EDITORIAL.

This is the first School year of the Peace. Few of the present generation at Shore have clear recollections of that age which we are beginning to call Between the Wars. It was an age of uncertainty, an age when men's hearts failed them for fear or palpitated with hate. Since then we have seen a long war end in victory; we have mourned the fallen, rejoiced with the returned and with each other, and have planned a brave new world. A brave new world? Millions are dying of starvation and disease; historic cities are unrecognizable heaps of rubble. Men are even talking of a Third War, the Atomic War. A brave new world, forsooth!

A plague and a pestilence fall upon all Dismal Jimmies and calamity-howlers! In spite of the headlines and the gloating of the sensation-mongers, it is a brave new world in which we live to-day. Men and women of brains, energy and goodwill are feeding the hungry, nursing the sick, and planning a future in terms of goodness, truth and beauty. Moreover, they are doing it with the high resolve of those who believe in their mission. Certainly Mr. Bevin has banged the table, and Mr. Gromyko has banged the door, but theatrical gestures are not everything, nor are they final resolutions. Fifty nations sent their representatives to San Francisco and to London to seek peace, not war.

We, like them, have bigger and better things to do than to brood over the malicious gossip of those to whom only a calamity or a disagreement is news. Wars begin in the hearts of men, and that is where peace must begin. It is ever so much harder to turn from war to peace than from peace to war. The mentality of peace, whether international or industrial, is a plant of slow and delicate growth. Every malicious rumour is a blighting frost; every exaggerated or distorted clash of interests is a scorching wind. There is an awful responsibility laid upon those who select and present our news, and upon those of us who only too readily pass on the imputation of evil motives. From envy, hatred and malice, and all uncharitableness, Good Lord, deliver us!

What has this to do with our own community at Shore? Just this: we are a little world in miniature, and our problems are to some extent the problems of the great world. We, too, need men of goodwill and a spirit of constructive peace. It is a hopeful sign that the School's Food for Britain Appeal began in a resolution passed by the boys of Third A Form. It will be a more hopeful sign still if the School raises the one thousand pounds that it is aiming to collect during this year. Such efforts can be achieved only by people who think of duty as mine and ours.

PLAY DAY, 1945.

The fifth annual Play Day was held in the Independent Theatre, North Sydney, at the end of Term III., 1945. There were two sessions, each of seven plays, beginning at 9 a.m. The adjudicators were Miss E. M. Tildesley and Miss B. Tildesley, of the British Drama League. The standard of the plays as such, and the acting and general stage-craft, was an improvement on 1944. Especially those seated in the gallery will readily agree that the Independent Theatre was not designed to seat 450 people in comfort behind closed doors and curtained windows on a sultry day in December. For this reason, and also to enable boys in the IV. and VI. Forms to take part, two Play Days will be held this year earlier in the year—for VI., V. and IV. Forms on Monday, July 22, and on Monday, November 4, for Preparatory School III. and S. Forms.

The plays in the morning session were the very exciting affair, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," by the English dramatist, A. A. Milne, played by III.B.; "Without Love," by Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach, translated and adapted by Mrs. Gallia and played by III.D.; "The Stolen Prince," a very interesting play, in the tradition of the Chinese theatre, by Dan Totheron, played by III.A.; "Perfectly Sane People," played by S.B1, and written by their form-master; "It's Murder, Gentlemen!" written by D. W. Finch of V.D. and played by members of his form; "The Doubtful Misfortune of Li Sing," a story of Chinese bandits in the Western style by Neil Tuson, and played by School House; and to conclude the morning session, "Mr. Pickwick in Trouble," an adaptation from Charles Dickens, and played by S.B2.

The afternoon session began with the drama, "Any Body?" by G. S. Whitehead, played by S.A2. This was followed by the strike-meeting scene from Act II. of John Galsworthy's three-act drama, "Strife," played by S.A1; "Campbell of Kilmohr," a tragic story of Scottish devotion to the Bonny Prince by J. A. Ferguson, played by V.B.; "Romance at Short Notice," an adaptation by Mr. Burgess of a short story by "Saki," played by the members of the Vth History Set; "The Three Fingers," written by G. P. Barton of V.A. for members of his form; "The Rehearsal," a play dealing with a rehearsal of "Macbeth," introducing Will Shakespeare and Burbage, played by Barry House; and, lastly, an adaptation of Act I. of "Volpone," or "The Fox," by the Elizabethan dramatist, Ben Jonson.

The machinery for presenting fourteen plays in a few hours worked extremely well. Here we heartily thank in particular Mr. Chambers and Brian Florance. Our congratulations to the winners of the Play Day prizes: to members of last year's V.D. (Nolan, Rorke, Finch, Arblaster, Swain and Nock), who, with "It's Murder, Gentlemen!" by Finch, won the prize for the best presentation of a play written within the School; and to the members of last year's V.C. (Claydon, Meikle, Shipway, Borrowman and Kirby), who, with Ben Jonson's "Volpone," won the open prize.

It is interesting to note that for this year's Senior Play Day two Bernard Shaw plays are in preparation—the Tea Party Scene from "Pygmalion" and a one-act piece entitled "Annajanska, the Bolshevik Empress."

SCHOOL NOTES

STAFF.—Mr. R. G. H. Walmsley is not back with us this year, and the School certainly misses him.

Mrs. Gallia also is not returning. She has accepted a position in a girls' school.

A. J. BURNS.—Our last year's Senior Prefect has been seriously ill for some time, but now he is again fit enough to come up to Northbridge to see the Firsts in action.

FOOD FOR BRITAIN.—An appeal for the Food for Britain Fund was suggested by the boys of IIIA, and the School has taken this up with great enthusiasm. A spirit of competition between the forms has been promoted, and the year's goal is £1,000.

* * * * *

ANZAC DAY.—This year Anzac Day fell on the Thursday after Easter, and, as usual, was observed as a day of special significance. Many Old Boys were concerned in the original landing, and in remembrance of them in particular a special service of commemoration was held in the Chapel. The speaker was Lt.-Col. H. L. St. Vincent Welch, D.S.O., a distinguished Old Boy.

O.B.U. LECTURES.—The Old Boys' Union arranged for three lectures to be given at the School this term, Vith, Vth and IVth forms being invited. The first, on 8th March, was "Parliament and the Responsibilities of Citizens," by Mr. Vernon Treatt, M.L.A., an Old Boy, a Rhodes Scholar, a leading barrister, and the Leader of the Opposition in the N.S.W. Parliament. The second lecture on 29th March on "The History of New Guinea" was given by Mr. Gordon Thomas, F.R.G.S., sometime editor of the Rabaul "Times"; and the third, on 26th April, was entitled "Some Recent Scientific Discoveries and Their Effect on World Affairs," and was given by Mr. R. J. F. Boyer, Chairman of the A.B.C.

PLAY DAY AND ANNUAL CONCERT.—There will be two Play Days held this year—a Senior Play Day about the middle of July for IV., V. and VI. Forms and the Houses; and a Junior Play Day early in November for the Preparatory School, III. and S. Forms. The annual School Concert will be held a week or so later than the Senior Play Day.

HEADMASTER'S SECRETARY.—Mrs. Newmeyer, who has been Secretary to the Headmaster for nearly seven years, expects to leave soon to join her husband in the United States. We wish her well. Her place is being taken by Miss P. Williams.

SPEECH DAY, 1945.

Although great difficulties had to be surmounted on account of the industrial strikes, Speech Day was held as usual on Thursday, 13th December, 1945. The speaker was Brigadier the Honourable T. A. J. Playfair, D.S.O., O.B.E., V.D., M.L.C.

