistent. Davey maintained a high standard as wicket-keeper.

Two years' experience as captain and the possession of a keen sporting brain made Burns the most effective captain we have had recently. He was always decisive, had the courage of his convictions, summed up opposing batsmen quickly, and always had his team working smoothly in the field.

At least five of the 1st XI. will be returning to school next year, and ten of the successful and promising 2nd XI. From these it should be possible to build up an effective side. The most successful members of the 2nd XI. were Edwards, de Lissa and Shearman as batsmen; Shearman, A. Shand and Blanshard as bowlers. Field and Stroud have both shown some promise as wicket-keepers.

9th and 10th XI's.

All players in the 9th XI. have shown keenness and marked improvement, although practices have been few and conditions still far behind those of pre-war days. Matches have been regular, and the team has shown up well. Leeder has been a useful captain.

Owing to many difficulties, the 10th XI. have gone short of fixtures. In a very weak team, Marlow has shown most improvement.

ROWING.

The programme followed during this term has been much the same as usual. As many beginners as possible have been taken to Berry's Bay and sorted into House crews, which raced on November 1st. Meanwhile about thirty who had gained some experience last season have been rowing at Gladesville. The amount of rowing done by the latter group has not been as great as usual, but has been sufficient. We have been content to row on one or two week-days and on every Saturday. Transport troubles make it difficult to row more frequently. Petrol is not yet plentiful: the 'bus consumes a good deal, and it is very expensive. However, the progress has been fairly good.

An eight is assuming fairly good shape, and has covered a reasonable mileage. At present it is composed of C. G. Limbers (stroke), Macpherson, Pennefather, Davidson, Arnold, Freeman, Ronald and Arblaster in that order, with Richards as cox. There is no certainty that this will be the final order or selection. The crew is very keen and willing, capable of respectable form, and able to achieve uniformity in timing. There are many roughnesses which will have to be ironed out before it will be able to maintain pace at full rating. In view of the fact that there are only four men, and none of them very big, available from last year's first three crews, the standard is satisfactory. The experience of good rowing, which the others had in the junior eight, has proved invaluable.

The remaining material is good, but there is a lack of weight and adaptability, and it cannot be said that suitable combinations are yet in sight for the fours. No doubt they will emerge in the Christmas Camp.

It is clear that greater judgment should be used in selecting and in coaching House crews. Greater importance should be attached to the selecting of young promising boys who will be useful to school crews in later years, and to the teaching of the fundamentals of oarsmanship. Recently there has been a tendency rather to aim at the winning of the House race without regard to the effect upon School rowing. The result is that boys come up to Gladesville with faults that are almost ineradicable.

The Christmas Camp will be from January 24 to February 2. Next year's Regatta is to be held, if possible, on the Nepean on April 13 or 27. The date is not yet finally settled, and it remains to be seen whether transport of boats and accommodation can be arranged. It will be a good thing to get back to the Nepean and away from the disturbing and unequal conditions of tide and wind that are characteristic of the Parramatta. Weight of opinion of the other schools is in favour of reducing the distance for the eights to 1½ miles, or possibly one mile. We think this an unfortunate move and not in the best interests of rowing, but other views are likely to gain the decision.

DEBATING CLUB.

We have had a very successful year. The School team—M. L. Foster, B. S. Mackenzie and A. E. Melville—won the G.P.S. competition, narrowly defeating S.G.S. The team has developed a high standard of performance, Melville's work being outstanding. Melville won, too, the Lawrence Campbell Prize for Oratory.

There has been a lot of interest in our activities, both within and without the School. All we need is more opportunity to get boys together, so that we may use fully the keenness that exists.

Junior forms have had class debates : V.A. and V.B. have had one contest, and V.A. had the pleasure of meeting a team from Wenona. This debate took place during two English periods one Friday afternoon. The V.A. team—Palmer, Barton and Hamilton—won by a slight margin. Perhaps we could do more of this kind of thing.

This term we have had a number of practice debates, and it is good to see boys from junior forms attending along with those from the Upper School.

THE ART CLUB.

A good deal of fine work has been done during the year, both for the Exhibition and in the advertising line. Nickoll's contributions will be much missed. Both he and Nicolson should develop admirably. Cameron, Doherty, Davidson, Fay, Marsland, Valder and Watling could always derive great enjoyment for their valuable talents.