L. C. EXAMINATION, 1945.

Last year's results were very fair. The number of passes was 87. R. C. Bowe and A. E. Melville obtained the maximum pass, and the latter further distinguished himself by coming top in English. J. D. Harley and W. T. Gilder were short of the maximum in one respect only. There were 21 first class honours and 21 second class. The places in order of merit in the first class honour list were:—

English: Melville, 1st; Jamieson, 12th; Foster, 18th.

Maths.: Harley, 4th; Gilder, 11th; Melville, 17th; Macourt, 23rd; Bowe, 25th; Woollett, 40th.

History: Snashall, 13th; Clarke, 30th; Jamieson, 32nd.

Physics: Bowe, 14th; Macourt, 26th.

Chemistry: Wolff, 13th.

The second class honours were secured in English, 6; History, 2; Physics, 4; Chemistry, 6; Geography, 3. We should like to see some high honours in Latin and French.

The average pass (on the basis of 4 for H1, 3 for H2, 2 for A, 1 for B) was 7.81. This is not as good as usual, but the average all round was apparently lower this year. Our average was bettered by only one other G.P.S. (St. Joseph's) and two boys' High Schools (North Sydney and Sydney). The latter two schools are, of course, highly selective in their entry, and take only those who win places in competition. Our ratio of first class honours to passes is better than that of almost all other schools.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

The list of public exhibitions awarded on the L.C. Examination of 1945, and tenable at Sydney University, was issued on February 20. The number gained by the School was seven—an unusually high number. The winners were:—

Arts : A. E. Melville.

Medicine : J. D. Harley.

Law : M. L. Foster, W. T. Gilder.

Engineering : R. C. Bowe, D. J. C. Macourt, R. W. Woollett.

THE AIR TRAINING CORPS.

This activity is being continued, under new management, for the old "Schools" Squadron of the war years has disbanded and a new and restricted organisation has taken its place. The new unit is termed the New South Wales Squadron of the Air Training Corps, the School Flight being a sub-unit.

A new syllabus of instruction has been introduced, which is better than the old one, because it throws much more emphasis on the practical than the theoretical side of the work. If supplemented fully by the necessary material and equipment, the course should be one by which a boy can get sound, practical grounding for his future in the post-war Air Force or the Citizens' Air Force.

Until the processes of demobilisation are complete, both the units mentioned will not be set up, but it is known that the Federal Cabinet has been considering the question of the defence establishment for Australia in peacetime, and an announcement of the result of their deliberations is expected in due course.

At present, the School unit includes only 18 Cadets, a big drop from the war-time strength of 50 to 80, but understandable under the circumstances.

TENNIS NOTES.

This term marked the re-establishment of organised tennis in the School, and the enthusiasm immediately shown indicates that it should not be long before tennis is once more a regular sport in the School.

A G.P.S. Tennis Tournament was held at the White City courts on Wednesday, April 10th. The School entered one senior team of six players and two junior teams. Of these the Senior Team was well beaten; the Junior "A" Team, although also beaten, had somewhat more success, while the Junior "B" Team was defeated only after a closely contested match. The tournament was won by Scots College.

A match with Sydney Grammar School has been arranged for the Third Term, and it is to be hoped that with the much needed additional practice we should meet with considerably more success. Meanwhile those who have been so far unable to gain places in the teams will be given an opportunity of doing so, and of showing their worth in a tournament which, it is intended, will be held during the second term.

Although there will be considerable difficulty in the organisation of this tournament, it is hoped that much new talent will be revealed. As a result, the standard of tennis should show a marked rise.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The Library has had a successful term. There is abundant evidence that it is forming the focus of the School's intellectual life, as was intended that it should. At the same time it continues to provide a certain type of recreational facility, and it is satisfying to record how many boys are availing themselves of both kinds of service which the Library seeks to provide. The number using it in the lunch-hour is greater than can be comfortably dealt with under existing conditions, and on some occasions admittance has had to be refused to intending patrons because of lack of space. The number of books borrowed also exceeded that of last term, and seldom fell below forty a night. Over week-ends it is invariably well above fifty. This involves a good deal of work for librarians, and it is right to mention here that much valuable work is done by boys who give up time, not only in the lunch-hour, but also occasionally before and after school, to cope with the routine duties involved.

Finally, we would mention two ways in which users of the Library can help in improving the service it gives. The first is by taking greater care of periodicals. Often these have to be withdrawn as unserviceable before a number of boys have had a chance to read them. The second way is by adhering closely to the regulations governing the borrowing of books, especially that which states that a book can be borrowed for a maximum period of one week, and can then be renewed at the librarian's discretion for a further period not exceeding one week. With more co-operation in this sphere on the part of users, the benefits that the Library has to offer will be extended to a still wider range of readers.

THE ORCHESTRA.

It is very pleasing to note such good progress being made by the younger members of the Orchestra. This term the attendance of older boys has been seriously handicapped by so many other activities—the rowing season, the swimming carnival, and extra work connected with the Leaving Certificate Examination. However, it is most encouraging to find that it is always possible to hold a rehearsal; both numbers and the efficiency to carry on with interest and success are always forthcoming.

We should welcome a recruit to study the clarinet, and at least two to take up the viola. New string players in every section can always find a place, and will help to keep up our standard.

SOCIAL STUDIES.

A new subject has come into the School curriculum. One's first reaction is naturally to wonder how on earth it could be squeezed in. Anyhow, it is there.

The Third Forms have begun it. The subject is a curious mixture of history, geography, economics, civics and general knowledge. The purpose in view is to fit our future citizens for their citizenship.

The work is combined with activity of various kinds. Form III.A. learned one day how to conduct a public meeting, and on a subsequent day they actually held one, carrying a motion that eventually led to the setting up of the School "Food for Britain" collection. Form III.B. conduct among themselves the municipal council meetings of an imaginary town.

Perhaps the parliaments and councils of the nation may see a crop of Shore boys of the 1946 vintage in years to come.

THE ART CLUB

We look forward to a fine exhibition in Term III, as there is much talent in the School. Excellent results are expected from the Art Class run by Mr. Lipscombe. Membership of this is quickly growing.

Rupert Richardson, our new Secretary, is showing remarkable talent at water-colours, and has already developed good style and has won distinction at public exhibitions. He has also sold some of his work. J. H. Cornwell and R. A. Davidson are progressing rapidly. Some juniors, including Bunyan and Fernon, have shown good work.

The exhibition of reproductions of works by young American students was greatly appreciated, and was of a very high standard. We thank Mr. Jenkins for having presented these pictures to the Club.

DEBATING CLUB.

Meetings have been held regularly each Friday from the beginning of term, and a considerable amount of practice has been gained before the all-absorbing football season begins. We have had forum discussions and team debates. One afternoon Mr. Fomenko was good enough to discuss the importance of U.N.O., and we look forward to his being able to discuss the matter further. A brief summary of what he said is printed below.

Shortly we shall be concerned with the choosing of a team to represent the School in the G.P.S. Competition Debates, which take place next term. At present members show a sufficiency of ideas, but few have developed as yet an effective manner of speaking. We shall have to improve a great deal in this regard if we want to win through in the competition.

* * * * *

DISCUSSION UPON U.N.O.

Mr. Fomenko's main contention was that U.N.O., in the control of "The Big Three," is the only means of freeing the world of war and saving it from a complete disorganisation of world economics. He suggested that the day of merely national struggles is past, the whole world being divided into two camps which represent two attitudes to the organisation of social and political life. On one hand are Britain-U.S.A., with their sponsoring of democracy and economic freedom; on the other is the U.S.S.R., making equal claims to democratic ideals. U.N.O. thus is the forum of the world, and has at least the role of a buffer or softening influence, standing between the clash of systems. Should it fail, there could be nothing else but bare irreconcilable hostility, for varied forces would rise to divide the world completely.