There are many very promising artists remaining, so that there is not much to fear for the immediate future of art in the School. Richardson and Cornwell are perhaps the most conspicuous of these.

Best thanks are due to Mr. Robb for the excellent loan exhibition from Scots. Congratulations to all his pupils concerned!

It is hoped that many visited the National Art Gallery to see the magnificent set of oils—"The War at Sea"—by Norman Wilkinson, who is probably the finest marine artist of to-day. Appropriate comments were made at the opening on an absurd criticism that appeared in one of our newspapers. All who know Norman Wilkinson's work will agree that no newspaper reporters out here, or anywhere else, are competent enough to teach such a genius, either how to paint or what constitutes real art. Such "criticisms" only hold their writers up to ridicule.

THE ORCHESTRA.

Excellent progress has been made by the Orchestra during the year. At their Concert on October 12th it was possible to present a programme complete with overture, symphony and suite, together with orchestral accompaniment for soloists and choir. Such an attempt was out of the question a year ago. It was most gratifying to read in the expressions on players' faces their intelligent response to the beauty of the slow movement of the Haydn Symphony, and also to witness their keen appreciation of the artistic support given them by our visitors, playing oboes, horns and viola. These instruments are missing in our Orchestra ranks at the moment. Perhaps if instruments become easier to obtain players with patient enthusiasm will not be wanting to endeavour to make and keep a high standard for School Orchestra at Shore.

THE LIBRARY.

It will be of interest to many Old Boys to know that the School Library has undergone a renaissance. It is now well on the way towards being the intellectual and cultural centre of the School. The principal features of the reconstruction are these: The room has been thoroughly tidied up and made habitable. A large number of useless books have been thrown out, and another large number are being rebound by Mr. Rupp. The remainder have been properly disposed on open shelves under the Dewey classification. A considerable number of books have been added, both by gift and purchase. The subject libraries have been returned to the main library, so that all books are now in the same room. The Library is open daily from 8.30 to 9 a.m. and through the lunch hour, a librarian being on duty for the issuing and receiving of books. A master is always present in library hours. During the present term the daily issue of books has averaged forty.

This is really a very notable step, and the thanks of the community are due to Messrs. Grigg, Sawkins and Jenkins and a committee of boys, who through part of last term and the holidays put in an enormous amount of work. The throngs of readers that fill the Library every day, sitting quietly reading, show how deeply the need was felt, and show, too, what a great future lies ahead. A school library should be a place where masters and boys can go to sit in comfort and find out things. A school is a place where people should be encouraged to find things for themselves. The day of the class text-book is passing. Before very long our ideas on teaching and learning will have changed so much that the busiest and most important place in the intellectual side of school life will be the library—in fact, a power-house of learning.

Of recent years a large number of books have been borrowed and not returned. Especially is this the case with books lent to Leaving Certificate candidates, who have taken them home and not brought them back. In the busy time at the end of Third Term the matter has been forgotten, and the Library has suffered a yearly loss. Will all Old Boys who read this, and who have—perhaps forgotten—in their possession books that are the property of the School Library, please send them back. Some of them are valuable; many are irreplaceable in present conditions.

VITAMINS.

By G. de L.

One of the most interesting discoveries of recent years is that the human body cannot continue to nourish itself without very minute amounts of certain substances which cannot be made by it. These substances have been named vitamins.

There are five and probably more of these vitamins, all of which are necessary for normal nutrition, growth and function of the body. In infancy and childhood especially, a rich vitamin diet is necessary.

Vitamin A is found in animal fats—milk, butter, cream, beef fat, and especially cod liver oil and halibut liver oil. A lack of these minute particles causes a change in the tear ducts of the eyes, with the result that no tears are formed and blindness may result. Also certain membranes in the body may be changed. This may happen in a country where fats are not eaten much, such as Japan, but is rare in Australia. In Denmark during the 1914-1918 war and the present one "xerophthalmia," as the disease is called, broke out.

Vitamin B is thought to be a mixture of two vitamins. It is found in most foodstuffs. A deficiency of this causes diseases known as beri-beri and pellagra in countries where rice and corn are staple foods. As our diet consists of a good deal of meat and milk, the average Australian is safe from a lack of Vitamin B.

Vitamin C was the first to arouse a scientific interest in vitamins. Scurvy was a common disease among sailors 200 years ago. Pains in the joints and bleeding under the skin, giving rise to spots, was the dread of these men. Often at sea, for periods of six months or more, it was discovered that fresh vegetables and orange, lemon and lime juices were necessary, and cured the scurvy remarkably well. Chemists got to work and succeeded in extracting the stuff that cured the disease. The pure vitamin can now be made artificially.

The next vitamin, D, is necessary for proper formation of bone. Good food sources are fish liver oils, eggs and milk. A lack of these causes rickets, which affects children only. An interesting phenomenon occurs with Vitamin D. It was found that it was common in certain towns, and was worse in winter than summer. In big towns, where the smoky air filters out all ultra violet light, it was most common. This suggested that light had something to do with it. Scientists discovered that ultra violet light acting on the skin turns the ergosterol in the fact into Vitamin D. This is utilised for the formation of calcium and phosphorus.

Vitamin E, which is contained in wheat-germ, has been found necessary for rat-breeding, and is thought to have something to do with human reproductive functions too. The enormous effect these small substances have upon us is truly amazing when we read that "Vitamin D will keep a thousand million times its weight of children from getting rickets." Why the human body cannot produce these substances so necessary for existence cannot be explained, but for them the race of mankind would not last more than 100 years.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT.

On the 12th of October the Orchestra gave a concert which was not only the greatest musical effort in the history of the School, but also one which would have been a notable event in any school. When one considers that three years ago many of the players had not touched a musical instrument, and considers moreover the immense difficulty of fitting practices into the crowded routine of school life, the fact that the Orchestra was able to give a very adequate rendering of so much and such excellent music is little short of amazing. Had any courageous optimist suggested the possibility in 1940, say, of Shore School Orchestra performing a Haydn Symphony—well, he would have been called an ass! There were even persons who thought it rather deplorable even to think of such things in a boys' school.

In order to give the boys experience in playing with a full orchestra, and to give more completely satisfactory rendering of the score, a few public-spirited helpers came along to fill the gaps: a viola, two horns, two oboes. The effect was a justification of the policy. There was brilliance, volume, balance in a performance that provided a long succession of thrills and delight to a most appreciative audience.

Everybody concerned in the performance seemed to be thoroughly enjoying the whole business. It was not only the audience that was pleased. And everybody concerned in the performance most thoroughly deserves the congratulations which the audience conveyed by their applause, and which the "Torch-Bearer" would like to emphasise. Especially should we like to express the indebtedness of the Orchestra and of all music lovers to the patient labour and sound judgment of Mrs. Allman, who, under difficult conditions, has led and inspired a lot of the willing people to do some very fine things.

MEMBERS OF STAFF ON ACTIVE SERVICE.

We regret to announce the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon Hendry, M.C., who was killed in Borneo. Lieut.-Col. Henry was a very keen soldier, who had served through the Middle East, North African and South-West Pacific campaigns. Requiescat in pace!

Flight-Lieutenant G. H. Broinowski visited the School on his return from Tokio, where he has been engaged on Intelligence.

Mr. A. Rupp, who served both in Malaya and New Guinea, and was discharged after severe illness, has been with us this term, and the Library owes much to his skill and patience.

OLD BOYS' NOTES.

At the triennial election of five representatives of the O.B.U. to the School Council, the following were elected: Messrs. J. E. M. Dixon, R. B. Hipsley, E. C. S. White, Dr. A. D. Morgan and Dr. H. L. St. Vincent Welch. Subsequently Mr. A. D. W. Fisher was co-opted to the Council, and is filling the office of Hon. Treasurer. After 37 years' service and intensive interest in the School's welfare, made manifest in many generous ways, Mr. A. B. S. White would not allow himself to be re-nominated, and the Committee records its great appreciation of the time and work devoted by him in the interests of the School. It is of interest to note in this connection that his son, Mr. Ted White, so well known as an Australian Test cricketer, is amongst the new Old Boy Councillors.