Mr. Fomenko stressed the need for us all to have more than instinctive feelings that this or that is what we aim at in our social and political life. We need to study these matters which are of such mighty consequence to-day. What is Socialism? Is it something foreign to Democracy? What part has Democracy to play? What does Democracy mean? We must understand our principles, and have a platform which we are equipped to defend and prepared to uphold.

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

Music.—The "50" Choir have been singing exceptionally well at the Friday services, and have augmented the Chapel Choir on Tuesdays and Thursdays, when they have been commended for their good contribution. Several hymns and chants have been well learnt; the Festal Responses have become increasingly popular since they were adopted, and the singing has benefited thereby.

Art.—The class for Second Forms has begun, and much talent is already evident. Those especially interested may also join a special class held by Mr. Lipscombe after school on Fridays.

Instrumental Music.—There is still a lively interest in learning the violin and other instruments. Many learners are making good progress.

Cricket.—This term we were able to begin the season on our old ground, the School Oval. We are all pleased at our good fortune in being able to use once again the good wickets on this very convenient ground. The results of our matches have been published each week in the "Record." We have played some very enjoyable and interesting games during the term, and all members have shown great keenness at practice and in matches, with the result that our Eleven has greatly improved and is now quite up to the standard of our previous best teams. Good footwork in batting has been a noticeable feature, especially in those boys who were in the Colts last year.

Five boys from last year's team—the Gambrill brothers, Shand and Carr—have developed well, and have played soundly throughout the term. J. K. Gambrill, as captain, has set a splendid example, and he has a good knowledge of the finer points of the game. The Second Eleven have had several good matches, and have played and practiced very keenly.

The Colts' team promises to be very good by the end of the season. Several are showing the benefit of long practice at the nets and from studying Bradman's book on the game. Morse is one of the soundest batsmen yet seen in the Colts—aggressive, but also good in defence. McAuley, Bramma, Peters and Eastaway defend well, but lack scoring strokes. Perritt, Steel and Curtis show promise among the keen beginners.

Swimming.—Our swimmers were very keen this term, and the team trained steadily. All of our representatives performed creditably at the Combined Schools' Carnival, and we did well to gain second place to a very strong Mosman team. We offer our congratulations again to Mosman on their excellent performance in all sections of the carnival.

Staff.—We are glad to have with us this year Mr. A. R. Rupp, who has returned after a number of years in the Army.

1st WAVERTON (S.C.E.G.S.) SCOUTS.

The strength of the Troop this year is twenty, two more than last year. The three Patrols are under M. Allen (Kingfishers), P. Luker (Thrush) and N. Witten (Jacky Winter). All are progressing well.

December Camp.—The last Camp was held at Blaxland, on the Mountains, from the 14th to 19th December, 1945.

DEBATING TEAM—WINNERS, 1945.

Sitting : The Rev. T. H. Kitley.

The Troop met at the School gates at 7.15 a.m. on the 14th, and left their packs to be picked up by car and taken to the camp.

The remainder of Friday and all day Saturday was spent in the swimming pool, as it was very hot. On Sunday we all went to church in the afternoon, and at 4.30 p.m. the T.L. and P.L.'s went by car to Penrith for a swim, arriving home late that night.

On Monday everybody went to Lawson for a swim, and when we returned that evening the "locals" told us the temperature had been over 100 degrees.

Tuesday was "test day" in the morning, but in the afternoon a heavy storm struck the camp. In no time water was everywhere in the tents, and the camp was abandoned. Taking our gear to the local Scout Hall, we stayed Tuesday night there.

The Troop came home next morning.

Bob Backhouse and Mr. Wood stayed with us for a few days. At one time our supply of water was threatened, but Mr. Playfair came to our aid, and we wish to thank him very much. Also we wish to thank Mrs. Allen and Mr. Moore, who drove the packs up and back from the camp; and, lastly, Mr. Cooper and the citizens of Blaxland, who kindly let us camp there and helped us in so many ways.

* * * * *

This term only six official meetings were held on Friday afternoons, and arrangements were made for the next camp during these parades.

* * * * *

Canberra Camp.—At the end of this term the Camp is to be held at Canberra, A.C.T. Visits will be made to the War Memorial, Parliament House, St. John's Church, Red Hill, Cotter Dam, Stromlo Observatory, and many other places. The dates of the camp are from 10th to 18th May.

* * * * *

At the conclusion of the Blaxland Camp we lost one of our P.L.'s, J. W. Arlom. We all wish him success in his music, and say thanks for keeping with the Troop as long as he did.

CADET CORPS.

The Corps has started off well. The number of Officers and N.C.O.'s with experience and special training is unusually large. Strength at the end of term was 345, of whom 80 were recruits.

It was our practice to accept recruits at the beginning of the term in which they turned 14. In future no boy may join the Corps until he is 14 years old.

OFFICERS.—Capt. A. E. Mitchell has entered the Corps by transfer.

Only one Cdt.-Lt. from last year carried over to this year, but there is no shortage of N.C.O.'s qualified for commission. The papers of nine of those qualified have been sent in.

N.C.O.'s.—42 N.C.O.'s and 6 Cdts. have attended Courses of Instruction during their holidays. As the strength of a Cadet Corps depends on the strength of its N.C.O.'s, we are in a happy position this year. Many more would have given up their time in the same way had there been vacancies for them.

COURSES.—An unusual feature of N.C.O. Training at the end of the year was the holding of special courses for Cadets at the A.M.F. School of Infantry at Boangilla. Four N.C.O.'s from the Corps attended these courses.

The usual potential officers and N.C.O. Courses were conducted by S.O.S.C., this time at Walgrove. In all 27 of our N.C.O.'s and Cadets underwent training, with the result that 7 qualified for commissions and 17 for N.C.O. rank.

Several of our officers and N.C.O.'s acted as voluntary instructors in the S.O.S.C. courses. The names of those concerned are given below.

Unfortunately no courses are being held during the May holidays, owing to shortage of instructors.

N.C.O. TRAINING.—As usual, the first four parades were given up to N.C.O. training and examination. Fifty passed for Corporal. Since then, classes for those seeking promotion to the rank of Sergeant have been held, the course terminating in an examination on 30 Apr.

This year, an N.C.O. Training Cadre for those who will become the S.L.'s of C and D Coys., when they are formed, has received special training under Sgt. R. Meikle.

TRAINING.—A Coy., under the direction of Lieut. N. M. Goddard and Sgt. J. G. Stroud, has been occupied with Bren and Rifle and the Miniature Range, and with suitable training for the Sigs. Platoon. B Coy., which is being trained by Capt. A. E. Mitchell and Cdt.-Lt. D. H. Playfair, has carried out work on Rifle, S.M.G., Grenade, and Guards and Sentries. The Recruit Training Cadre, supervised by Lieut. P. R. M. Jenkins, has covered the usual Close Order and Arms Drill.

Band Training is provided on each parade for drummers.

ANNUAL CAMP.—The rapid increase in the number of Cadet detachments in New South Wales has led to a growth in the size of camps. In December last about 2,000 Cadets were under canvas at Walgrove. As the weather was favourable and the training areas large, a very satisfactory camp was held. Of the Corps, a record number of 334 (out of 356) attended camp for one week.

The Director of Cadet Services, Brig. Bundock, visited the camp on several occasions. The Director took the salute at a March Past, when what must have been the largest number of Cadets ever assembled in New South Wales paraded for his inspection.

A GUARD OF HONOUR was provided on Speech Day for Brigadier the Hon. T. A. J. Playfair, D.S.O., O.B.E., V.D., M.L.C., who distributed the prizes. The Guard was commanded by Cdt.-Lt. A. D. Eedy, with Cdt.-Lt. P. F. Everett as 2 i/c.

THE Q.M. STORE.—Many will remember Mr. W. A. Down, who looked after our rifles, etc., for more than ten years. He has been compelled to leave us in order to take more care of his health. He has our thanks and best wishes. His place has been taken by Mr. S. G. Page, who, like his predecessor, was a permanent soldier.

LONG SERVICE.—The following completed five years' service before leaving School: Cdt.-Lts. A. J. Burns, C. E. M. Lloyd, B. O. Wood, J. M. Taylor, Cpls. R. E. H. Holliday, A. N. Wiles. Four years' service stands to the credit of 25 officers and N.C.O.'s.

O.B.U. CLUB NOTES.

The notes are mostly comprised on this occasion of extracts from the 22nd Annual report presented to members at the Annual General Meeting held at the Club on March 28th, 1946.

"Since the last meeting much has been done to complete the plans for the improvement of the Club. A special Development Committee, appointed by School Clubs Ltd., and including three representatives from this Club, prepared a comprehensive report and recommendations. This was considered at a special meeting of your Committee and at ordinary Committee meetings, and School Clubs Ltd. has now taken steps to register a new company. While this is going through, or soon afterwards, necessary moves will be made to bring about the adoption of the new constitution, to be followed by the transfer of affairs to the new Company and the winding up of the existing Company.

"It will be necessary to call a special general meeting of the S.C.E.G.S. Old Boys' Club, and in the meantime the following principal features of the new organisation are mentioned:—

(Note.—The General Meeting was held on April 24th, and endorsed the proposals.)

1. Members aged 21 and over will legally be members of the main Club, i.e., the new Company, which will be the principal organisation.
2. The reconstituted Club will be known as "The Alpha Club Ltd." pending winding up of the existing Company, when the intention is to name the Club "The Schools Club."
3. Subscriptions and entrance fees are left in the hands of the General Committee of the main Club. When established and developed, it is thought that the full subscription of a city member over, say, 25 years, will not be less than £3/3/-.
4. The General Committee of the main Club will consist of 16 members, including the President and office-bearers, of whom 11 will be elected at a general meeting from the general body of members from all the schools, and the remaining five will comprise one representative from each of the constituent Clubs.
5. The new Company is being registered on an urgent basis in order that application may be made as quickly as possible for one of the increased number of Club licenses foreshadowed under the Government's amending liquor legislation being put through this session.
6. The main Club will have power to lay down certain basic provisions for incorporation in the rules of all the constituent Clubs.
7. Juniors (under 21 years) will not be members of the main Club, but the intention is that junior members of the constituent Clubs may use portion of the premises on conditions to be determined.
8. Re-organised and re-decorated premises are to be provided, including the bar. It is also hoped to secure extra floor space on an adjoining floor of Warwick Building, but owing to the general shortage of space in the city this may not be possible for some time.

"There are many details to be attended to during the ensuing year before the Club is re-established on the new basis.

"Total membership as at December 31st, 1945, was approximately 850, of whom 366 were in the Services."

The Office-Bearers and Committee elected for the year were as follows:—
 President: J. E. M. Dixon. Immediate Past President: R. Ludowici. Vice-Presidents: J. T. Humphreys and S. G. Stott. Hon. Secretary: G. L. Newton. Hon. Treasurer: D'A. F. Roberts. Committee: G. E. Browne, R. C. Gowing, T. T. Halstead, A. N. Harding, H. J. Lewarne, R. G. Mair, J. E. Makinson and G. C. Turnbull. At the first meeting of the new Committee in April, Mr. J. N. Pascoe of the School Staff was re-elected a co-opted member of the Committee.

Forms for membership of the Torch-Bearer Ski Club are obtainable from the Secretary.

FIRST FOUR, 1946.

Bow, J. R. Borrowman; 2, J. Z. Huie; 3, J. A. Sangster; stroke, J. W. Ronald; cox, P. M. Tutin.

There has been another pleasant rowing season, and it may be recognised to have been very successful in spite of the fact that the Eight did not retain the championship. The spirit was keen throughout the various crews, and the standard good.

The Christmas Camp was held as usual, and it was as enjoyable as it ever has been. About thirty-two boys were accommodated, some in residence at the shed and a few travelling up daily. During this time the crews began to assume something like their final shape, but various difficulties were encountered subsequently which necessitated more than the ordinary number of changes. Thenceforward to the time of the race we rowed on an average three days a week, with Saturdays in addition. This amount of rowing is less than we used to have, but experience has shown that the time can be reduced without loss of efficiency. The 'bus, which was purchased in 1930, is still providing reliable transport, but, needless to say, is now showing signs of wear.

The coaching was shared by Mr. Burrell and the Headmaster, with the assistance of Mr. Nilsson, who took the Fourth Four, and Mr. Gilfillan and Mr. Kitley, who looked after the juniors at Berry's Bay. In the last few weeks we also had most valuable assistance from Captain D. T. Bartley, who was, fortunately, on leave prior to discharge. He knows the game so well and enjoys it so much that we hope that he will be able to spare some more time in the future.

The Eight was an almost entirely new combination, the only boy remaining from last year being Macpherson. Limbers and Freeman came from last year's Fours, and all of the remaining six boys who occupied seats at various times graduated from the Junior Eight. The crew was not easily settled into a combination. Three weeks before the race, when it was going quite well, Pulling (stroke) developed an infection which, though mild, kept him out of the crew for a week at a critical time. It was, unfortunately, necessary to reorganise the crew without him; everyone was sympathetic with him in his disappointment, particularly since he had filled a difficult seat very well. Curlew was moved from No. 2, and he certainly deserves credit for the resolution with which he tackled the responsibility. The crew raced on March 16th at a Regatta on Iron Cove, but did not put up a very good performance. Though it improved it was still not up to the normal standard until the last week of training. Then, and specially during the last three days, it developed rapidly and became decidedly fast. A three-quarter mile trial on the Nepean on April 11th was done in 3.57, and a quarter of a mile the next day under 1.15. In the race, though not leading, they were in a good position and were moving up fast when a quarter of a mile from the finish. Then there occurred an accident about which no one appears to be clear. It seems probable that the cause of it was the breaking of the clip which holds bow's seat on the rails. There is, of course, no certain safeguard against such mechanical accidents. The mishap put them out of a place. The race was won by Scots, and there was genuine pleasure on all sides when they secured their first victory in the series. There was almost equal pleasure when King's, who have been unsuccessful for a long time, rowed into second place.

The First Four performed well in a race on March 16th, and indeed showed great promise. When the adjustment took place in the composition of the Eight they also had to undergo reorganisation. Huie filled the seat to which he was promoted extremely well, but, of course, it is not a good thing for a crew of practically settled position to be disturbed in the last stages of its training. They deserve very great credit for their performance, for they were beaten by two feet only. The Second and Third Fours were both crews of good standard for their grade, and had definite wins. Mr. Burrell therefore had another year of very great success with his crews.

The Fourth Four and the Junior Eight both suffered the fate which junior crews must expect when changes have to be made higher up, and were forced to undergo several alterations. The Fourth Four in the circumstances did well to come third. The Junior Eight, though rough, was considerably better than the corresponding crews of other schools, and won its race comfortably at River-view Regatta. Much useful work was done by juniors at Berry's Bay, and crews selected from them were successful in the races in which they rowed.

RESULTS OF RACING.

J. B. SHARP MEMORIAL REGATTA, IRON COVE, MARCH 16th.

- Open Eights : The Eight was fourth in the race, which was won by Haberfield.
- Junior Fours : The First Four was second.