The Old Boys' Tea and Annual Meeting were held at the School on Friday, October 26th, and some 260 were present at the former function, the largest number for some years past. Particularly pleasing was the presence of some returned Old Boy p.o.w.'s, who were renewing their acquaintance with the School after their years of hardship. Prior to the meeting, members had an opportunity of inspecting the complete service records of Old Boys, which were posted up in School classrooms, and were invited to make any additions or amendments that they could. The compiling of these records represents a great deal of work done in spare time, and appreciation has been expressed on all sides to Mr. R. C. Anderson and Mr. A. G. Lomer, who were in the main responsible. At the meeting the following office-bearers were elected:—

Patron: The Headmaster.

President: C. S. Tiley.

Vice-Presidents: R. C. Anderson, N. R. Conroy, M. M. Goddard, T. A. Langley, C. M. Marsh, W. H. Travers, E. S. White.

Hon. Secretary: D. M. MacDermott.

Assistant Hon. Secretary: A. G. Lomer.

Hon. Treasurer: Richard Swift.

Assistant Hon. Treasurer: N. C. Nelson.

"Torch-Bearer" Representative: P. R. M. Jenkins.

Hon. Auditor: D. M. Dixon.

The ballot for Committee had not been held when this issue went to press.

Since the last issue, the War has come to a successful conclusion, and for many Australians the most important immediate result was the return home of those men who had been prisoners of the Japanese for so long. At the same time sadness came to many with definite news that relatives and friends had not survived the dreadful ordeal. Many will find familiar names in the Roll of Honour in this issue, and will mourn the loss of so many fine men. The following ex-prisoners have been definitely reported alive, and in nearly all cases are back in Australia: Capt. Adrian Curlewis, Major Phillip L. Head, Lieut. P. H. Playfair, Lieut. J. D. Bull, Sgt. J. H. C. Fitzhardinge, Gnr. R. R. Braddon, F/Lt. E. G. Gabriel, Lieut. W. G. Barnes, Major R. O. Merrett, Capt. V. G. Butler, Lieut. J. H. Cooper, Capt. J. M. Hordern, Lieut. J. A. Godden, Lieut. H. R. Vowell, Lieut. T. C. Le Maistre Walker, Sgt. N. Falk, Lieut. R. A. Armour, Lieut. A. Y. Ellerman, Lieut. G. H. Mackisack, Pte. R. P. Windeyer, Capt. R. D. Puffett, Pte. J. C. Shepherd, Lieut. D. G. Gariand, Lieut. I. J. Mackay, Sgt. H. R. Francis, Lieut. J. M. Vernon, Capt. W. H. Bathgate, L.A.C. M. Hagger, Capt. D. C. C. Hinder, Lieut. R. C. Scandrett, Pte. O. H. Saddington, Lieut. D. M. Carment, Gnr. W. R. Sheaffe, Lieut. J. A. Varley, E. E. McDougall, W. R. Locke and Jan Fronk. It is not claimed that this list is complete, and any additions will be gratefully received at the Union.

Recipients of awards since our last issue are: Lieut.-Commander F. M. Osborne, D.S.C. and Bar; Capt. G. M. Thorp, M.C.; W/Cdr. Grant F. Walker, D.F.C.; F/Lt. H. M. P. Neil, D.F.C.; F/O. Keith McAnderson, D.F.C.; S/Ldr. J. R. Henderson, D.S.O.; Lt. A. F. Kyle, R.A.N.V.R., D.S.C.; Bdr. W. M. Mundell, B.E.M.; F/Lt. D. R. Baker, D.F.C.

Lieut.-Commander Osborne, of H.M.S. "Vanquisher," received a Bar to his D.S.C. for the sinking of a submarine in the Atlantic shortly before the end of the European War.

It is not known at the Union for what Capt. Thorp received his decoration, but it is understood he was in Borneo.

F/Lt. Neil's award was made "in recognition of his gallant service."

F/O. Anderson's citation read: "He has completed numerous operations against the enemy, in the course of which he has invariably displayed the utmost fortitude, courage and devotion to duty."

The following is the citation in respect of the immediate award of the D.F.C. to W/Cdr. Grant F. Walker: "While serving in active operations in the South-West Pacific Area, Wing-Commander Walker has completed 163 hours of operational flying, and has taken part in 70 sorties and 33 strikes. As Commanding Officer of 78 I/F. Squadron he has organised and made his squadron into a most efficient fighting unit, and has led them most courageously in repeated attacks against enemy positions at Hansa Bay, New Guinea, Cape Hoskins Aerodrome, and Garove Island, New Britain, in the face of heavy enemy fire. He has personally destroyed enemy shipping, motor transport and anti-aircraft batteries, and was largely responsible for the destruction of six enemy aircraft on the ground. Throughout his operational tour in this area, Wing-Commander Walker has displayed courage, ability and leadership of the highest order."

S/Ldr. J. R. Henderson, who is awarded the D.S.O., already possesses a D.F.C. His citation has not yet been received.

Lieut. A. F. Kyle, R.A.N.V.R., who was captured by the Japanese in New Ireland, and believed to have been killed by them, was engaged in coast-watching duties behind the Japanese lines in the Pacific, and provided intelligence vital to the conduct of operations. The date of his death is presumed to be September 1, 1942, at Kavieng.

Bdr. Mundell's award was made after a gallant exploit in which he and an A.I.F. sergeant hacked their way into a flaming Liberator to rescue an injured American officer. Both men showed admirable coolness and exceptional courage.

Mr. L. G. Melville, Economist to the Commonwealth Bank, has achieved another distinction by being appointed to the Commonwealth Bank Advisory Council. Also in the financial sphere, Mr. John Cadwallader has been made a Director of the Bank of New South Wales.

* * * * *

Mr. H. V. Jaques has been elected a member of the Council of the N.S.W. Bar Association for 1945-46.

We understand that E. B. J. Smith has left for Oxford to take up his Rhodes Scholarship there, and that B. H. Travers will shortly be leaving to take up his scholarship. Meanwhile, at Sydney University, W. H. Travers, "Jika's" elder brother, has been elected as student senator. Bill Travers is a returned prisoner-of-war.

As mentioned before in these pages, the Union has established a Rehabilitation Sub-Committee with a view to advising, and obtaining employment for, ex-Service men who have attended the School. Certain members of the Sub-Committee can be interviewed, by appointment, at the Union Rooms each day of the week between 12.30 p.m. and 1 p.m. Such appointments can be arranged with the Secretary at the Union Rooms (Tel.: BW5148).

Appended to these Notes is the copy of Archdeacon North Ash's address given at the Service of Commemoration on April 29th, 1945. Now that the war is over, its message seems to have an even more direct appeal than when the address was first delivered, and it is printed here at the request of many.

PEACE.

A vague unrest, a waiting and a pain,
 A silence yet vociferous, a clamour
 And a great doubt—the world stands thus. At last,
 At last man gains his goal, peace—yet no peace;
 For still man hateth man, still strife and blood,
 Still cruelty, the aftermath of hate.
 The long black clouds, great-bellied in the sky,
 The tossing ocean and the rush of rain,
 The fading splendour of the muttering storm,
 Promise all peace, peace after strife, the peace
 That lives in heaven, in the stars of night,
 Or in God's mind, or in the promised joy
 Of Christ, or in that nothingness of death—
 Nirvana; life in death or rest at last.
 Too long have we been held in thrall by fear;
 Death and disease have stalked the earth too long.
 Man was not made to suffer all his life;
 Yet goes the sun, and comes the sun, and we Sink in our woes, staggering 'neath the weight
 Of man's unceasing sorrow and the pain
 Of life upon this planet, battle-torn.
 Man has had teachers who have come and died,
 Witnesses all to truth and loveliness,
 But like an ant-hill, terror-struck, the world
 Swarms in the throes of dire perplexity,
 And hugs its heritage of sin and death.
 O Lord of Heaven, in Whose hands are all
 The powers of this world, Who from the first
 Moulded the universe, giving it light.
 And darkness, birth and death; Who holdest firm
 The secret of our plight and destiny—
 To the sad soul of an awaiting world
 Give Thou some sign and guiding, lest we sink
 In blank frustration, aimless to our doom.

OLD BOYS' CLUB NOTES.

The Committee of the Club is glad to have the opportunity of welcoming back to civilian life its many members who have been away on active service. There has been a noticeable increase in the number of members now using the Club, and the Committee is looking forward to seeing many more during the next few months.