SWIMMING.

This season we endeavoured to try and raise the standard of swimming within the School. Our first step in this direction was to arrange for Mr. Forbes Carlile, a well-known Sydney swimmer, to act as our coach. He accepted the position, and we drew up a training scheme for each individual swimmer and resolved to hold organised training every afternoon at The Spit Baths. This was not found to be satisfactory, The Spit Baths not being the standard length. Consequently we moved our training quarters to Balmoral Baths, where we trained consistently till the duration of the season. During this period Mr. Carlile, although hampered by the lack of material, nevertheless trained each boy, and eventually we were able to field a fairly strong team in the All Schools' Carnival.

The first carnival in which we took part was a meeting at the Barker Baths on Saturday night, February 25th, between Cranbrook, Scots, Barker and Shore. On the evening's performances, M. Matthews was probably our most successful swimmer; he won the 100 metres freestyle under 15 and also the backstroke under 15, came second in the 50 metres freestyle, and was a member of the under 15 relay which came third. J. Endicott and M. T. Allen won the open and under 16 diving respectively. Both boys dived splendidly, and executed a fine fancy dive to win by some considerable margin. J. Hay, after leading slightly on the first lap, swam brilliantly to win the open backstroke in 37.8 secs. A. Quist, from Scots, convincingly defeated D. H. Playfair in the open breaststroke in very good time. V. Arnold and J. A. Curlewis filled second positions in the 50 metres and 200 metres events respectively. Our juniors were definitely out-swum by those from Scots. The final point score resulted in a win for Scots from Shore second and Barker third.

Our next carnival was the All Schools' Carnival, which was held at the North Sydney Olympic Pool on Saturday night, March 29th. For this carnival we had a very big entry—much larger than in any previous years; in all, our numbers mounted to something in the vicinity of fifty. We were also very unfortunate to be without some of the rowers, but nevertheless we attempted to do as well as possible, and began the evening confident that the Forbes Carlile Trophy for the Champion School of New South Wales would again be resting in the Dining Hall. However, our dreams were shattered, and we found ourselves congratulating Scots and Grammar, who filled first and second places respectively, with Shore coming third.

Final point score for the Forbes Carlile Cup were: 1, T.S.C. with 45 points; 2, S.G.S. with 30 points; 3, S.C.E.G.S. with 29 points.

It is very interesting to note at this point that the first three places were filled by Great Public Schools, in which swimming is not regarded in any way as a major sport.

RESULTS.

100 Metres Open Freestyle: J. J. Allen and C. Limbers both reached the final, and came fourth and fifth respectively.

100 Metres Under 16 Freestyle: D. A. Newton reached the finals, but was beaten by a touch for third position.

100 Metres Open Backstroke: J. D. Hay came second to a State champion, with P. N. Love and J. D. MacCallum filling third and fourth places respectively.

100 Metres Open Breaststroke: J. F. Barnes, W. A. L. Keeling and D. H. Playfair reached the final, but were unplaced.

100 Metres Under 16 Backstroke: M. R. Matthews came second in the final.

200 Metres Under 16 Freestyle: M. R. Matthews swam exceedingly well to reach the final, but withdrew owing to the nearness of the teams' event.

100 Metres Under 16 Breaststroke: K. G. Barnes reached the final, but was unplaced therein.

Senior Angus & Coote Teams: Both our "A" and "B" Teams reached the final, but were not placed, coming fourth and fifth respectively. The "A" Team consisted of D. H. Playfair, J. J. Allen, C. G. Limbers, J. R. Powell, A. J. Sutton, J. L. Simpson; while members of the "B" Team were B. P. Cox, R. V. Cadden, P. N. Love, B. B. Audette, R. H. Crowther.

Junior Angus & Coote Teams: Again our two teams reached the final, but in this case we were a little more fortunate, our "A" Team, comprising M. R. Matthews, J. Cornwell, D. A. Newton, B. Alldis, J. R. Thompson and D. R. Matthews, gaining third position a few inches behind Sydney Grammar School; and our "B" Team—K. J. Palmer, C. J. Bristow, J. Bennett, N. J. Davey, K. G. Bailey and J. Krippner—was unplaced in the final.

* * * * *

Our own Carnival was held at the North Sydney Olympic Pool on March 11th, and, although the day was cold and bleak, nevertheless the standard of swimming was reasonably high, and seven records were broken and one equalled.

Hodges House won the House point score with 90 points from Robson House with 85 points, and School House with 82 points came third.

Certificates were again issued as substitutes for trophies.

J. J. Allen won the senior championship, M. R. Matthews the junior championship, K. G. Barnes the under 14 championship, and S. G. McKee the under 13 championship.

Following are the results:—

- 200 Metres G.P.S. Relay : 1, Scots; 2, Grammar; 3, High. Time, 2 mins. $\frac{1}{2}$ sec.

C RICKET NOTES

Cricket at Shore is commencing its recovery from the slough of the war years. This term it has been possible to practise again on the School Ground and thus to cater for a few more cricketers. Form matches were extended to the S. Forms. The School teams on the whole were not as strong as we should like to see them, and if we are to continue to do well at cricket we shall have to raise the standard of play in our junior teams. The Under 13 Team has players who show promise, and their results have been fairly good, but the Under 14 group is far below standard. The other teams below the 2nds are also comparatively weak. We were badly beaten all round in the games against St. Joseph's. The 1st and 2nd XI's won all their games except those against St. Joseph's, and in these teams the standard was fairly sound. At the same time it is not good enough to be complacent about it, and we must aim at something better.

There was more rain than usual during the season, and wickets were often soft. Schoolboys seldom bat well in such conditions, and the result was that the new batsmen failed to gain the confidence that only success can give. The scores of our team were disappointing in match after match, but at the nets the form often seemed promising, and perhaps in the third term the form in the centre will improve. Bennett was consistent and solid until the match against St. Joseph's, when a painful injury affected his form. Playfair and J. Shand both showed patches of good form as opening batsmen. Chambers showed aggression and stroke-making power, but at times lacked discretion. These were the only batsmen who made any high scores. Love always looked ready for a big score, but it continued to elude him. Confidence was lacking in all the others.

The bowling was more successful, but members of the team were never satisfied that it was as good as it should be. There was no really fast bowler. A. Shand was lively and a great trier; J. Shand just missed being very good this term, but is bound to improve; Edwards has plenty of promise, but was too liable to bowl carelessly in a game; Love fooled batsmen with his flight and variations, but at times lacked the mechanical accuracy necessary for a bowler of his pace. When the wickets are harder in third term our bowlers will have to bowl better to get good sides out.

The bright point about the side was its fielding. Some very good catches were taken, and the ground fielding was usually sound. Nearly every member of the team improved in this department during the term, and there is no doubt that their work enabled the bowlers to get the full reward for their efforts.

It is hoped that more cricket still will be able to be played in third term. There is no doubt that some of the present weakness of our cricketers is directly due to the fact that they have not had enough cricket.

Following are the results of the matches played during term:—

A STORY OF THE SEA.

(By N. J. Rutherford, Form Rem. A.)

Dawn is breaking over the grey wastes of the North Sea. Far out on the heaving billows a solitary tramp steamer is carving her way through the foaming water. Strange, you would say, that in wartime a merchant ship should be without an escort—but this is no ordinary ship of the line, as the U-boat commander later found to his cost.

Three miles away a German submarine on patrol is out looking for prey. The captain is conversing with his second in command. "Up periscope," he suddenly orders. As it draws level with his shoulders he applies his eye to the powerful lense and slowly turns it round, scanning the horizon until it focuses on the distant hull of the tramp. "Himmel," he ejaculates guturally, "come over here, Franz; look how the dumkopf Englishman has played into our hands." His second in command hurries over and has a look. "This is easy! Some more English pig-dogs will meet their fate at the hands of the glorious Sons of the Fatherland. Heil Hitler!" "Heil-Hitler!" spat out the captain.