* * * * *

During the year, post-war plans were made for the improvement of the Club and its facilities, and it was hoped that they would be put into action almost immediately after the cessation of hostilities. Unfortunately, they have been delayed, and possibly early next year it will be practicable to start on a few of the proposed improvements. It must be noted, however, that much depends upon increasing the size of the present premises, and it is possible, should additional space not be available in the next year or two, that some form of restriction will have to be placed on the membership lists. This matter is mentioned in the hope that it will not need to be carried out, but the Committee feels that in the interest of boys at school some notice of the possibility should be given.

SERVICE OF COMMEMORATION.

April 29th, 1945.

The following is the text of the address given in the School Chapel on the above occasion by the Venerable Archdeacon E. A. North Ash, himself an Old Boy of the School:—

"To-night we gather together in this Chapel to commemorate the Old Boys of 'Shore' who fell in the great conflict for the world's freedom from mental and physical slavery.

"It is appropriate that this commemoration should take place so soon after Anzac Day.

"We people of the Commonwealth claim April 25th, 1915, as the day when Australia proved her claim to be numbered among the nations, and the birth of a nation, like the birth of an individual, is always accompanied by the shedding of blood.

"Australia's claim to nationhood has been amply vindicated by the sacrifice of the last war and by this. Through the press and over the air leaders within and beyond our country have paid their tribute to all who suffered and died that we might live—a nation has mourned her dead.

"To-night's commemoration is different for three reasons: First, it is a personal one; secondly, it is being held on a Sunday; thirdly, it is taking place in the House of God.

"The boys who pass in pageant before our memories to-night are not claimed by us as supermen: the superman is the devilish creation of a twisted Prussian philosophy. Neither were they professional soldiers trained to kill from boyhood. They were just our lads—the boys we loved as they grew up in the natural, happy surroundings of an average Australian home; our comrades in the fellowship of the School; the ordinary civilian population in uniform; young men who were rescued from the crowd, and delivered from obscurity by the fact that they responded to a great call to serve their fellows to the death. As such, they have not only earned our sorrowful and grateful remembrance, but also the Divine commendation: 'Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.'

"Not long after England declared war in 1939, a London taxi-driver confided in Basil Matthews (a well-known missionary and author). He said: 'Twenty-five years ago I kissed my baby son good-bye as I went over to France to fight the Germans; yesterday, my son said good-bye to me as he went over to France to fight the Germans.'

"Two major conflicts within 25 years! And the experience of the taxi-driver can be paralleled by many fathers and sons to-day; possibly it is true of some of you here to-night in this Chapel. A tremendous sacrifice has been paid to save us from the shackles of modern barbarism, and many are learning by experience the bitter truth that from the time of the offering of the Supreme Sacrifice on Calvary, in a lesser degree down the ages, the world can be saved only by the offering of the world's best.

"Sacrifice is an eternal fact, and Calvary was the revelation in time of that which God is always doing, namely, offering, sharing, suffering for and with His people.

"Jesus is the agelong revelation of the Father's character: the revelation of a God Who cares for His children—not enthroned on some distant Olympian height, but always, everywhere—at the point of the world's need. God, as we see Him in Jesus, is One Who goes to the very depths of sacrificial service to save His children.

"He doesn't banish pain, suffering or physical death (that adventure remains whether it be violent or peaceful), but shares our pain and suffering, transforming them, denying them the power to crush the spirit, and robs death of its terror. He is a God Who teaches us to gain victory by accepting and triumphing over suffering and death; One Who bids us not only bear our cross, but mount it.

"The glory of to-night's commemoration lies in the fact that they were just ordinary lads in 1914-18, and to-day, whom we knew and loved—living, laughing, working and worshipping among us. They answered the call in each case when it came, and stood between us and our foes in Australia's darkest hour : they fell with their faces to the foe against odds uncounted. The country said "Thank you!" on Anzac Day—but this is the personal remembrance of Christian home and Church School.

"Your own intimate remembrance—a fellowship richer and deeper than any other—a fellowship through Christ with all, living and departed, who shared a common loyalty to Him. We call it the Communion of Saints."

"This is Sunday, the first day of the week. I wonder whether you have really thought out the significance of the fact that we meet in public worship to-day.

"The Jewish Sabbath came to the Ancient Israelites as a Divine command from Heaven. It came to the Jews of our Lord's day, hallowed by the devotion of centuries : God had given it to His people—only God could alter it.

"God did! On the first day of the week Jesus rose from the dead, bringing life and immortality to light.