Meanwhile on the tramp the keen eyes of the lookout are sweeping the expanse of water with powerful prismatic binoculars, searching, ever searching for the periscope of a U-boat. Suddenly the lookout sees a trail of dancing bubbles heading for the doomed ship. "Torpedo on port bow," he yells frantically, but his warning is all in vain. There was a deafening explosion, and debris was hurled hundreds of feet into the air. Black oily smoke issued from a jagged hole in her bow, into which the water surged.

Up on the bridge there was turmoil. The shock of the explosion threw the captain into a corner with his cap jammed over one eye and a lifebelt on his lap. As he struggled from his ignominious position into a sitting posture, he cursed the war and all its work, especially submarines. "Send the engineer to me," he barked at one of the seamen who was just climbing to his feet. "Aye, aye, sir!" the sailor replied as he departed on his mission.

"What is the extent of the damage, Baines?" said the captain a few minutes later as the engineer arrived.

"Numbers four, five and six watertight compartments are full of water, sir, but I think the bulkheads will hold."

"Good," replied the captain; "we'll make the necessary repairs after we've put paid to Jerry's account."

Meanwhile on board the German submarine the commander was rubbing his hands with glee. "We will not waste another torpedo on the Englishers," he said. "We will surface and shell them until their ship sinks beneath their feet, and then we will machine-gun them as they struggle in the water."

Looking like some demon of the deep, with water cascading from her sides, the submarine surfaced. The skipper of the tramp watched the submarine crew man a light quick-firer with a broad grin on his weatherbeaten face. "All right, Jerry," he gritted through tightly compressed lips. "You've asked for it, and now you've got it"; and with that he savagely slammed a lever down to the mark "Open."

The U-boat commander got the shock of his life when he saw part of the tramp's side collapse and three heavy quick-firers swing round, until their blue-black muzzles were aligned on the submarine. Before the amazed commander could gather his scattered wits, there was a stab of flame from one of the guns, and a column of water shot up beside the U-boat, drenching the commander. Then he found his tongue. "Donner und blitzen!" he raved. "They have tricked us; we have been lured into a trap, but——" His words were cut short by a deluge of water which nearly drowned him, as another shell exploded in the sea. Deciding that discretion was the better part of valour, he dived down the conning-tower hatch, and prepared to crash dive, abandoning the gun crew to their fate. But ere the luckless U-boat could submerge, a shell exploded on her conning-tower and water rushed into the gaping breach.

It was all over in a few minutes—the U-boat was hors de combat. There was no need to fire another shell. The U-boat slid beneath the surface, and only a few bits of wreckage and an ever-widening patch of oil marked the spot where a unit of the German Imperial Navy had fought and been vanquished by a British Q-boat, one of those armed merchantmen with hidden guns concealed by steel flaps which played havoc with the U-boats in the last war.

This sonnet was written by Mrs. Hodges, widow of our second Headmaster. We are indebted to Mr. R. G. H. Walmsley for giving us the opportunity of printing the poem. The author is close upon ninety years of age.

BIRD SONG IN WINTER.

(S. H. H., January 25, 1946.)

(On a watercolour sketch of twilight landscape with a bird singing in a pine tree.)

Unconquerable optimist! The night
Is falling : one faint rosy cloud is left
To show the world it is not quite bereft
Of the sun's precious gift of healing light.
Gloom wraps the landscape : hill and cliff and sea
Fade into nothingness : one tree alone,
From which the last decaying leaves are gone,
Stands with its black buds swelling hopefully;
And' from a bough a nightingale's clear strain
Sends forth enchanting music to the sky.
"Lift up your hearts!" for truth and love remain;
Your soul's companion listens to your cry :
The earth is turning to the sun again,
And spring, and joy, and Easter morn draw nigh.

A RIDE ALONG THE NORTH COAST.

At 7 o'clock on Saturday morning, while the mist was still hanging over the Manning River, we left Taree on the first stage of our journey. The weather was fine, the road fairly good and our spirits high as we followed the course of the river through the rich dairying country for which the North is famous. As the morning wore on we came into hilly bush country with few signs of habitation, until we reached Kew at about 11 o'clock.

Having covered the first thirty miles in about three hours, we were confident of reaching Port Macquarie for lunch. However, the road worsened, and, as we were making heavy going through heavily forested hills, a sharp rock sliced through Harry's front tyre. After mending the break we struggled on slowly, and after an eternity we came out of the range and entered the popular tourist town of Port Macquarie late in the afternoon, where we had a belated lunch.

Kempsey, our goal for the night, was still thirty miles distant, over the range. The sun began to set as we slowly made our way through the foothills, and darkness came quickly as the mountains closed in on all sides. It was an eerie ride through the range; the deathly silence and the tall straight trees showing up palely on either side of the white dusty road gave the impression of a great cemetery. However, at last the lights of Kempsey appeared in the distance, and soon we were crossing the Macleay River into the main street. We were welcomed by our friend, the manager of the Bank of New South Wales at Kempsey, who made us very comfortable for the night.

We left this oasis early on Saturday for Coff's Harbour, 75 miles further north, passing many trucks loaded with milk for the Sunday delivery in Sydney. We crossed the Nambucca River after lunch at Macksville, where we were nearly involved in a fight with the shopkeeper over some bad apples. We took our time through the holiday resorts of Nambucca Heads and Urunga, and were having a little doze on the banks of the Bellingen River when we saw three hulking, swarthy foreigners in bright mauve attire advancing down the road towards our bikes. We hastily resumed our journey, although the sight of these men wandering happily round the countryside became commonplace as we went on. We reached Coff's Harbour just as dusk was falling, and, after dinner at the hotel, took a stroll through the town before bed. In spite of its commercial importance, being an important port and air-station, the town was not very impressive, and many of the people in the street did not speak English!

Soon after leaving Coff's Harbour on Monday, we saw some fine views of the Pacific Ocean, as the highway ran parallel to the coast, and occasional banana plantations appeared. It was here that we came round a corner and almost ran into a horseman coming the other way. With his black beret and uniform, with leggings and holster, he was obviously no country yokel, and I began to get that awful what-have-I-done feeling when he called on me to stop, Harry being a little way behind. However, he merely asked in a friendly fashion if we had seen a suspicious character, according to such-and-such a description during our travels. Very anxious to please, we set him on the trail of a suitably suspicious character we had seen the day before, and he was soon gone in a cloud of dust.

We whiled the time away by imagining he was the local sheriff after some desperate bandit who was even now regarding us balefully from each shrub or tree we passed. In this manner we came to the little town of Woolgoolga, whose main street was so steep that we were almost out the other side before we could pull up. We had lunch here before crossing the range again to Grafton. The road, by way of a change, was quite good, and we had little trouble in the ascent, and were able to appreciate the fine forest scenery. Coming down the other side we covered the remaining twenty odd miles to Grafton in a little over an hour, crossing the unique two-decker rail and road bridge over the Clarence into Grafton while the sun was still shining. We went to the pictures on Monday night and then to our hotel. Built romantically somewhere in the 19th century, it was the type of hotel where one almost expects to be murdered during the night, with its ancient beds, its cracked and cobwebby ceilings, and the evil-looking chambermaid. Apart from a large piece of plaster crashing to the floor near Harry during the night nothing untoward happened in that unpleasant place.

Rightly named "The City of Trees," Grafton is a very pleasant place indeed, as we found when we spent Tuesday morning riding about its streets and parks.