"Through the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and with the natural instinct of men to whom the Master's resurrection meant life, hope and victory in place of the fear of death, despair and a sense of defeat, the disciples met together on the First Day to commemorate the triumph of God. Naturally, when they began to substitute the Lord's Day for the Old Sabbath, the great act of worship was the Lord's own service of the Holy Communion—which means the Holy Fellowship. Here, in communion through the living Lord, and not in communication through a human medium, the Church of every age enters into the highest act of legitimate Christian spiritualism.

"The old Sabbath, the seventh day, commemorated the end of something—the end of the initial stages of Divine Creation and deliverance from Egyptian bondage. Sunday, the first day, commemorates the beginning of something, namely, new life, power, and renewed fellowship. Every Sunday is a festival of Christ's Resurrection : and His Resurrection is the timeless guarantee of our resurrection and the lads you love.

"Thousands marched out into the valley of the shadow of death before Christ came in the flesh, and none came back; thousands have marched out into the valley since Christ came back, but One came back—obviously the same personality, but changed in His relationship to physical laws—a marked Man for all eternity, still bearing in His Sacred Body the wounds of Calvary, but radiant and triumphant in His Immortality. It is significant that we meet on Sunday.

"Our commemoration is being made in the House of God. Though fellowship with the unseen transcends all man-made buildings, this place stands for a shrine of deathless union, and there have always been certain hallowed spots where man's sense of communion with God and his fellows is deepened. This Chapel is fragrant with the atmosphere of remembrance.

"Here they came to worship and to praise—to listen, and to learn of deeper bonds which hold us together with God for eternity. Here they came to be confirmed, to join in the Great Sacrament of fellowship. From here they passed on to the life of the world, equipped with all the guidance and direction which a Church School can provide. Some of them came back to enter into Holy Matrimony, and, in time, to bring their children to be baptised.

"This is a place of fragrant and poignant memories—and of union with those we love.

"Our lives are the poorer, and our sense of fellowship is weakened, if we do not thoughtfully and regularly observe the weekly festival of the Resurrection and join in the Sacrament of Holy Communion. "Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face; here would I touch and handle things unseen." Prayer, Love and Sacrament, through Christ, bind us together in the unseen chain of family union.

"To-night our School motto comes to us with added significance and challenge. They truly have handed the torch of life to all of us, young and old alike. There is a task yet to be performed.

"Somebody has likened war to a gigantic traffic policeman, holding back an evil procession which seeks to engulf our country and our traditions. War gives us time to rally our resources for the uncompleted task of building with God His Kingdom of spiritual values. Guns, men and money were necessary to hold back the destroyer, but we cannot complete our portion of the task for which they gave us time by material methods alone. We have been confronted not only by a vast array of armed might, but by the driving force of a sinister belief sweeping the youth of the totalitarian nations into a unity of aim and method. To-day we are confronted by an evil philosophy of life, even within our own social order, which defies force, and seeks to enthrone self in the place of service to God and humanity.

"One of the lessons we failed to learn after the last World War was the fact that the great issues of peace cannot be settled by statesmen alone—they demand the concerted intelligence and action of people. "That great experiment in international fellowship, the League of Nations, failed because it had not the moral and intelligent support of the masses. After a lively emotional reaction at the close of the first conflict in 1918, we became tired, emotionally and physically, and sank into a spiritual inertia. We quietly dropped many basic Christian values and by-passed God, His Day, His Book, His Church. Material standards claimed our allegiance, and the pursuit of personal comfort and enjoyment and speedy communication engaged our energies. Thus the world drifted towards another war, and youth was called upon again to save our generation.

"The sacrifice of the boys we commemorate to-night, and millions like them, appeals to us against the background of our present discontents, and scant regard for fundamental Christian values, to consecrate our personalities, our time, our talents to the unfinished task of building a world-order more in accordance with the revealed purpose and principles of Christ, and commensurate with the price but recently paid for this opportunity.

"Hallowed in Christ be the memory of the brave men and women who died in the Great War for the freedom of the world. They were young, straight of limb, true of eye : they fell with their faces to the foe against odds uncounted. They shall all stand before the Judgment Throne, an exceeding great army : and in that last muster shall be found our own well beloved.

"They shall grow not old, as we who are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun, and in the morning
We shall remember them."