After lunch, we had an easy ride along the banks of the Clarence through dairy country at first, and then extensive canefields, passing Ulmarra with its big butter factory. It is interesting to learn that the Clarence River here is regarded as one of the best sculling courses in the world. The stream runs perfectly straight for three miles with a width of nearly a mile, and it was here that Major Godsell defeated W. McDevitt for the championship of the world.

After a night at Maclean we left early on Wednesday morning for Ballina, but were held up within a few miles when we found the ferry across the Clarence had broken down. It was over two hours before the spare boat was placed on the cable, during which time ominous black clouds began to bank up in the sky behind us. The faster we raced the faster came the storm behind us, and while travelling in this way I skidded on some gravel and sat down heavily in the dust. Fortunately, however, my bike, camera and self remained undamaged, and we pressed on to Woodburn, on the Richmond River, where we stopped for lunch in spite of the approaching storm. We had just left Woodburn, with twenty miles to go to dry beds and hot baths at Ballina when the storm broke. The rain came down in sheets: it came down our necks and up our legs, and the countryside around the river, consisting of sugar cane and maize fields, went by unappreciated.

Next morning, it was still drizzling when we left Ballina on our next and second last stage to Murwillumbah. Fortunately the rain lifted soon, and the sun came out before we stopped at Bangalow for lunch. Soon afterwards, from a hilltop a splendid view of the country ahead opened out. To the right lay Byron Bay and the Pacific Ocean stretching out to the horizon; directly ahead, in the distance, we could see the foothills of the Barringbar Range, over which the road passed. We by-passed Byron Bay and Mullumbimby through the unusually fertile and prosperous plain country, and were soon at the foot of the range we had seen earlier. Although tempted to take a ride on a goods train which was overtaking us, we made our way to the top of the range under our own steam. Coming down the Burringbar to Murwillumbah, Mount Warning loomed above us, almost casting its shadow over the road, its peak shrouded in mist, giving it a sinister aspect in the gathering dusk. Within a fortnight of our passing four people were killed at that place in a car accident.

Murwillumbah, on the banks of the Tweed River, was a pleasant and comfortable town, surrounded on three sides by grim mountain ranges. The road from Murwillumbah followed the course of the Tweed River through some of the most interesting country we had met. Sugar cane fields, banana plantations, tropical forests and frequent river views marked the twenty-mile run to the border, with Mount Warning still towering behind us. We stopped at the border for a few minutes and admired the fine beach at Coolangatta before continuing on to Brisbane through Southport and Beenleigh, where the railway line runs down the main street.

We arrived in Brisbane at sunset. Since leaving Taree a week earlier we had covered about 450 miles. We were better off by a practical knowledge of the country we had passed through, and in spite of the condition of the roads we had had a thoroughly good time, which, after all, was the main thing.

THE AWFUL FATE OF ONE WHO DOODLED AND YODELLED.

By M. M. K.

I wonder if you ever knew
 My friend, Augustus Montague?
 He was a tiresome, restless child,
 Who almost drove his parents wild.
 Nature abhors, apparently,
 A vacuum,—and so did he.
 A nice clean wall, a nice clean page,
 Would rouse in him an Evil Rage.
 He'd cover them with scrawls and blots
 And dashes, curlicues and dots;
 In fact, he was a Doodler born.
 He'd rouse the neighbours every morn
 With Yodels, Yells and Vulgar Oaths,
 For Silence is a thing he loathes.
 When making plans for his career,
 Augustus chanced one day to hear
 A fellow who was paid to lecture
 On Modern Theatre Architecture.
 Our friend soon found in this profession
 His ideal means of Self-Expression;
 His was the mind a few years later
 Behind the garish New Theatre.
 He covered every inch of wall
 With Patterns great and Patterns small:
 A Foyer like a Sultan's Palace
 With gilded fountains (pseudo-Wallace);
 A Norman Lounge with swinging doors
 Furnished à la Louis Quatorze.
 The Auditorium was Moorish,
 And damsels fitted with a flourish
 Of gipsy skirts and pantalettes—
 (Augustus calls them Usherettes).
 Now, part of his Ambitious Plan
 To entertain his fellow-man—
 (Sure sign of a Disordered Mind)—
 Was Noise and Din of every kind,
 Continuous and without delay
 From Wurlitzers and such as they.
 Now, this Disturber of the Peace
 Went on and on and could not cease
 To perpetrate these Childish Tricks.
 It fell to Providence to fix
 The Punishment to meet his Crime.
 Our hero ends, as does this rhyme,
 In what is his idea of Hell—
 A plain, ungarnished Padded Cell.

Chapel Notes

Open Sunday services were held on May 5th at 10.45 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. At Mattins the preacher was the Rev. M. K. Jones, Chaplain, A.I.F. At Evensong the preacher was the Rev. W. J. Siddens, Rector of St. Thomas, North Sydney.

* * * * *

At Evensong on the Sunday next before Easter (Palm Sunday) a Choral Service was held. An anthem suitable to the theme of Holy Week was sung by the Choir. The sermon was preached by the Rev. S. Barton-Babbage, Ph.D., B.D., formerly Chaplain of the R.A.F. in Iran and Irak. The organist was Mrs. G. Faunce Allman.

* * * * *

On Friday, February 15th, the Rev. J. H. Trainer, Chaplain of H.M.S. "Glory," gave an address in Chapel.

* * * * *

On Friday, May 3rd, an address was given by the Venerable Archdeacon (Emeritus) E. A. North-Ash, Home Secretary of the Australian Board of Missions.

* * * * *

An Anniversary Service was held in the Chapel on Anzac Day, April 25th, at 9.15 a.m. The address was given by Dr. H. L. St. Vincent Welch, D.S.O. (Lt.-Col., A.I.F.).

* * * * *

Mrs. G. Faunce Allman has played the organ and has been in charge of Chapel music throughout the term.

* * * * *

Mr. J. F. E. Monckton, as well as playing the organ at the Preparatory School services on Fridays, has played at the services on Thursdays.

* * * * *

In addition to the robed Choir under the direction of Mrs. G. Faunce Allman, two special Choirs have been formed by Mr. R. Nilsson—one of forty-five VIth and Vth Form boys for Upper School week-day services, and the other of forty boarders for Sunday services.

OLD BOYS' UNION

The ballot for the 1946 Committee, details of which were unable to be printed in the last "Torch-Bearer," resulted in the following being elected: Rev. I. D. Armitage, G. B. Connor, A. D. Eedy, R. C. Gowing, R. A. Hammond, P. A. Hanks, A. B. Lang, J. W. Lipscomb and O. P. Wood. At the first meeting of the Committee, K. D. Anderson and H. W. Grigg, of the School Staff, were co-opted as members.

Now that peacetime conditions are slowly returning, the Committee is proceeding to widen its range of activities, as will be seen from some of the accompanying notes, but at the same time it is more than ever convinced that it did the right thing in restricting these activities during the war period. It was, however, not merely a matter of keeping the machinery in motion; much more than this was done, one only needing to mention the close liaison maintained between the Union and those of its members in the Services, the compilation of the Active Service List in conjunction with the Old Boys' Register, and the establishment of the Post-War Advisory Sub-Committee, which found itself ready when peace came to do much work of a valuable nature. The time for the winding up of these activities is not yet, and it is hoped that an Active Service List, as complete as we are able to make it, will be printed ready for enclosure with this issue of the "Torch-Bearer." It cannot be emphasised too strongly that this will not be the final and permanent record; it merely contains the latest information available to the Union with regard to Old Boys who have served in the various forces. It is hoped that this list receives as wide a circulation as possible, in order that the many mistakes and omissions that it doubtless contains may be brought to our notice, and rectified in the permanent record.

After a lapse of seven years, it has been decided once again to hold what used to be an annual affair—the Old Boys' Union Annual Dance. This year the dance will be held at the Trocadero on Tuesday, 16th July. Tickets will be available from the Old Boys' Union Office and the Dance Committee. It has been found necessary owing to taxation requirements to fix the price of tickets at £1 each. Proceeds will be handed to the School for educational purposes. A circular with further particulars will be sent to members later.

On Saturday, 9th February, three strong cricket teams were to have been fielded by the Old Boys against the School at Northbridge. Unfortunately the matches had to be abandoned owing to rain, the first for many weeks. It is thought, however, that it will be of interest to some to see the teams which were selected. They were:—

| 1st XI. | 2nd XI. | 3rd XI. |
|----------------------|------------------------|---------------------|
| E. C. S. White (c.). | D. M. MacDermott (c.). | W. H. Travers (c.). |
| J. W. Chapman. | K. F. Anderson. | A. M. Deamer. |
| G. Connor. | B. M. Irving. | A. Hellicar. |
| W. A. Davey. | L. H. Joule. | W. V. Lightfott. |

| 1st XI. | 2nd XI. | 3rd XI. |
|-------------------|-------------------|-----------------|
| J. W. Fisher. | F. M. MacDiarmid. | B. P. Mawby. |
| W. G. Foulsham. | R. L. Moses. | A. B. Mayne. |
| P. E. Haley. | R. F. Nettheim. | S. L. Mayne. |
| N. C. Sutherland. | L. Pronk. | A. S. Paton. |
| J. Taylor. | T. A. Topkin. | B. P. Solling. |
| K. F. Tugwell. | E. J. Trenerry. | B. Trebeck. |
| B. Warby. | F. Tyrrell. | A. B. S. White. |

Prior commitments on the part of the School teams did not permit of the matches being transferred to another day. At the time of writing, it is hoped, to field football teams against the School on Wednesday, May 8th, when we shall not be so completely at the mercy of the weather.

The Torch-Bearer Ski Club, which has been in recess through the war years, has now been revived. It is proposed to arrange for a Club fortnight on the snow during the 1946 season, the fortnight being from the 10th to the 24th of August. Intending members may obtain full particulars from the Hon. Secretary, L. J. Richardson, 39 Martin Place, Sydney.

During this term the Union has again arranged a series of lectures held on Friday evenings at the School. These were given by the Leader of the Opposition in the State Parliament, Mr. Vernon Treadwell, who spoke on "Parliamentary Government"; Mr. Gordon Thomas, an internee at Rabaul from 1942 to 1945, who spoke on "The History of New Guinea"; and the Chairman of the A.B.C., Mr. R. J. F. Boyer, whose subject was "Some Recent Scientific Discoveries and Their Effect on World Affairs." The credit for the success of these functions is entirely due to the School, which lent considerable support on each occasion. The number of Old Boys present was disappointingly small, and the Union is forced to face up to the unpleasant reality that there is no demand for these lectures on the part of those for whom they were originally intended—recent Old Boys, just going out into the world, who might be expected, if anyone should, to want to know something of the responsibilities that are about to become their in adult life.

* * * * *

There is, of course, increasingly less news of Service-men, as these are being discharged and returning to civilian life. In this connection, the Union would welcome details both of the discharge of its members in the forces and also of the new positions which they are taking up.

* * * * *

Lieut.-Commander G. J. Cliff, O.B.E., G.M. and Bar, whose naval record during the war has been a most distinguished one, has received well-deserved recognition of this by his selection as a senior officer of the naval party which has gone to London for the Victory March on June 8. A member of the crew of H.M.A.S. "Shropshire," which is taking the Australian contingent to England, is Sub-Lieut. J. M. B. Cooke, and it would be interesting to know if there are any other Old Boys in this group.

* * * * *

In our last issue we recorded the award of the D.F.C. to Squadron-Leader J. R. Henderson, and we have now received a copy of the citation to that award. It reads as follows:—

"Throughout a large number of operational sorties, Squadron-Leader Henderson has displayed outstanding courage and devotion to duty. He has attacked some of the most heavily defended targets in Germany, and in the face of the enemy his coolness and exceptional fearlessness have been worthy of the highest praise. On several occasions he has led both base and group formations in daylight operations over Germany, when his ability, skill and gallantry have inspired confidence in all."

* * * * *

Since the last issue we have also to record further awards. W/Cmdr. I. G. Esplin, D.F.C., has received the O.B.E., and P/O. I. R. Carter and P/O. D. W. A. Procter have both been awarded the D.F.C.

* * * * *

Extreme pleasure was given by the announcement of the award of a Rhodes Scholarship to W. W. Woodward. Bill Woodward will be remembered as a boarder in School House for some years, and as a member of the winning Eight in 1938. He studied Medicine at Sydney University, and in 1942 joined the A.I.F., finally obtaining a commission. In 1944 he was placed on the retired list, and returned to the University to complete his medical studies. Here he became the first President of the Sydney University Ex-Servicemen's Association. He expects to leave for Oxford about the end of the year, and will take with him the best wishes of us all. At Oxford he will join E. B. J. Smith and B. H. Travers, both of whom have been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship during the last six years. This is surely a record for the School and the Union to be proud of.

* * * * *

Many Old Boys will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Allan Clunies-Ross, a former master of the School. Mr. Clunies-Ross was State President of the N.S.W. division of the Commonwealth Institute of Accountants, Honorary Treasurer of the Royal Society and the N.S.W. branch of the Economic Society of Australia and New Zealand, and Lecturer in Business Administration at Sydney University. The Union's sympathy is extended to Mrs. Clunies-Ross.

* * * * *

Of late the School has had the disagreeable task of refusing admittance to sons of Old Boys on certain occasions because of lack of accommodation. On account of the numerous factors involved in this question, the Headmaster has been asked to make a statement on the position, and this statement is appended below:—

APPLICATIONS FOR ENROLMENT.

Applications for entry into the School have been received in great numbers during the last few years, and there are now names on the roll for several years ahead. There are certain considerations related to enrolment which, though evident to one who is closely acquainted with school organisation, cannot easily be realised by others.

The adjustment of entries is, in fact, a complicated matter. The intake in any year is necessarily distributed among boarders and day boys and among various classes, replenishing general enrolment to make up for vacancies. The number of vacancies naturally depends upon departures and promotions. It is impossible to estimate closely how many vacancies there will be at the beginning of a given year until towards the end of the preceding year. We provide normally for an intake of about sixty boys into the Preparatory School, about forty into the Third Forms, and a diminishing number into the higher forms. Even the sixty who are accepted into the Preparatory School have to be distributed according to age and standard, so that the balance of that department of the School will not be disturbed. Hence, the departure of a boy from one form does not necessarily mean that a boy can be taken in his place; again, the departure of a day boy does not create a vacancy for a boarder. Again, if application for enrolment of a boy is made for a given year, and if there is no room for him in that year, the application is not automatically transferred to the following year.

A question which frequently arises is whether special provision is made for the sons of Old Boys. Every effort is made to provide for such cases, but in practice it is not as easy as it seems. Thus the best advice that one can give to Old Boys is to lodge an application for the enrolment of their sons as soon as they are in a position to do so. The lodging of a signed form is the only application that can be recognised.

The enrolments for the Preparatory School have been specially heavy in recent years, and there is already a considerable number of enrolments for that department up to the year 1951. Whether these advance enrolments will remain upon the books it is difficult to say; however, experience shows that the majority of enrolments made in advance are taken up.

The Headmaster will be very glad to discuss with Old Boys the enrolment of their sons, and will be very anxious to do all that he can for them.
